WALKER IS DEAD IN HOME WHERE LANIER WAS BORN

Well-Known Young Real Estate Man, Whose Case Puzzled Physicians, Lapsed Into Unconsciousness in the Afternoon.

HE NEVER RECOVERED FROM STATE OF COMA

Several Days Ago Prominent Macon Man Took a Bichloride of Mercury Tablet, Mistaking It for Aspirin.

(By Francis W. Clarke, staff Correspondent.)

Macon, Ga., My 22.—(Special.)—B. Sanders Walker died at 2 o'clock this morning from the effects of a tablet of bichloride of mercury which he took a week ago by mistake for aspirin to relieve a headache.

Mr. Walker was unconscious when he died and had been since 4 o'clock in the afternoon. With him when he passed away were his wife and his immediate relatives.

Physicians predicted when Mr. Walker became unconscious in the afternoon that the end of his brave struggle against the poison was approaching. They said he would die in a few hours and would not regain consciousness, and their predictions were verified.

Cheerful Till Consumed Him.

Up to his last moment of consciousness the young real estate man, whose tragic mistake on last Wednesday morning in taking bichloride of mercury instead of a headache remedy, is costing him his life, was calm and cheerful, comforting his grief-stricken wife and parents, and showing that the indomitable will which characterized his college days and his business life since has stood the final great test unbroken.

When Walker lapsed into unconsciousness tonight it was the first time since he took the fatal dose eight days ago that he had not been in perfect command of his mental faculties. Until today he has talked cheerfully, and practically continuously, with the members of his immediate family who have been constantly with him. While he has talked less today it was because the spreading of the poison made the drain on his strength the greater, and not because of the breaking-down of the iron will, the remarkable demonstration of which has been the wonder of Macon for the past week.

Tonight for the first time one of the attending physicians made an announcement of the condition of the patient, stating that he would undoubtedly die before daylight.

"It is my conviction that Mr. Walker is dying tonight," said the physician in question. "There has been no hopeful sign, nothing of alleviation noted, and he grows weaker.

"His pulse is about 120, as highly abnormal as it was yesterday, while respiration and temperature have not varied from their normal condition of yesterday. If he is living by daylight, I will be surprised."

The other attending physicians did not make a statement.

Physicians Consulted by Wire

The absolute refusal of the doctors to give the slightest inkling of the sort of treatment they have been giving the dying man is still a feature of the case. Doctors and newspapers have telegraphed repeatedly in an effort to learn the course being taken, but the information has not been forthcoming.

They have been in close communication, however, it is understood, with the hospital doctors at Johns Hopkins in Baltimore.

Interest of specialists and the public generally throughout the country has been aroused by the fortitude with which the young real estate man has combatted the slow but steady work of the deadly poison. Countless messages conveying sympathy and suggesting methods of treatment have flooded the Walker home.

The young banker also displayed

JOSEPHUS DANIELS ALOFT IN AIRSHIP

Secretary of Navy Navigates Air in Government Boat. Mrs. Daniels Witnessed Air Voyage of Her Husband.

Annapolis, Md., May 21.—Secretary of the Navy Josephus Daniels this afternoon traveled eight miles through the air in a flying boat. "It was delightful; I enjoyed the sensation thoroughly," was the secretary's reply to an inquiry just after he alighted.

The secretary went up with Lieutenant John H. Towers, senior officer of the navy aviation corps, whose camp is across the river from the naval academy. The flight was made in the flying boat C-1. The air trip was begun at four minutes to 4 o'clock. Eight minutes later the trip was over and the secretary, after traveling about eight miles at a height of 500 feet, was telling of his experience.

Mr. Daniels came to Annapolis this morning and inspected the buildings and grounds at the academy. After dining with Superintendent J. H. Gibbons he boarded a navy launch which carried him to the aviation camp. As he passed the battleship Illinois in the stream a salute of nineteen guns was fired in his honor. Lieutenant Towers and the other officers of the camp showed the secretary the long line of hangers in which five flying machines were stabled.

Daniels Goes Aloft.

When the last was reached, the flying boat was quickly launched, while Mr. Daniels donned an overcoat and stuffed cotton wants into his ears to drown the noise of the engine during the flight. Then, after signing his name to the official register where all passengers place their signatures and weights before beginning a trip, he took his seat beside Lieutenant Towers.

Starting from shore, Lieutenant Towers kept his craft on the water for about an eighth of a mile and then sailed gradually upward and toward the mouth of the Severn river and Chesapeake bay. After about two miles of steady climbing in this direction a turn was made and the flying boat passed over the camp at a height of about 500 feet. As he sailed over Mr. Daniels waved his hand to the crowd below. A straight flight up the river of about four miles was made and then Lieutenant Towers turned the trip back and downward, landing the last in front of the point from which the start was made.

A four-starred pennant of blue silk, made by the sailors at the camp and which flew from one of the standards of the aircraft, was presented to Mr. Daniels as a souvenir.

Tells of Sensations.

When he had landed the secretary talked of his sensations and mentioned the fact that by flying today after having taken a dive in a naval marine boat at Norfolk recently he had gone down and up with the navy.

"I always thought I was a good fellow, but never before knew I had such good wings," he said. Asked if the noise of the engines was very loud, he said it was not, but that it was difficult to talk. "A congressman recently told me that was the case, and I then said it would be a good thing to get an aeroplane for every member of congress if it would make talking difficult for them," he remarked with a laugh.

Mrs. Daniels did not cross the river with her husband, but witnessed the flight from the naval academy. When he was asked what his wife thought of his taking such risks, the secretary said: "Oh, she didn't object. She's a better sailor than I, anyway."

As he turned to enter the boat that was to take him back to the academy, the secretary said: "Remember, be good here, if you want to fly hereafter."

Lieutenant Commander J. L. Palmer, the secretary's aide, made a flight with Lieutenant E. L. Smith in one of the converted biplanes.

STORMY SCENES MARK ASSEMBLY

Attempt to Choke Off Debate Declared to Be a "Frame Up" by Dr. S. S. Palmer.

Stormy scenes marked the closing hour of the assembly of the Presbyterian church, U. S. A., in the Tabernacle, late yesterday afternoon.

The trouble started when the assembly took up the report of the executive commission on the proposed abolition of the department of church and country life, of which Dr. Warren H. Wilson is secretary. The friends of Dr. Wilson want the department either continued or commended so that he will not go out of office without a reward.

Throughout the day, it is said, caucusses were held among the leaders in the movement to have the department abolished, and when the matter was called before the assembly an attempt was made to choke off debate.

Dr. S. Palmer, of Columbus, O., who was defeated in the contest for moderatorh rushed from his seat and loudly declared that the proceeding on the question was irregular.

"It's a frame up," he shouted. "It isn't fair."

And he stirked up and down the aisle giving vent to his feelings.

The commission recommended that the department be discontinued as soon as possible, which gives the friends of Dr. Wilson an opportunity to see that he gets the fair treatment they say has been denied him.

Rate Increase Suspended.

Washington, May 21.—An increase averaging about thirty cents a hundred pounds—approximately 35 per cent—in the freight rates on wheat from various points of origin in middle western states to destinations in the southwest, was suspended by the interstate commerce commission today until September 10. An investigation of the advance will be made.

RAW MATERIALS WILL BE TREATED LIKE PRODUCTS

Senate Democrats Are Resolved to Equalize the Agricultural Rates in the Underwood Revision Measure.

ALL ON THE FREE LIST OR ALL TO BE DUTIABLE

President Wilson Reported to Favor Equalization of Schedules—Many Changes in Measure Planned.

Washington, May 21.—Determination to equalize live stock and grains and their respective products in the Underwood tariff bill had been reached by the senate finance subcommittee considering the agricultural schedule. It has been agreed that if cattle, sheep, hogs, wheat and oats are to remain dutiable as the Underwood bill classifies them, then a duty shall be placed upon beef, mutton, pork, wheat, flour and oats, or if these products are to remain on the free list the raw materials will be converted into the free list.

This is the first basic tariff change to be planned by senate democrats since the Underwood bill came from the house. Whether raw materials and their products are to be free listed or all are to be made dutiable has not been determined, but that all would be treated alike was asserted today by Senator John Sharp Williams, chairman of the subcommittee which has the schedule in hand. The decision to equalize the schedules, it also was reported, had been reached with the knowledge of the president and not without his approval.

When Senator Williams was told of a report in circulation that his committee had decided to put cattle, sheep and grains on the free list in keeping with their products as they are treated in the Underwood bill, he declared there was no ground for such a report.

To Be No Discrimination.

"But," declared the senator, "there is this much about it. If cattle, sheep and hogs are to remain dutiable in this bill then their products will carry a duty. The same is true of wheat, oats, flour and oatmeal. There will be no discrimination between these raw materials and their products in this bill. But we have not determined whether they shall be dutiable or undutiable."

The fight over this feature of the Underwood bill began in the house, and there was considerable democratic opposition to the free listing of farm products, while the raw material was left dutiable. Some democrats predicted during the debate that democrats would change the schedule, most of them asserting that live stock and grains would go to the free list.

Whatever the subcommittee does in the matter is expected to meet with the approval of the finance committee by majority. It was learned today that Senator Walsh, of Montana, plans to introduce an amendment in the senate to put cattle on the free list next Tuesday when the bill is presented without such a change.

The Underwood bill puts a duty of 10 per cent ad valorem on all live stock and free lists all fresh meat; a duty of 10 cents per bushel on wheat and oats and free lists wheat flour and oatmeal. Representative Underwood, chairman of the house ways and means committee, when asked about proposed senate changes today, said that he had heard nothing about them, and that he did not intend to take any part in the tariff consideration until the bill gets to conference.

Bill to Be Greatly Changed.

That there are to be a great many changes in the bill in the senate was admitted today by Senator Simmons, chairman of the finance committee. He announced, however, that next Wednesday the subcommittee would begin framing the various schedules and that they hoped to have the bill ready for the finance committee by June 1. The democratic caucus, he said, would be called for consideration of the bill about June 3, and an effort will be made to report it to the senate the following week.

The decision today of the majority members of the finance committee to close all private hearing on the bill next Tuesday has not met with republican approval, and an attack on this plan is looked for in the senate tomorrow. Senator Simmons insists, however, that the private hearings must be ended by that time so committee members can begin redrafting the bill. The committee decided to print all briefs of manufacturers not heretofore published and to receive briefs until the bill reaches the senate floor.

In making the announcement for the

DELEGATES CLASH OVER DISPOSITION OF KENNEDY FUND

Sharp Exchange of Words at Northern Assembly Meeting Between Charles Thompson and Dr. Anson Aterbery.

CHARGE OF THOMPSON "UNTRUE AND UNFAIR"

Moderator Stone Calls the Two Commissioners to Order Reminding Them Rules Forbid Personalities.

The fund of $500,000, known as the John S. Kennedy fund, which the executive commission of the board of church erection urged be added the loan fund for the aid of feeble congregations, enlivened the afternoon session of the assembly of the Presbyterian Church, U. S. A., at the Tabernacle yesterday afternoon, and brought about a sharp exchange of words between Charles T. Thompson and Dr. Anson Aterbery, of New York.

From a point of decided vantage on the platform next to the seat occupied by Moderator Stone, Dr. Thompson charged that the most persistent opposition to the merging of the fund came from the secretary of the board. He was about to proceed with his urgent appeal to the assembly to favor the proposition when Dr. Aterbery arose in his seat.

Charges Called Untrue.

"I want to correct the gentleman's unjustifiable, untrue and unfair charge," he declared after gaining the flood to the state a point of order.

Moderator Stone, scenting a clash, rapped the assembly to order and reminded the two gentlemen that the rules of the assembly forbade the injection of personalities into the proceedings.

Murmurs of satisfaction arose from the assembly when it became apparent that the ruling of the moderator had squelched what would have been a long-drawn-out debate.

The report of the committee appointed January 23, 1913, at the meetings of the committees of the executive commission and the board of church erection to revise the rules in granting aid to feeble congregations was the most important matter before the assembly at the afternoon session.

The report was submitted with recommendations that the board exercise great care in granting aid to churches, allowing grants not exceeding $1,000 and loans without interest not exceeding $3,000 may be made to feeble churches from the income of the board for the establishment of churches and schools.

Fixed Rate of Interest.

The commission recommended that the board adopt the policy of making loans from the loan fund for aid in the erection of churches or worship for feeble congregations on a bond and mortgage at a fixed rate of interest to be determined by the board from time to time and for amounts not exceeding 50 per cent of the value of the buildings.

The board recommended, in order that money might be available immediately, that the $500,000 Kennedy fund be added to the loan fund.

After the report had been read to the assembly Dr. Aterbery, of New York, gained recognition on the floor. He made a forceful appeal to the assembly to strike the section of the report proposing the merger of the two funds back to the executive commission. He declared that the commission should be given more time, and to substantiate his contention he produced affidavits from attorneys of the Presbytery which were substantially to the effect that the merging of the funds would be illegal, and would cause complications with the Kennedy estate. He cited a letter from Judge Alton B. Parker in which he gave the opinion that it would be illegal for the assembly to set aside the Kennedy fund to be used for the erection of churches for feeble congregations.

Dr. Aterbery offered an amendment to the report to refer the recommendation of merger of the funds back to the executive commission.

Must Be Used in New York.

The proposed amendment was opposed by Dr. C. Stringer, of St. Paul. He called attention to one of the provisions attached to the fund which is in effect, that no part of it can be used in a commercial investment outside of New York state. He declared that the merger should not be delayed, and called attention that a two-third vote of the entire assembly would be required to pass the amendment.

Dr. Merrill, of New York, spoke in favor of the amendment, and then Dr. Thompson attacked the motives of the secretary, which brought a vigorous reply from Dr. Aterbery.

Dr. Franklin B. Shepard, of Philadelphia, took sides with Dr. Thompson, declaring that his statement that "the question was one of common sence," was right.

"The little churches are suffering because they cannot be benefited by the money in the fund," declared Dr. McGuire, of Whitewater, Ind.

He said the executive commission should be supported.

Previous Question Lost.

The previous question as to whether the amendment proposed by Dr. Aterbery should be recommitted to the executive commission, was called for and lost.

The assembly called for the original motion for adoption, and Moderator Stone informed the assembly that it would require a two-thirds vote of the entire assembly, or 586 votes, to pass the report. On the standing vote the clerks counted only 546, and for the sake of accuracy the roll call was demanded.

The section was adopted: 619 voting in the affirmative.

MARRIED BY PEACE JUSTICE LOVERS WILL WED AGAIN WHEN BRIDE LEARNS YIDDISH

Mr. and Mrs. Sam White, whose marriage Wednesday morning is now the talk of the "Trip to Joyville" company.

It was an unusual wedding that Justice of the Peace Edgar H. Orr was called upon to perform yesterday morning in his office in the Throwerbuilding when there appeared before him Sam White (stage name, if you please), and Miss Helen Walt, Gentle, and asked that he make them man and wife. Both are members of the "Trip to Joyville" troupe playing at the Bijou this week.

It had been the intention of the couple to keep their wedding a secret from the other members of the troupe, and to this end they had foregone all spooning in public, being not even so much as seen to speak to each other for three weeks past, albeit they were engaged. But in an unguarded moment—it was the man this time that gave the thing away, not the girl—the bridegroom-elect told his chum in strictest confidence, and soon all the company knew.

Then it was that the other engaged couple of the troupe, to-wit, John Fidello and Miss Billy Wakefield, whose love affair had been so public as to furnish the small talk of the traveling actors since the season opened last fall, began to kid their silver colleagues in the tender passion and to dare them to have it out and tie the knot.

"We will, if you will," said Sam White, and Miss Walt coply assented.

"All right—it's a go," answered John Fidello,

So the two couples started out early yesterday morning in search of a justice, first visiting Ordinary Wilkinson's office to purchase the licenses. With them to see the double wedding to get their friends of the troupe, Lou Cantor, the manager, and Frank Warner.

But at the ordinary's office came a hitch that blocked the double marriage program. John Fidello and his sweetheart squarely backed out. The girl said it was too sudden. She had no trousseau ready.

Not so with the others. They had gone thus far and they would see it to the end. Nothing daunted, they sought out Justice Orr and, in a trice, he tied the knot that started them on their life-time partnership.

And it is to be a double wedding, after all. Sam White, the bridegroom, will be satisfied with nothing less than a ceremony in orthodox style and by a rabbi of his faith. This is perfectly agreeable to Helen, albeit she is already Mrs. White, but, unfortunately, she knows nothing of Yiddish, and is unable to make the responses properly. So she is to take lessons from her husband, and in three weeks or as much sooner as she may be able to perfect herself in the idiom, a rabbi will be called upon to marry them all over again.

And the friends of the newly-married pair are preparing a big blowout for their entertainment at the Theatrical club. There will be fun of all, and dancing into the wee morning hours.

BOARD OF MISSIONS GIVEN CLEAN BILL

Dr. Charles Thompson, Secretary, Defends the Management Against Charges of Malfeasance in Office.

By Charles W. Welch.

The board of home missions of the Northern Presbyterian church was vindicated in the sessions of its assembly yesterday by a prolonged ovation tendered to its venerable secretary, Chas. L. Thompson, D.D., who had spoken to the assembly pending the adoption of the assembly's standing committee on the board's work during the last year. Secretary Thompson took occasion in his address to answer at length the charges which had been preferred against his administration, and if the long continued and vociferous applause which followed is to be accepted as the assembly's sentiment Dr. Thompson and his board achieved their hearts' desire. The enemies of the board's program who have waged an incessant campaign against the board's policy and thereby causing the church to contribute $71,289.79 less this past year than the year before, learned today that the church continues to have confidence in the ability of the man whom they have set over this department of its activities.

The Kennedy Fund.

Another fight on the floor of the general assembly which took up the greater part of the afternoon was that which followed the report of the executive commission recommending that the assembly instruct the board of

EXPERTS ARE HERE ON FINGER PRINTS

Two Investigators Are Added to Wm. J. Burns' Forces Already in Atlanta—P. A. Flak in City.

The William J. Burns forces in the investigation of the Mary Phagan mystery have been reinforced by two expert investigators who recently arrived in the city and are assisting Chief C. W. Tobie in his work.

Their identity is being withheld. Both began work Wednesday. One is a noted handwriting and finger print expert, and his first object was to examine the notes found beside the girl's body and to obtain finger prints at and around the scene of discovery.

Chief Tobie visited the negro night watchman, Newt Lee, in the Tower Wednesday morning for an hour's interview. Although he will not state positively his views, the impression is gained that he believes the negro innocent, in both the actual murder and as an accessory either before or after the crime.

Finger Print Expert Engaged.

P. A. Flak, one of New York's most successful finger print experts, has been retained by Solicitor General Dorsey to examine prints found upon the victim's clothing and on the notes written by her slayer. Flak was brought to Atlanta by the Georgia State Bankers' association, the con-

THE WOMAN'S EDITION ON JUNE 4.

The Ella F. White Memorial Endowment Edition of The Constitution, issued by the Federated Women's Clubs of Georgia, which the club women of the state have planned, managed and edited, even having sold the advertising and extra circulation, the proceeds from which the endowment fund shares in in a substantial way, will appear Wednesday, June 4.

It will be from 80 to 100 pages in size, finely illustrated and illumined, containing feature articles by women of state-wide popularity, and columns of matter upon every phase of the club movement and women's interest in general.

Club women everywhere who are securing subscriptions are urged to send them in immediately. The first sections will be printed within a few days, and all subscription lists should be in by Thursday, May 29.

Those outside of Atlanta who have not given their orders to the club women for extra copies should do so at once. Order through any newsdealer, or send orders direct to The Woman's Edition Department, care The Atlanta Constitution. Copies are 10c each everywhere. If subscriptions at 10c each are sent to The Constitution they will be mailed to any address or list of addresses, postage prepaid. These should be sent to reach The Constitution by Thursday, May 29.

The edition will be on sale at newsstands and on the streets in Atlanta on the day of publication.

THRASH DENOUNCES FREIDMANN'S OFFER TO CURE FOR $2,500

Atlanta Physician Writes Constitution Warn Card on Proposition Made to Woman in This City.

FRAUD IS PERPETRATED UPON AMERICAN PUBLIC

German Doctor's "Cure" Pronounced Worthless in Far Advanced Cases in Statement by Thrash.

Dr. E. C. Thrash, one of the best known physicians in Atlanta, who has for years made a specialty of the treatment of tuberculosis, has written the following article for The Constitution. It will be recalled that Dr. Thrash went to New York shortly after the arrival in this country of Dr. Friedmann, and later wrote a special article for The Constitution in which he explained Dr. Friedmann's method of treatment, but refused to commit himself as to its value.

Owing to the widespread interest in Dr. Friedmann's alleged "cure," Dr. Thrash's article is of great significance at the present time:

By E. C. Thrash, M. D.

The American public is now having presented upon them one of the greatest frauds of the age, and no means should be spared to protect them against this scheme.

The writer has watched the course of Dr. Friedmann and noted carefully the result of his work since he first heralded to the world that he had a cure for tuberculosis. One of the leading factors in imbuing the American public with the idea that his remedy is a cure is the fact that the "cure" in German means a method of treatment and not a cure as English-speaking people interpret the word. It can readily be seen how the meaning of this word can be taken advantage of by a charlatan and the general press be duped and the public misled.

I made a public statement, after having gone to New York and carefully investigating the Friedmann methods, that it was not a new treatment, but only one of the plans that have been in vogue for a long time. That he was not giving one of the various types of vaccine that is used in the treatment of tuberculosis and there was grave doubt as to whether or not it was an improvement upon the old method. In either event he may not have some advantage over the old method, but most assuredly it has the disadvantage of being a living germ, which may create trouble later.

Wanted Unprejudiced View.

My statement to the public at that time was not much different from the one the commission appointed by the United States government gave out two months later. The public was informed in this article of such an unprejudiced view of the situation and to wait patiently and see whether or not he would be able to prove his statements.

I asked him when I saw him for case record showing the cures which he had made. He did not have a single record with him and did not have any documentary evidence of ever having even treated a case, to say nothing about having cured one.

We had to take his work entirely upon faith and upon his verbal statement. I, in common with many others, however, was willing to do this and give him credit for his work regardless of the fact that every movement which he made pointed toward charlatanry. I still hoped that there might be some value in his remedy and that his treatment would add something toward alleviating the public of this dread malady.

He stated that he would prove that his remedy would cure tuberculosis before he offered it for sale and in order to establish this proof he asked the United States government to appoint a commission to give it a fair and unprejudiced trial. They have undertaken this, which means no little cost, time and capability. The government has made a preliminary report showing the remedy to be of doubtful value. Reports of private cases which he has treated show that his treatment has no advantage whatever over our present methods of handling the disease.

Cure for $2,500.

In the face of all this, telegrams are being sent out to patients, the physical condition of which he knows nothing, stating that he will give the treatment for $2,500. A lady was in my office this morning who told me that her son had suffered from tuberculosis of the lungs for seven years. He later developed tuberculosis of the bowels, for which he had an operation and the disease was so far advanced that the opening in the bowels has never closed and has drained constantly since. Dr. Friedmann, after having been informed of this, notified her by wire that the outlook for a cure was good and that he would send a man down here and administer the treatment for $2,500. This woman can ill afford to spend the money, but she will do so with the least amount of encouragement.

People are calling me up over the phone, both local and long distance, writing me letters and calling at my office informing me that they can get this treatment at these fabulous prices and asking me whether or not to take it. The answer follows: Any vampire who would prey upon the ills and afflictions of poor suffering people by extorting money from them through fraud is worse than a thief or a robber, and he deserves a greater punishment than if he would break into their homes and rob them of this amount. It is an easy matter to appeal to the sentiments of persons having loved ones and extort money from them which they need to buy bread, making them believe that these loved ones can be brought back to health. I know of people already who have paid him enormous prices for a treatment about which they know nothing and the result of which may be harmful.

Consult Your Doctors.

I wish to say this to the public with all the emphasis possible: When questions come up pertaining to treatment of this sort, consult your medical adviser and do as he suggests. The medical profession is in a position to know the value of the various therapeutic agents better than the public does. It is their duty to keep informed upon them, and it is further their duty to give this information to the people.

Do not pay Friedmann $2,500 or any other exorbitant amount for his treatment. It is an experiment pure and simple, and let him bear the expense of this experiment himself until he proves its value and then pay him a reasonable sum for his service.

There are many camp followers of Friedmann who are also claiming cures for tuberculosis. Beware also of these. Scientific men are studying and investigating these questions most carefully, and just as fast as any measure is found to be of value, the world is given the benefit of it, and it costs no more than the expense to produce it with a living profit to the producer and a reasonable price to the one who administers it.

Worthless in Advanced Cases.

Do not feel that your loved ones will die before the remedy can be administered, because I can give you every assurance that the remedy is positively worthless to far advanced cases. That is known without doubt. So do not hope that cases running high fever, emaciated, deep hollow cough with well developed consumption, can even be helped with Friedmann's treatment. It is still doubtful as to whether the early cases can be benefited and there will be plenty time yet to get it if it is valuable.

The reason of my statement in the outset that a fraud is being perpetrated in this case I can say with positive assurance that the remedy is worthless, but because he makes a straight proposition to give the treatment to a hopeless case without even having seen the patient. Without any knowledge as to whether it would be unwise to give the remedy, he makes a proposition to give this patient one treatment which should be administered at $25 to $100 and charge that patient $2,500 for the service—a service which, if he is a man of any intelligence, he knows is worthless and if he has no intelligence, he does not deserve to be recognized.

sembly to direct the home mission board to extend its work indefinitely among the northern and western cities. He declared that the movement of the negro youth from the south to other sections of the country is giving the race problem a new extent of seriousness. An overture containing the appeal was referred to the home mission and the freedman's boards jointly.

A number of overtures were recommended and adopted.

Bar Religious Garb.

Rev. C. A. R. Janvier, D.D., of Philadelphia, offered a resolution urging the president of the United States to forbid the wearing of a uniform or badge distinctive of any religion in any of the schools supported by the government. The resolution is similar to the one adopted at the U. P. L. assembly, last Tuesday, and is aimed at Roman Catholic priests and Sisters of Mercy serving in the Indian schools.

The resolution was referred to the board.

Moderator Stone announced to the assembly that the executive committee's report, which was adopted Tuesday afternoon and which was still before the assembly on a motion to reconsider, would be called up at 9 o'clock.

The report of the standing committee on Presbyterian Brotherhood, presented by Rev. J. N. Sloan, D. D., Helane, Mont., was taken up. The committee indorsed the work of the brotherhood in the highest terms, and recommended a permanent plan be devoted specially to evangelism, Bible study, social service and public morals, mission and boys work.

The report was also adopted.

SLEEPING ROOMMATES MURDERED BY MANIAC

Bradovitch Killed Five Fellow-Maniacs by Crushing Their Heads.

Blackfoot, Idaho, May 21.—Peter Bradovitch, an insane Austrian, confined in the Southern Idaho insane asylum here, killed his five roommates this morning by beating them on the head with a table as they lay asleep.

Bradovitch was committed to the asylum two years ago from the state penitentiary, where he was serving a life sentence for murder.

An investigation of the killing of five patients was held this afternoon and the asylum officials were exonerated from blame. According to the testimony the institution was overcrowded, making it necessary to keep several patients in one room. Testimony also was given tending to show that in the two years which Bradovitch had been confined he had never shown any signs of violence.

SANDERS WALKER DIES UNCONSCIOUS

Keen interest in the conferences held by his physicians and begged his nurse to tell him exactly what conclusions they had reached.

Walker frequently requested, until he became unconscious, to be permitted to talk with hi relatives.

Utmost quiet prevails in the vicinity of the Walker home.

More Fake Stories Printed.

Members of the sorrowing family were called upon again tonight to deny the accuracy of sensational stories appearing under Macon date lines in newspapers published outside of this city. The absurdity of these stories have been telegraphed back to Macon tonight and have given rise to additional criticism of the newspapers handling them.

The report that a cordon of policemen have been thrown around the famous Sidney Lanier cottage, in which the Walkers have made their home for several years, is a fabrication. Not only has there not been a single policemen about the house, but there has not been even a single officer detailed to this duty.

Such action on the part of the city authorities is unnecessary because the pathetic nature of the trouble which has befallen the Walker home has so touched the citizens of Macon generally that they have exerted the utmost care in preserving quiet in the neighborhood of the home.

Many friends have called daily at the home of Dr. M. M. Staples, a brother-in-law of Mr. Walker, three doors down the street, to learn the announcement that absolute quiet was necessary, no one has called at the house where the dying man is lying in the room in which the south's poet laureate was born.

Denounce Alleged Interview.

Particular distress has been caused the family by the reports quoting Walker as saying today: "If this is death, then none need fear its terrors." Those who have been at the dying man's room all day long declare that this report is a falsehood out of the whole cloth, and that it originated in the mind of the correspondent who sent it out.

Certainly no news correspondent has been Walker since last Wednesday, and equally as certainly none of the less than a dozen persons who have access to the sick room have given expression to any such statement as coming from the dying man.

The family likewise brand as being without foundation in fact the sobstory of a conversation alleged to have been held by Mrs. Walker, the brave young wife of the dying man over the long distance telephone with some unknown party in Chicago, in which sympathy was extended from the Chicago caller and thanks returned by Mrs. Walker from Macon.

Outrageous Series of Fakes.

"All of these are just more instances of the outrageous series of fakes that have been perpetrated on a sorrowing family," declared a member of the family tonight. "Everything that has been published as being in the nature of an interview with Mr. Walker is necessarily false, as no one but the immediate family have had access to the house, much less the sick room.

"Since the beginning of our trouble we have endeavored to conduct ourselves in the retiring manner which is but fitting in matters of this kind, and these fake stories have grieved us greatly, the ladies of the family being especially disturbed by the undue publicity."

Macon Citizens Indignant.

The inaccurate and sensational nature of the reports which have been published under Macon date lines have been the cause of great indignation in Macon and at one time a movement was on foot to have a called meeting of the chamber of commerco to pass resolutions condemning their publication. The matter went to such an extent that a meeting was called for noon today at the chamber of commerce hall. This meeting was, however, called off, largely, it is thought, because the family felt that such resolutions would only lead to greater publicity.

LOAN OF $100,000,000 ARRANGED BY MEXICO

The Loan Is to Be Placed at 90 and Run Ten Years at 6 Per Cent.

Mexico City, May 21.—The Mexican congress early today gave its sanction to an agreement for a loan of $100,000,000 at six per cent interest. The amount is to be placed at ninety and will run for ten years. It is guaranteed by 38 per cent of the customs receipts. The Mexican National bank is named as the representative of the bankers in the supervision of the disbursements.

The debate on the loan was a long one, lasting until midnight.

The minister of finance was charged with failure to take better offers which had been made. He replied that Provisional President Huerta and the cabinet members of the Mexican cabinet had urged upon him the immediate acceptance of this loan as the other offers received necessitated more delay.

It is still necessary for congress to discuss and vote upon the four articles of the financial measure, but its approval of the general terms of the bill makes it reasonably certain that it will also approve the details.

The loan has been placed with French bankers, but it is certain that British interests are participating. The names of the bankers have not been announced.

Accident to Airship Delays Battle.

Nogales, Ariz., May 21.—An accident to an aeroplane is delaying a battle. In alighting from a trial flight at Hermosillo last night Didier Masson slightly damaged his big biplane. The repairs will require a day or two. In the meantime the state troops are awaiting his arrival at the front before moving on the federals who remain entrenched outside the gulf port.

To Reopen Campaign.

El Paso, Texas, May 21.—Twelve hundred federal soldiers today reported from Chihuahua City to reopen the campaign in the southern part of the state. The troops were commanded by General Anton Rabago, military governor of Chihuahua. Their trains will proceed south, repairing the Mexican Central railway as far as Jimines, and probably will attempt to retake Parral, which was abandoned to the insurgents by General Mercado.

UNCLE SAM GOUGED ON HIS ARMOR PLATE

Competitive Bidding a Farce, Says Secretary Daniels—Responsibility Is Placed on the Navy Department.

Washington, May 21.—Responsibility for price agreements among manufacturers furnishing armor plate for American warships was placed directly upon the navy department itself today by Secretary Daniels. In a statement following his announcement yesterday of his intention to submit a plan for a government armor plant the secretary declared the policy of the department in dividing plate contracts among all bidders at the lowest figure offered "makes all pretense of competitive bidding to get the lowest market price a farce that cannot possibly deceive anyone acquainted with the facts."

Mr. Daniels said he was glad the resolution for an investigation of this matter, introduced recently by Senator Ashurst, was before congress and that it anticipated a formal statement which he proposed to prepare requesting relief from 'and intolerable situation."

How contracts for armor for the new battleship Pennsylvania were let by Secretary Meyer last March was told in detail in the statement. Three steel companies submitted virtually identical bids and the contracts were divided among them.

He Wants Honesty.

"If we are going to subsidize the Carnegie, Midvale, The Bethlehem companies," said Secretary Daniels "so as to have the advantage of their armor plants in time of war, then let us do so honestly in manly fashion by statute, without concealment or attempt at hypocritical evasion of the intent of congress to force competition and to award contracts to the lowest bidder. If we are, on the other hand, going to honestly award our contracts to the lowest bidder, let us do so."

Bids for the Pennsylvania armor were opened, the statement continued, "after the publication of a notice one inch long in the smallest type in one paper only. The Philadelphia Item, that sealed proposals would be received at the navy department at 12 o'clock noon February 18, with no hint of the amount and only four weeks in advance of the date set for the receiving of the bids."

"It would be natural," the statement continues, "to suppose that the lowest bidder would receive the award, but such was not the case, nor has it been the case for a long time past, and here is where the whole trouble lies. On the theory that all these companies must be encouraged to maintain their armor plate departments the contract was arbitrarily divided among them. All three companies agreed to a price of $454 per ton for class. Under the circumstances I am surprised at the moderation of the bids. I don't see that anything but modesty or fear of a congressional investigation keeps them from putting in, say $700 per ton, as their lowest bid."

Evils of Situation.

The secretary made public two letters which he received from companies which submitted bids for the Pennsylvania contract, because, he said, they were "so remarkable for their frankness and so completely illustrating from their own words the evils of the situation."

The Midvale Steel company, of Philadelphia, wrote:

"It has been the custom to divide the work between the companies at the lowest or next lowest bidder after asking the other companies if they would accept the work at this price; this method being deemed expedient by the department. On subsequent bids for similar material it was but natural for the competing companies to bid the price set by the previous divided order."

The Bethlehem Steel company of South Bethlehem, Pa., told practically the same story.

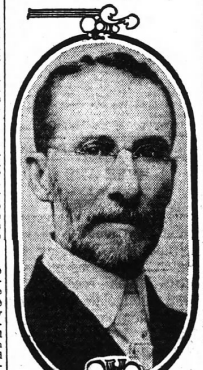
Concluding his statement, Mr. Daniels commented on the fact that the bids for the Pennsylvania armor were 8 per cent higher than the price of the last previous armor made.

FLAGLER'S BODY TAKEN TO ST. AUGUSTINE

West Palm Beach, Fla., May 21.—The body of Henry M. Flagler left here tonight for St. Augustine on a special train. Business was being done in state throughout the day at the cottage where the octogenarian millionaire died yesterday morning.

Hundreds of sorrowing people, including delegations from trades organizations of this place and Lakeworth, called during the day to pay their respects to Mr. Flagler's memory. Members of the immediate family accompanied the body to St. Augustine, where the funeral services will be conducted Friday afternoon.

INTRODUCED INDIAN.



DR. S. L. MORRIS.

Secretary of the home mission board of the Southern Presbyterian church, who, in connection with the home mission report Wednesday afternoon, presented for an address to the assembly the full-fledged Choctaw Indian, Silas Bacon, of Oklahoma.

U. P. WILL BUILD MEMORIAL CHURCH

$40,000 Building Will Be Erected at Early Date in National Capital—Missionaries Make Addresses.

At the afternoon session of the United Presbyterian church it was decided to build a $40,000 memorial church in Washington, which will act as a sentinel on national affairs. Each congregation in the ranks of the United Presbyterians is pledged to give $10 or more to this cause, and it is hoped that in thenear future a memorial church worthy of that denomination will be erected.

In taking this action, the United Presbyterians are following an example set some years ago by several other denominations in having their church well represented in the capital of the nation.

One of the features of the afternoon session was the speaking of half a dozen mountain missionaries, who told in brief words the work which the United Presbyterians are doing in the hilly regions of Kentucky and Tennessee. One of the most interesting of all was Elijah Chandler, a mountain boy, who has been to one of the Presbyterian colleges, and is now giving his life to missionary work in his own home county. He spoke feelingly of the gratitude which he felt toward the United Presbyterians, and pledged himself to the work before him.

Rev. George Raitt, of the home mission board, urged that the ministers, in returning to their congregations, organize the men of their churches into active forces for doing Christ's work of saving the world.

"To win America for Jesus, we must organize our men. We want organization in each congregation," he said.

Rev. Professor Alberta Clot, of the Waldensian church, the original Presbyterian church in Italy, spoke before the assembly in the afternoon and told of the work which was going on in his native country and how they were co-operating in the emigrant problem.

At the morning session it was decided that New Castle, Pa., would be the city in which the 1914 assembly would be held. Many good reasons were given for selecting this city, among them being the fact that it is a dry town.

TRAVELERS FLOCKING TO COLUMBUS MEETING

Grand Council of U. C. T. for the Georgia-Florida Division Begins Meeting Today.

Columbus, Ga., May 21.—(Special.)—Traveling men are arriving on every train tonight to attend the meeting of the grand council of the United Commercial Travelers for the Georgia-Florida division, which begins tomorrow morning. The convention will last two days.

Many features of the entertainment have been arranged.

It is expected that several hundred traveling men will be in attendance.

Schools of Elberton.

Elberton, Ga., May 21.—(Special.)—The closing exercises of the Elberton public schools will take place next Monday, preceded Sunday by a sermon at the Baptist church, to be preached by Dr. C. L. Stacey Monday morning, at 10:30, the graduating class will hold its class-day exercises. Monday night the salutatory and valedictory will be reached, and an address made by Professor R. E. Park, of the University of Georgia. This closes the first year of the administration of Superintendent Charles E. Dryden. The present faculty has been re-elected.

HE TAKES REST ON OCHLOCKNEE'S BANKS

Thomasville, Ga., May 21.—(Special.)—Congressman S. A. Roddenbery is taking a ten days' holiday for rest and recuperation and will spend most of it in this section in and around Thomasville. Mr. Roddenbery has not been in very good health for the past few weeks, and he always feels that there is no place that can "set him up" like his native heath where he can breathe the health-giving air of the pine woods.

Amid the worries and wrangling of the house when the brain was tired and the flesh weary there would come to him a vision of a cool bank on the Ochlocknee river away down in "Dear Old Georgia," where a man could sit under the shade of the trees and angle for the bream which those to "the manner born" consider the best that are caught in this part of the country. The temptation was too much for flesh and blood to resist and today in company with Mayor Luke the congressman from the second is camping out on the river where they will probably remain for the balance of the week.

MIKE MARTIN KILLED BY BROTHER-IN-LAW

Both the Victim and His Slayer, Jack Smith, Prominent in Oglethorpe County.

Athens, Ga., May 21.—(Special.)—Mike Martin, agent for many years at Dunlap's, a station on the Georgia railroad 9 miles from Athens, was shot to death late this afternoon by his brother-in-law, Jack Smith, according to reports reaching Athens. The men are both well-to-do and prominent in Oglethorpe county.

Martin married Smith's sister and, it is said, that family differences caused the dispute which led to bad blood.

The men were at the place of R. M. Chambers, on Martin's land, this afternoon, and had been at a barbecue, where they were all drinking somewhat. Smith's friends state that Martin was advancing with an open knife

The coroner's investigation will be held early tomorrow morning.

Martin has a large family. Smith has a wife but no children.

Waycross Chautauqua Opens.

Waycross, Ga., May 21.—(Special.)—The second annual chautauqua opened here today with a very flattering attendance. The chautauqua will last through May 27, and during the week many of the most prominent men of national note will be here to deliver lectures. The musical program includes sacred concerts for next Sunday.

Gambling on War.

VALDOSTA COP CHARGED WITH ROBBING PRISONER

Valdosta, Ga., May 21.—(Special.)—The suspension of Officer S. L. Jolly, of the city police force, on charges brought by a negro prisoner whom he had arrested, promises to bring about a lively row and a shakeup in the police department here. The specific charge against Officer Jolly is that when he arrested the prisoner in question he searched him and took from his pockets a small sum of money, which the policeman failed to return when the prisoner was released from the city barracks. It is said that the negro will bring as witnesses two other policemen.

Officer Jolly will deny the charges, it is said, and will bring counter charges against other members of the force, involving their official conduct. No further information regarding the character of the charges he will bring against his brother officers, has been vneguo CB((aedrfSTdLfl ETAOETA given out by Officer Jolly. The latter was suspended by Chief Dampier, yesterday, pending an investigation by the police department.

Georgia Crops Are in Poorer Condition Than in Last May

That all the staple crops with the exception of wheat are in poorer condition now than at the corresponding period last year is shown in the May crop report of the commissioner of agriculture which was made public yesterday. For cotton the condition and prospect are 82 per cent as compared with last year; corn, 96 per cent, and oats, 82 per cent.

Commissioner Conner calls attention to the fact that while there is a decreased acreage of cotton, there is a marked increase in the acreage planted in corn and small grains. The fruit crop shows at the worst disadvantage of all as compared with last year. Only 38 per cent of the peach crop escaped the frost, and the output of apples, pears and grapes will be much below normal. The report follows:

The Report in Detail.

The following is a statement of the condition of the crops in Georgia as reported to this department by correspondence throughout the state. The department sent out some eight hundred letters of inquiry and received quite a number of replies, covering perhaps 90 per cent of the entire state.

"The questions asked in the letters of inquiry sent out for this year sought to obtain answers in comparison with crop conditions of the same date last year. The department has studiously sought to get the exact conditions of the crops so far as they could be obtained from replies to our letters, and we are giving the exact facts as apnear from the average made up from answers received. The condition and prospect of the crops are as follows:

"Cotton—Acreage compared with last year, 94 per cent; condition and prospect compared with last year, 82 per cen; per cent of crop planted over 23 per cent; stand compared to a good stand, 55 per cent; average time of planting, 17 days late.

"Corn—Acreage compared with last year, 102 per cent; condition and prospect compared with last year, 96 per cent.

"Oats—Acreage compared with last year, 110 per cent; condition and prospect compared with last year, 82 per cent; per cent of crop sown last fall, 72 per cent.

"Wheat—Acreage compared with last year, 96 per cent; condition and prospect compared with last year 102 per cent.

"Sugar-Cane—Acreage compared with last year, 90 per cent; stand compared with an average of last year, 93 per cent.

"Rice—Acreage in lowland rice compared to last year, 95 per cent; acreage in upland rice, 100 per cent; condition and prospect, 85 per cent.

"Sorghum—Acreage compared with last year, 97 per cent; condition and prospect compared with last year, 88 per cent.

"Clover and Grasses—Acreage compared with last year, 104 per cent; condition and prospect compared with last year, 88 per cent.

"Fruits—Per cent of full crop of peaches escaped frost, 38 per cent; per cent of full crop of apples, 47 per cent; per cent of full crop of pears, 39 per cent; per cent of full crop of grapes, 90 per cent; condition and prospect of the fruit crop, 50 per cent.

"Supplies—Cash price per bushel for corn May 1, 94 cents; credit price per bushel for corn May 1, $1.12; per cent of full supply of corn now on hand, 38 per cent; per cent of full supply hay now on hand, 35 per cent; per cent of corn used in Georgia purchased from without the state, 42 per cent; per cent of wheat and oats used in Georgia purchased from without the state, 59 per cent; per cent of farm lands worked by owners, 42 per cent; per cent of farm lands worked by renters, 32 per cent; per cent of farm lands worked on shares, 26 per cent; average wages paid hands with board per month, $14.70.

More Corn Planted.

"The department is pleased with the indicated increase in corn and other cereal crops; the acreage in corn this year shows 103 per cent against 100 per cent last year; oats being 110 per cent against 100 per cent last year. This is an omen which speaks well for better things in the future with respect to Georgia farming, for it is indispensable that our people so conduct their farming operations as to make their farms self-sustaining. In other words, raise on the farm all the food products necessary for the sustenance of both man and beast. Until this is accomplished the highest plane of farming conditions will never be reached nor will the state ever reach the acme of prosperity.

PUBLIC ACCOUNTANTS TAKING EXAMINATIONS

There is being held in Atlanta the semi-annual examinations of the Georgian board of certified accountants, of which Joel Hunter, of Atlanta, is chairman. These examinations were begun on Wednesday and will continue through today. They are being held in the directors' room of the Third National bank, which was very kindly loaned for this purpose. According to Mr. Hunter this is the largest class which has been held in several years, the membership being of the highest order and coming from all sections of the state. The semi-annual examinations are held in accordance with the law governing the subject and passed by the general assembly in 1908.

Rains Help Crops.

Valdosta, Ga., May 21.—(Special.)—Bounteous and general rains have fallen throughout this section, doing immense good crops of all kinds. The rains came too late to save oats, but even these have been greatly benefited. Corn, cotton, melons and canteloupe which were needing rain got it just at the right time. The fields are generally clear of grass, and where a "stand" had been secured, the crops are in excellent condition.

A PARAMOUNT IMPROVEMENT.

The finance committee of council takes action this week on the Whitehall street improvement movement, which has been approved: (1) By the almost unanimous vote of the street committee; (2) by the nearly unanimous vote of the city council; (3) by the unanimous voice of the county commission; (4) by the city construction department; (5) by an overwhelming majority of the property-owners affected who are subscribing $17,000 to the work; (6) by the united support of the civic improvement organizations of the first, second and seventh wards, these being most directly influenced by the improvement; (7) by the favorable sentiment of the entire city, growing out of recognition that this project is of vital importance to the commercial and industrial interests of Atlanta, irrespective of ward boundaries.

It is, therefore, with virtually no dissenting voice that this improvement goes to the finance committee. The case for Whitehall should be really closed without need of further argument. For it is to be doubted if in the history of the city any similar improvement had behind it so irresistible an array of indorsements. Certainly the finance committee will not be called upon, at its coming session, to deal with any item of superior importance, save that only of meeting fixed municipal charges. And no finance committee has for the ten years been confronted with a weightier decision than that involved in the improvement of Whitehall.

Why? Because upon the action of the finance committee largely depends the future development of the entire south side of the city. Whitehall itself is of course immediately affected. But all the territory surrounding it, most of which feeds traffic into and takes it from Whitehall, is affected in a hardly less direct degree. It is up to the finance committee to say whether Whitehall, with its ideal strategic equipment and location, is to become one of the greatest wholesale and commercial warehouse thoroughfares in the south. For a large part of its length Whitehall backs on the Southern and Central railways, among the most important transportation systems entering Atlanta. It traverses, at the same time, the heart of the city. The present street grades are prohibitive as to the sort of development certain for this thoroughfare under favorable conditions. Heavy traffic must have easy grades, a direct route, smooth paving. Given these, Whitehall will become the first manufacturing and wholesaling district of the south. The facilities are all there. It is simply a question of financial arithmetic.

Whitehall is the great north and south channel of traffic for Atlanta and Fulton county. It is the natural inlet for traffic from the center of the city to the farthest limits of the south side. It is the natural route for the great and swelling volume of traffic from Atlanta toward the country districts and from the country districts to Atlanta. As Peachtree is the spinal column of the north side, so Whitehall is the spinal column of the south side. Peachtree, Whitehall, Decatur and Marietta are the four spokes radiating from the hub to the compass-points. Whitehall is the solitary one that has not been equipped to meet the task for which it was destined by nature. Further neglect penalizes, therefore, not Whitehall alone, but an entire city and an entire county—it strikes both at their most vital spot, next to health, their system of transportation.

The omission will sooner or later be rectified. There is no doubt on that score. What The Constitution wants to emphasize upon the finance committee is what it has frequently emphasized in the past—that every day's delay increases the cost of the improvement; every day's delay defers private investment, since no property-owners will spend money until grades, lines and contours are fixed. The task is an easy one. The county is ready to do its share; the property-owners stand ready to bear their share. A job that must be done at any rate and that is worth in labor and material approximately $100,000, can be finished by the expenditure from the city of only $30,000. Postponement simply increases that price.

No finance committee ever had a more worthy enterprise under consideration!

WHAT THE CHURCHES CAN DO.

Remove the menace of the negro to himself and to the white man's civilization by working upon the children of the negro. That is the substance of the suggestion elaborated elsewhere by Mrs. Nellie Peters Black, one of the best-known philanthropic and social service workers in Atlanta. Mrs. Black commends an editorial, "The Church and the Negro," in which The Constitution sought to point out that were a tithe of the money lavished in foreign missions spent upon the millions of "half heathen in our midst" the negro problem would speedily become negligible. Coming from a woman of Mrs. Black's experience these views have a special value. She is a southerner, born of one of the foremost pioneer families of Atlanta. She does not misunderstand the problem from the social or economic sides. Her work in connection with kindergartens for the negro clothe her opinions with authority. There is nothing of the sentimentalist or a theorist about her. She speaks simple fact.

At the core Mrs. Black's theory is unchallengeable. We know that with all races, even with inarticulate jungle animals, the impressions of the young and receptive years influence the entire life. That is why we are so particular about education. That is why we spend so much money and labor on reformatories, in which we transform potential white criminals into productive and law-abiding citizens. Mrs. Black testifies that her experience shows the spread of kindergartens and settlement work among negroes to be one promising way of inculcating morality, purity, industry, efficiency.

Why should not the white civilization of the south indefinitely amplify the application of Mrs. Black's idea? It is the white man who, in the last analysis, pays the penalty for the immorality, the disease and the decadence of the negro. It is cheaper to mold him into efficiency than to shoulder the burden later on. If, therefore, the school and the reformatory are gradually eliminating vice and crime and idleness among the white race—why should not the same influence, or an adaptation of them, work the same results with the negro?

It is the white church organizations that should profit most directly by Mrs. Black's wisdom. For the churches are spending each year millions abroad to do for the children of the heathen precisely those things that the many million children of the half-heathen right at their doors tragically need. One-half of the money spent by churches around a single Chinese port would, in all probability, underwrite the future of nine-tenths of the negro children around Atlanta. What say the churches to the suggestion and their responsibility in the premises?

THE GHOST-DANCERS.

The seven plagues of Egypt were innocuous as compared with the plague of Newspaper Ghost-Dancers who seem to have descended on Georgia. A newspaper ghost-dancer is a nimble writer who pounces upon an innocent and legitimate news item and transforms it in the fiery furnace of his imagination until its "sale value" assumes attractive proportions. He broadcasts the country with the product. An illustration is afforded in the Ollie Taylor case, well remembered by the public. Life, the humorous New York weekly, was one of the reputable publications led into camp by the ghost-dancers. So persistent and acrid were its comments on the "lack of civilization" in Georgia that The Constitution, in justice to this state, forwarded the editor of Life the facts of the case. We are in receipt of a response regretting the wrong done Georgia, stating significantly that it is difficult to make adequate correction after "the damage has been done," and clinching the case against the ghost-dancers with the information that in the case of this article the information originally was obtained from a number of newspaper articles all corroborating each other."

Another pertinent instance is the sad case of Sanders Walker, of Macon, who through error swallowed a dose of slow poison. Mr. Walker is a prominent business man, and his affliction offered a rare opportunity for the "ghost-dancers." The facts were easily ascertained. Yet facts were the very things they did not wish—for as tragic as was the truth a few harrowing frills would lend zest to the story. Upon the bare announcement that the physicians had told Mr. Walker that death was inevitable, the ghost-dancers wrought a wondrous structure. The naked truth itself would have been sufficiently dramatic and pitiful, but Mr. Walker was pictured as issuing invitations for a reception in order that his friends may bid him farewell. His will was made to the accompaniment of slow music and orchestral effects—and such bosh.

The Constitution sent a staff correspondent to Macon, as it had sent one to Covington to hail the "lamplight funeral" story decrying the "decadent civilization of Georgia." Our correspondent found that Mr. Walker had never left his room; the reception incident was a fake, pure and simple; the other embellishments had not a scintilla of truth. Yet a family in the shadow of death is harrowed and advertised to bring grist to the mill of the penny-a-line ghost-dancers!

Will the ghost-dancers bring it to the pass where only the reports of the reliable Associated Press will be accepted as telling the truth about Georgia? It looks that way. The China-Japan war had its "Chee Foo liar;" the Russo-Japanese war its "Shanghai liar;" the Spanish-American war its "Mole St. Nicholas liar." People got so that the mere date line from these places made them shrug and smile. Are the ghost-dancers dooming Georgia to that fate?

But the ancient jug is empty—I shall tackle it no more,
So pass the grape juice, waiter, for I want that office—sure!

II.

It hasn't got the uplift, when you're feelin' mighty low—
When this old earth is lookin' like a wilderness of woe;
When the clouds hang thick above you—cast shadows on life's joys,
But I'm a grape juice statesman, for I want the office, boys!

III.

The mint grows greenly glorious in the gardens, close at hand,
But the julep glass is empty on the old, familiar stand;
I've had to change my tactics—I'm in the Bryan line;
I want the office, waiter,—put the joyless juice in mine!

IV.

I really am no better than ambassadors who sip
The beverage of Bryan, when they'd rather have a "nip;"
But, you see, I want the office; I'm in the grape juice class;
I'll quaff it if it kills me! (Here, waiter,—fill my glass!)

With the Blossoms and the Dreams.

I.

Off where the blossoms strew the streams—
the heart's glad holiday;
We're with the beauty of the dreams, and singing on the way;
Surely, there is no winter, and life's eternal
May,—
For with the blossoms and the dreams we sing along the way.

II.

We sing amid the blossoms, and where the lilies throng,
And the very winds—they listen, for the soul is in the song;
The holy light of heaven upon our pathway streams;
O life is worth the living with the blossoms and the dreams!

III.

All earth is singing 'round us and sorrow's in eclipse;
Bend low, O world of blossoms, and kiss Love's lifted lips!
And let high dwell forever where light undying beams
A brother to the violets, with the blossoms and the dreams.

The News of the Settlement.

This item of happy rural life from a correspondent of The Adams Enterprise:

"First picnic-dance of the season yesterday, and six deacons are to be turned out of the church in consequence. They met their old sweethearts at the picnic, and the music of the fiddles got into their feet, and they couldn't resist. The way they swung their old-time sweethearts was a caution, and the parson came on the scene at the very minute it was hands-round in the old Virginny reel!"

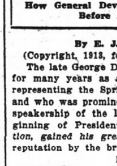
How General Devens Put Friendship Before Ambition.

By E. J. Edwards.

(Copyright, 1913, for The Constitution.)

The late George D. Robinson, who served for many years as a member of congress representing the Springfield, Mass., district, and who was prominently suggested for the speakership of the lower house at the beginning of President Arthur's administration, gained his great and really national reputation by the brilliant campaign which he made as candidate for governor of Massachusetts against Benjamin F. Butler.



E. J. Edwards.

Mr. Robinson used to describe himself as a country lawyer. His home was at Chicopee, Mass., a few miles north of Springfield. But it was the country lawyer who made the brilliant and successful campaign which destroyed General Butler's political power in Massachusetts.

Some time in the year 1882 I met Mr. Robinson as he was entering his hotel at Washington. I saw that he seemed especially pleased. He said to me: "Governor Long has done a splendid thing." He referred to John D. Long, who was afterward secretary of the navy in McKinley's cabinet, and who was twice elected governor of Massachusetts while still a very young man.

I asked Mr. Robinson to what he referred. He replied: "He has appointed General Devens a justice of the supreme court of the state of Massachusetts. Did you ever hear General Devens speak?"

I confessed that I had never enjoyed the opportunity.

"Well, you have missed hearing an orator whom I regard as without a superior in the United States." Mr. Robinson said. I have always believed that had General Devens been willing to devote himself to oratory he would have gained a reputation fully equal to that of Edward Everett.

"I am very glad that Governor Long has appointed him a justice of our supreme court, and I am especially glad because I am one of the few persons who know what General Devens's loyalty to his superior and his nobility of character were at a time when he was attorney-general in the cabinet of President Hayes.

"I think it was about half way in Hayes' administration when a vacancy occurred on the bench of the United States circuit court for the district of which Massachusetts was a part. President Hayes, of course, decided to select a prominent New England lawyer for that vacancy. General Devens was very strongly recommended. I think both of the Massachusetts senators, Hoar and Dawes, urged General Devens' appointment. President Hayes intimated that he was ready to make the appointment of General Devens, although he would do that with a sense of sorrow, because he would lose that way lose a very valuable cabinet member.

"I have been told that the president suggested that the Massachusetts senators call upon General Devens and ask him if he would be willing to accept appointment as United States circuit judge. Whether they were asked to do that by the president or whether they went of their own accord I do not know, but I do know that they asked General Devens if he would be willing to accept appointment as circuit judge of the United States circuit. He told them that an appointment of that kind filled the measure of his professional ambition. There was nothing, he said, which would give him greater personal satisfaction than to serve as United States circuit judge.

"He was told that the president was ready to make the appointment, although he expressed a sense of sincere regret that in doing so he was losing an official whom he so highly esteemed and that it had been his especial hope that he should retain General Devens in his official family until his administration was ended.

"'Well,' said General Devens in reply, 'if that is the way the president feels, I shall stay with him until the end of his administration, much as I should like a place upon the United States bench.'

"I have been told," continued Mr. Robinson, "that the president expressed himself very warmly and appreciatively when he heard what General Devens said.

"Well, the opportunity to serve as a justice of an important court has come just as General Devens has retired from president Hayes' administration. I strongly suspect Governor Long was told of this instance of personal loyalty and devotion which led General Devens to remain in Hayes' cabinet, greatly as he would have appreciated appointment as justice of the United States court."

Net Results

By George Matthew Adams

Most of us are prone to base our praise or admiration on the Gross total of things. As a matter of fact, the only thing that figures in Results is the Net.

Real Value is Net Results.

It is the Net earning capacity of a concern that counts with those who run it. A concern may do business running into millions of dollars yet lose money. It is the Net profit that proves the Value of the Stock. And with a man, it is what he saves, not what he receives, that measures his earning capacity.

Real Value is Net Results.

You may have ability enough to rule the world but if you don't make use of every bit of that ability to its limit, you might just as well have but a fraction of that ability. For the Net Results will stamp you as less than your ability represents you to be.

Real Value is Net Results.

Enthusiasm is tremendous physical and mental energy, abundance of ideas. These things are almost priceless as assets but it is the Net Results that are set up against them at the close of each job you do and every day you end that make them worth while to you. Many a man wears himself all out exerting every ounce of force at his command at one outburst and then subsides without accomplishing anything.

Real Value is Net Results.

It is a good thing to form the habit of picturing the Net every time you begin anything. And seeing the Net before you, you adjust your efforts exactly so as to receive the largest possible Net returns.

Go after the NET Results.

Now we have a vice president who talks, and has no difficulty in drumming up an audience to listen to him.

TEACH PROBLEM OF NEGRO THROUGH NEGRO CHILDREN

Editor Constitution: Will you allow me to indorse most heartily what was said in your editorial on "The Church and the Negro?" As a native-born Georgia woman, I have watched with the greatest interest every movement which has been made for the uplift of the negro, and in a number of ways it has been my privilege to show the interest and sympathy which the negroes so much desire from their white friends.

In their effort to better the race, there is no movement that has appealed to me more than the establishment of the five negro kindergarten schools which are being conducted under the able management of the Gate City Kindergarten association.

Knowing, as I do from a personal experience of nearly twenty years, what it signifies to give the little child of limited means from the working man's home a good start in life during its early years, I realize what it would mean if every negro child in the south could have the seeds of purity, goodness and truth sown in the young hearts as a preparation for character building.

In the model homes that have been built for the white kindergartens, fathers and mothers meet together and plan good things for the happiness and upbuilding of the community. Atlanta and her citizens should see to it that similar model homes are built for the negro kindergarten schools to be used as a nucleus of settlement work. An expenditure of a little more than $2,500 could duplicate the beautiful kindergarten rooms in Joyner park, which are models of comfort and convenience. Surrounded by a spacious playground, the building is a source of pride and joy to the entire community, and is under the wise control of men and women who see that it is not abused or desecrated in any way.

Similar buildings in the playgrounds for negroes would be a wise investment, and would be a great preventive measure against crime and disease.

The sooner we all learn that prevention of crime is better than the eradication or punishment of it, the sooner will the world be reclaimed from evil. The negroes are trying to help themselves; the colleges and universities have accomplished a great work in training teachers and nurses and men for the professions, but our southern white people have not given as much encouragement and help as we should to them, and your timely words make me feel like saying "You are on the right line now; keep it up—keep it up."

MRS. NELLIE PETERS BLACK.

A Way of Escape

By Philip Weltner, Secretary Prison Association of Georgia

The following is a table graphically describing the cost of degeneracy, on the one hand, and the value of fitness on the other. On the left is a summary of the family of Max Juke, a Dutch settler, who came to this country about 1730. On the right is a summary of the family of Jonathen Edwards, a famous New England preacher, born in the year 1703:

Max Juke.	Jonathen Edwards.
1,200 descendants identified.	1,394 descendants identified.
300 in poor houses.	285 college graduates.
2,300 years in all.	13 college presidents.
300 died in childhood.	65 college professors.
440 viciously diseased.	60 physicians.
400 physical wrecks.	100 clergymen and missionaries.
50 notorious prostitutes.
7 murderers.	75 army and navy officers.
60 habitual thieves.	100 lawyers.
130 convicted of crime (none ever contributed to the social welfare. Actual cost to society $1,250,000.	30 judges. 1 vice president. 3 U. S. senators. 80 held public office.

This is not an accident. Our own state furnishes strikingly similar parallels. Shunted off in one corner of Fulton county, back in the hills, and away from the beaten track of travel, lies a forgotten settlement of whites. They are housed in three little hovels set on the slope of as many hills. A few acres have been cleared, but their farming is desultory. The father of the brood is still living, and around him have grown up a numerous progeny. He is lazy and good for nothing, addicted to drink and vulgarity. He has several children, boys and girls, all of whom are well on in years.

A few outsiders have married into the family, but most of the children sprawling over the quilts spread over the rude flooring are the result of indiscriminate intermarriages between his sons and daughters. One of the hovels has lately been deserted. The husband of one of the girls died of consumption. She, with her three children, went back to her father's to live. Soon after the death she took up with a diseased profligate, and brought him to the family home. His record is notorious—an ex-convict, a horse thief, a burglar, a whisky peddler. None of them seem to be exempt from this latter fault, and many of the men have records for drunken and disorderly conduct.

Not many of the children are old enough to go to school, were there any disposition to send them. Those that have gone were either too stupid to make their grades, being usually afflicted with adenoids and other defects, or have been expelled for improper conduct. Already signs of degeneracy are rapidly appearing in this third generation. The neighbors complain bitterly of their petty thefts, and the girls are prone to lewdness, publicly exposing their persons, etc.

It costs to maintain and guard jail birds. It costs to repair the damage done by prostitutes. Most of their work is irreparable. It costs to house and feed the cast off in poorhouses, those dump-heaps of society. Prevention is much cheaper, and far more humane. Enlightenment demands a way of escape for children born in conditions of squalor and crime. For the boys there is a way of escape; there is none for the girls. Georgia must establish an industrial training school for wayward girls. Those having homes are worse than homeless, and having parents are more to be pitied than orphans.

Look Before You Leap.

(From Dawson County Advertiser.)

A lady in adjoining town spied what she supposed to be her pet kitten in the cistern making a terrible ado. Her love for the pet made her determined to rescue it at all hazards. She applied a rake but all to no use, so she jumped when the water came up to her neck. Shortly after her husband arrived, fished her out and discovered the kitten on the roof while its shadow was reflected in the water.

Evading Contempt of Court.

(From Rossville New Age.)

We are told that there's a criminal court judge whose territory of jurisdiction is not far away who dismisses grandjurymen at will who do not find indictments to his liking. We are further informed that this same court sometimes fixes sentences of startling insignificance for grave offenses taking the case from the hands of the trial jury. We don't know. We don't know. We must confess that we have never heard of such things as these being done only in this particular territory. Any further attempts of this sort of procedure, it looks to us, should be promptly and effectively questioned.

The "Sob Artists."

(From Dalton Citizen.)

The Atlanta Constitution is making war on the "sob artists." It is right. All this gush going out to sensational yellows about Georgia is enough to disgust people in all sections of the country. Georgia is no better or worse than other sections of the great United States. The same evils are existent in all the states that exist in Georgia. But the "sob artists" must earn their salaries, and they had as soon slander Georgia, so long as it pays, as any other state in the union. After awhile we shall have a rest, while other states are getting "theirs."

A Story of the Moment

By WALT MASON

The Famous Prose Poet

Giving Prizes

(Copyright, 1913, for The Constitution.)

"Dwiggins, the grocer, has placed a jar of beans in his show window, and is going to give a $5 gold piece to the boy or girl who guesses the correct number of beans," remarked the druggist.

"Dwiggins hasn't sense enough to come out of the rain," said the village patriarch. "The man who gives prizes that way needs a guardian. Of course, Dwiggins thinks he will attract customers and increase his unpopularity by his idiotic scheme, but it will do the opposite thing. The body or girl who wins the counterfeit coin will naturally be pleased, but all the others will be as sore as political aigo rans, and the soreness will extend to their parents and their sisters and cousins and aunts. All these people will insist that it was a put up job, a foul conspiracy to humiliate them, and they'll boycott the Dwiggins grocery and Dwiggins himself will be ostracised. You can't give away a prize without making a lot of people as mad as molstened hens.

"We used to have a first rate county fair here some years ago. It attracted big crowds every fall, and it really was worth while to see the succulent pumpkins and things displayed there. But after two or three successful years it began to lose its grip. It seemed to have dry rot. I was one of the directors, and I argued time and again that the system of giving prizes would have to be abolished. A lot of exhibitors went away sore every fall, and never came back again. A farmer would bring his beautiful early Ohio colt and feel quite sure that he'd draw the first prize, for he knew beyond a peradventure that his colt was the smoothest critter in the state. Then the judges would come snooping around looking at the live stock, and they'd hand the first prize to some other fellow's colt, and that farmer would go home so ripping mad his language would scare all the birds out of the trees. He didn't want any more county fairs in his; worse than that, he made a black list of all the judges and officers of the fair, and he'd never buy another nickel's worth from any of them as long as he lived.

"It was the same way with the women. In those days most of the butter came from the farms, and every farmer's wife believed she was the best buttermaker in seven states. There were fifty women in this county who imagined they were peerless leaders in this line of industry. They used to bring their large yellow rolls of butter to the fair, and every last woman of them was dead sure she'd get the blue ribbon and the silver butter knife which had been offered as a special premium by the Elite hardware store. Then the judges would get in their deadly work, and the chances were that the first prize would go to some unworthy female, while the best buttermaker in the bunch wouldn't even get honorable mention. I tell you, my friends, it was enough to make a man's blood turn to water in his veins to see those women leaving the fair grounds with their noses in the air, and the lust of battle in their eyes.

"It was the same way all along the line, and so finally the fair went out of business, and a lot of people still are wondering why. The county fair is almost extinct throughout the country, and people continue to wonder why, when the reason is right in front of them, bigger than a cathedral. Before a fair can be successfully conducted and made a living issue some scheme will have to be devised for rewarding all exhibitors and sending everybody away in a good humor.

"When I was in the feed business I got in a new kind of condition powder, and thought it a great scheme to boost it. I had thirty horse owners begin feeding the powder on the same day, and agreed to give a gold headed cane to the man whose horse showed the greatest improvement at the end of thirty days. Well, at the appointed time I gave the prize to the man whose horse looked best to me, and he said he could buy a better cane for 75 cents at the Racket store, and the other twenty-nine said I had worked a confidence game on them, and I'd never see another nickel of theirs as long as they lived, and I never did. One of them had me arrested a few days later, saying my condition powder had killed his horse, and another threw bricks through the windows of my store. If you haven't enough trouble, just give away prizes, and you'll have plenty."

The Universal Menace.

The housefly causes 100,000 deaths a year and a property damage of $12,000,000. The fly travels only 1,500 feet and delights in a liquid diet. When he finds something that he likes better than his latest meal he disgorges.

One pair of flies beginning in May will breed 142,675 bushels by September. The time will come when it will be considered more disgraceful to have flies in our homes than it is now to have bedbugs.

If flies were as large as cows we would not have one in the land. Unfortunately our indifference to their disease breeding activities is as large as the pests themselves are small.

The extermination of the fly will follow the observing of the old rule that cleanliness is next to godliness.

BREEN "PLANTED" LOT OF DYNAMITE AMONG STRIKERS

Witness Swears He Was Hired to Do the Job by Ateaux, Who Is Co-Defendant With President Wood.

BREEN WAS PAID $700 FOR WORK OF PLANTING

Sensational Evidence at Trial of Wool Trust Chief Showing Conspiracy to Get Lawrence Strikers Into Trouble.

Boston, May 21.—Something of what went on behind the scenes in the city of Lawrence during the great textile strike of 1912 was revealed today at the dynamite conspiracy trial of President William M. Wood, of the American Woolen company; Frederick E. Ateeaux and Dennis I. Collins, by John J. Breen, convicted and confessed "planter" of dynamite.

Breen's story of his activity on behalf both of strikers and mill owners culminated in a declaration that he had refused to accept $7,000 from Ateaux's attorney, Daniel H. Coakley, the lawyer who was cross-examining him.

Testimony previously introduced was that eight persons who had been arrested when dynamite was found in buildings occupied by them at Lawrence had later brought damage suits against Breen who had "planted" the explosive.

Breen testified that he had gone to Ateaux to get $12,000 after his own law had told him that all the suits could be settled for $12,000. He denied knew the damage suits could be settled at a lower figure when he was endeavoring to induce Ateaux to pay him $12,000. Breen finally said that he had refused an offer of $7,000 from Coakley himself because he would not agree to the terms. Asked by Coakley what the terms were, Breen replied:

"You told me to put most of it in my pocket and settle with the poor slobs as cheap as I could. I did not want that kind of money and rejected the offer."

Engaged to Plant Dynamite.

Breen said Ateaux had engaged him to plant the dynamite and had arranged with Ernest R. Pittman, the Andover builder who committed suicide when the grand jury began investigation of the alleged conspiracy, to furnish the explosive.

Mr. Wood's name was mentioned only once and that was when Breen said he asked Ateaux if the mill president knew anything about the matter and Ateaux replied that he did not.

Of the five persons who have figured prominently in the alleged conspiracy only two are on trial. Breen was convicted last May; Pitman took his own life, and Collins turned state's evidence yesterday, although in his testimony he implicated neither Wood nor Ateaux. His story of the part he played in the affair related wholly to his associations with Breen. Breen told in detail today of his acquaintance with Ateaux and said that at the witness' suggestion that the strikers be fought with their own weapons, Ateaux had engaged him to "plant" the dynamite, paying him $700 in two installments. He described his movements on January 19 and 20, when the dynamite was hidden, his story, in the main, corroborating the testimony already given by Collins.

Breen's activities in connection with the strike were due, he said, to pride in his city and a desire to benefit the operatives.

He Couldn' Recall

Under cross-examination this witness could not recall whether or not he had said that his father's estate owned $20,000 worth of American Woolen company stock, but admitted that if he had made such a statement, it was untrue.

The cross-examination of Breen will be continued tomorrow.

Ateaux, the witness said, gave him $500 before the dynamite was placed, and made a second payment of $200 some time later.

Breen testified he said to Ateaux "If I were fighting those fellows (meaning the strikers), I'd fight them by their own methods."

Ateaux, he said, asked him if he meant dynamite and he replied "dynamite or anything else."

Ernest Pittman, of Andover, a builder, who committed suicide when the grand jury began its investigation, was named by Breen as the person who delivered the dynamite to Breen and to Dennis J. Collins, the third defendant, who yesterday turned state's evidence.

He Denies Conspiracy.

On cross-examination witness said he had never conspired with Wood, Ateaux or Pittman to injure any person or property.

Breen said that he had a conversation with Ateaux after the dynamite had been placed. "I asked him," said the witness, "if Mr. Wood knew anything about the matter and he said that he did not."

Breen, who was a member of the Lawrence school committee, when the dynamite was found, was fined $50 in the Essex county court several months ago upon conviction of unlawfully hiding the explosive.

Testimony that Breen had paid him $50 for "planting" the dynamite was given yesterday by Dennis J. Collins a co-defendant with Wood and Ateaux, who turned state's evidence. His testimony did not connect either Wood or Atteaux with the alleged conspiracy.

Breen said he knew both Collins and Atteaux. In January, 1912, the month of the textile strike, he met Ateaux at the latter's office in response to a telephone request. This was a few days before the dynamite episode. The call lasted two hours, the witness said, and the conversation was in regard to the Lawrence strike.

"Atteaux said he was glad to see I was interested in keeping the strikers' element quiet," said Breen.

"The next time I saw him was on January 19. I went to report the conditions of things to him. The conversation was about strike conditions. I said affairs at the mills were getting pretty hot. I added, 'If I was fighting those fellows, I'd fight them by their own methods.' 'What do you mean?' he said, 'dynamite?' 'Dynamite or anything else,' I said."

Getting the Dynamite.

"'Could you get some dynamite?' said he. I said 'No.' Then he suggested that perhaps Mr. Pittman might get some."

The Pittman mentioned by the witness was Ernest R. Pittman, a builder, with whom the state alleges Wood, Ateaux and Collins conspired. Pittman committed suicide on the day he was subpoenaed to appear as a witness before the grand jury, which was investigating the alleged dynamite plot.

Ateaux telephoned to Pittman, Breen continued, and an hour later Pittman arrived at Ateaux's office.

"Ateaux said, 'Excuse us, John' and he took Pittman into the corridor," said the witness. "Pittman returned in about three minutes and said to me, 'Do you think you can do this business?' and I said 'Yes, sir.' I am not sure now that Ateaux was present at the time.

"Pittman said to me, 'I'll get some. Where can I telephone you?' I told him.

"Ateaux came in after Pittman left and said to me, 'Well, you can't do this for nothing.' I said, 'No, I will have to hire some one to help me.'

"'How much do you need?' he asked. 'Will $500 be enough?'

"I told him that would be enough. Ateaux then asked me about the police and I told him that Inspector Rooney was a friend of mine, and would never suspect me when I gave him the tip about the dynamite."

Breen told of asking Collins to go to Lawrence with him. Later he met Ateaux at a street corner. Ateaux said: "Follow me, John."

"I followed him," continued Breen, "and he dropped a package. As I picked it up, he said 'don't say I never gave you anything.' The package contained $50."

Breen made a second trip to the street corner, this time with Collins.

"I stood on the corner," said the witness, "until Pittman came up. He took me down the street and introduced me to a Mr. Rice. 'Mr. Rice has the package, for you,'" he said.

"I took the bundle and said to Mr. Rice, 'what danger is there with this?' He said, 'none; it's frozen solid.' I carried the bundle up to the corner where Collins was waiting. I said, 'here's the dynamite. Be careful, even if Mr. Rice does say there is no danger.'"

Breen said that he and Collins went to Lawrence and to Breen's room. Here Collins opened the bundle and made smaller packages of the contents. On the stand yesterday Collins, who has turned state's evidence, gave a similar version of the disposition of the dynamite in Breen's rooms, but denied that he knew the package contained dynamite. He said Breen told him only that it was "juice."

Going to Plant Dynamite.

Breen saw the dynamite sticks made up in small bundles.

"Collins knew what I was going to do," said the witness, because I had told him that we were going to place dynamite around Lawrence."

Collins put the bundles in a suit case and they entered a sleigh. "One bundle" said the witness, "was left at Assafs (the tailorshop of a Syrian,) where we went to 76 A. Lawrence street, where I told him to put a bundle in an Italian printing shop. The place was closed and no dynamite was left there."

The reason Breen selected the printing shop was because it was in the center of a district where the strikers and police had had frequent clashes, he said.

He said dynamite was left in St. Mary's cemetery, but denied that he told Collins to put the explosive near the Arlington mill.

The witness then telephoned Inspector Rooney of the Lawrence police that he had located two places where dynamite was hidden.

Breen testified that he met Ateaux in April and told him he needed more money, his expenses having been heavy. No sum was mentioned by either man, but a few days later Breen received by special delivery an envelope containing four fifty dollar bills. This was delivered to him at his office in Lawrence.

Wanted To Do Harm.

Breen admitted that up to and including January 18, he was worried lest the dynamite in the city yard would do some harm, but his attitude changed on January 19, and he was anxious to place the explosive where it was likely to cause more damage than it could in the city yard.

Asked about his activities during the Lawrence strike, Breen said that he went among the foreigners endeavoring to keep them quiet and advised them not to commit violence.

It was because of his pride in his city that he showed so great activity in behalf of industrial peace. He said that Ateaux did not remember telling State Officer Flynn that his mother would be ruined if the strike continued. He might have told some people that his father's estate held $20,000 in American Woolen company stock, but this also was untrue.

He was unable to tell of any specific payments made by him from the money he claimed to have received from Ateaux, with the exception of the $50 that was given to Collins and the carfares between Boston and Lawrence. He said he ha ddisbursed between $200 and $3,000, but he kept no account of his expenditures, though he understood that Ateaux was to reimburse him. Breen said he had been sued by the persons arrested in Lawrence as the result of the dynamite planting, but later he learned that possibly a settlement might be made for $7,000.

Cross-examination of Breen will be continued tomorrow.

8-HOUR LAW BLAMED FOR POSTAL DELAYS

Measure Partly Responsible for Congestion—Burleson Working to Correct Evils.

By John Corrigan, Jr.

Washington, May 21.—According to the postoffice department officials several factors contribute to the prevailing unsatisfactory conditions in the postal service, which have been the cause of such widespread complaint. Delays in mail matter especially from all the large cities of the country have led to an investigation.

Chief among the factors responsible was too much attention to economy and too little regard for efficiency on the part of the last administration of the postoffice department; the application of the recent eight-hour law as to postal clerks and carriers and the rapidly increasing business of the parcel post service.

Because of these complaints from the larger cities of the east, north and south, Postmaster General Burleson recently issued an order directing that until further notice the backstamping of letters be discontinued except on registered and special delivery mail. This prompt step on the part of the postmaster general, it is believed by the department, will go a long way toward relieving the situation and congestion in the mail service, which the department inherited as a legacy growing out of Mr. Hitchcock's economies, the new parcel post business and the eight-hour law.

Eight-Hour Law Blamed.

The postoffice department officials claim that the application of the eight-hour law is partly responsible for the confusion and demoralization of the postal service in the bigger cities. When Former Postmaster General Hitchcock adopted his policy of cutting down expenses regardless of the effect of the service the working forces of all the big offices were reduced to meet his economy program, and with these limited forces—not allowed under the law now, no matter what the conditions—to work over eight hours per day, and with a growing business like the parcel post creating conditions which no one could foresee, it is not surprising that more or less confusion should arise.

Second Assistante Postmaster General Stewart, who has charge of the transportation service of the department, regarded as one of the most efficient men of the services, blames a large part of the delays on the operation of the eight-hour law. He opposed the eight-hour law in the form it now is, but he favored overtime pay for the employees. His reason for this is that the postoffice officials have no recourse from the operations of this law under any circumstances—the willingness of the employes themselves to help out in a pinch makes no difference. If there comes an unexpected flood of mail matter into one of the postoffices, as there frequently does, its delivery must wait upon the observance of this restrictive regulation of the service.

Extra Pay For Extra Work.

On the other hand, if the employees willing to work extra hours, on occasion when necessary, were permitted to do so, receiving extra compensation therefor, much of the delay and congestion now experienced could have been avoided.

The postmaster general has made ar urgent appeal to Senator Martin, chairman of the appropriation committee of the senate, for early action on the deficiency bill. This bill carries $600,000 for the immediate use of the postoffice department to be used in meeting the conditions which have been imposed in part by the eight-hour law, which congress neglected to provide for when they placed that provision in the last appropriation bill.

It is believed that if the postal service is to make a record for efficiency, which is the earnest wish of the postmaster general, that congress will not only have to change the irksome form of the eight-hour law, but will also have to make provisions that will enable the department to meet the rapid growth and expansion of the parcel post, as it comes, without confusion and delay.

When Postmaster General Burleson gets his $600,000, it cannot afford more than temporary relief and a guarantee that conditions will get no worse for the present. The theory of those who made up the demand for appropriations for 1913 was that the parcel post could be handled by the department without any increase in expenses, and that the eight-hour law limiting the hours of carriers and clerks would not add any extra burden on the department.

The Parcel Post.

The parcel post has developed faster than even its strongest advocates believed it would, and the department has struggled faithfully to make the good service keep pace with its growth. It is a great income producer, and there are many who believe that the government ought to put its postoffices' expenses on a basis which would allow for the cost of handling this new feature of the mails.

Theoretically, the department has always recognized the right of the man in the country to get his city newspaper promptly, and, theoretically, newspapers sent by mail are supposed to have preferential treatment. Actually the burden upon mail handlers imposed by the parcel post is such that they cannot give newspaper mail the treatment it is supposed to have. The strain on the clerks is so great that something has to give, and, because the newspaper mail is something they have been used to handling, the are making that class of mail yield to the parcel post.

Belgian Strike Costly.

Brussels, Belgium, May 21.—The state railways of Belgium sustained a net loss of $1,000,000 from the ten days' strike for equal suffrage in April. The port of Antwerp lost 350,000 tons of trade in April as compared with the same period last year, and 78 fewer vessels called during the strike.

For Woman Suffrage.

Springfield, Ill., May 21.—The woman suffrage bill granting votes to women for all statutory offices in Illinois, was reported favorably to the Illinois house of representatives today and advanced to second reading. The measure already has passed the senate. Its advocates believe it will have equal success in the house.

Gas Men Select Dallas.

Cleveland, Ohio, May 21.—Prominent among the discussions and reports at today's session of the annual convention of the Natural Gas Association of America was an address on "The Future of Gas Lighting," by R. F. Pierce, of Gloucester, N. J. Next year's convention probably will be held at Dallas, Texas.

O'HARA IS GUILTLESS; HIS ACCUSERS BLAMED

Springfield, Ill., May 21.—Lieutenant Governor O'Hara was exonerated from blame and Miss Maude Robinson and Sam Davis, of Springfield, were charged with attempting to obstruct the work of the senate white slave commission, by the report of the special senatorial commission appointed to investigate charges of immorality against O'Hara which today reported its finding.

The committee concludes its report in part as follows:

"Your committee finds that said Sam Davis, one of said witnesses, procured said Maude Alberta Robinson to sign and swear to said affidavit which was skilfully framed and adroitly designed to convey the impression that Barrett O'Hara, president of the senate, who is chairman of said committee, had been guilty of improper conduct with said Maude Robinson; that this affidavit was procured by Davis with the idea of using it to hamper said commission in its investigation of vice conditions in Springfield, and that Davis was moved to do this by what he regarded as unfair and abusive methods in the examination of certain witnesses."

The report was unanimously adopted on a viva voce vote.

COL. SIBERT PUSHED TO SUCCEED BIXBY

Washington, May 21.—The contest for the apointment of a successor to General W. H. Bixby, chief of engineers, when he retires next December, began today, when Senators Ransdell, of Louisiana, and Johnston, of Alabama, and speakers of the house from those two states urged the president to promote Lieutenant Colonel William L. Sibert.

They declared that Colonel Sibert, as engineer in charge of the Atlantic division of the Panama canal, and builder of the Gatun dam, had merited the appointment. The delegation also will call on the secretary of war tomorrow.

BILL WILL LEGALIZE SUSPENDING SENTENCE

Senator Tarver Believes Measure Will Be Great Aid in Reforming Criminals.

Senator M. C. Tarver, of Whitefield, who is going to introduce in the assembly the bill to legalize suspension of sentence and provide probation officers, has given out an interview on the subject which will be of interest to all Georgians.

Senator Tarver says:

"I am convinced that this measure, if passed, will work a reform in the administration of our penal statutes, second only in value to that accomplished by the convict lease system.

"I have never been able to agree fully with those who insist that the primary object for punishment of crime is the reformation of the criminal. I believe that where punishment alone will serve as a deterrent for crime that it should be administered not only with the welfare of the violator of the law in view, but in such a manner and with such certainty as to deter others from the commission of like offenses. However, beyond everything else, the reduction, or, if humanly possible, the elimination of crime is the principal goal for which all law-abiding citizens are striving.

"The fourteenth annual report of the prison commission for the year ending May, 1911, presents some facts which are startling in the extreme.

"Of 2,668 penitentiary convicts on June 1, 1911, 1,304 were between the ages of 20 and 29 years—practically 50 per cent. It is hard to believe that out of this large number, practically all young men, nearly all first offenders, the judges of the courts of the state could not have found hundreds who might have been reclaimed by being given, under the guardianship of the law, another chance. Punishment, no less certain because deferred, held over them; but with a chance not only to avoid it but as well, under the care and with the assistance of a conscientious probation officer, to establish themselves upon a basis of self-respect and of good citizenship.

"Some of the judges of this state already make use of the plan of suspending sentences during good behavior in cases where they believe it will be effective, and I have yet to hear of one who has failed to get good results. That the legislature will at the next session provide authority of law for this practice I have no doubt."

FEARED FOR HER LIFE

Mrs. Eva Mae Peacock Enters Suit for Divorce.

Claiming as one basis for divorce that her husband would frequently lock her up in a room and look into her face in a wild and desperate manner and that he more than once threatened her life with a pistol after the same disturbing gaze had been directed upon her, Mrs. Eva Mae Peacock entered suit for divorce in superior court yesterday against Joseph Dodge Peacock, of 376 McDaniel street, who she says is possessed of about $10,000 worth of worldly goods.

Mrs. Peacock states that she was married in December, 1905, and that on September 22, 1911, she refused to live longer with her husband, who, she intimates, cared more for his grocery store and butcher shop than he did for her.

In her petition filed by Attorneys J. W. and D. D. Humphries she asks for a total divorce, the return of her maiden name of Stanford and temporary and permanent alimony, as well as attorneys' fees. She declares that she has no property, but that Peacock owns a house and lot at 117 Arthur street worth $1,500, two lots on the car line on DeKalb street, and a grocery and meat shop at 376 McDaniel, all of which property she values at from $7,500 to $10,000.

Fact.

It is a fact, and I dare say
That you will nd i too:
Some men owe all that they can pay,
And some pay all they owe.

TRAIN WENT TUMBLING DOWN MOUNTAIN SIDE

Hinton, W. Va., May 21.—The wrecking of a train between Sewell and Landisburg last night caused four deaths and four persons were hurt. Caught by a landslide from the mountains caused by a cloudburst, the train was swept from the tracks and thrown 400 feet down the mountain side. The accident occurred on a narrow gauge railroad owned by a Pittsburg lumber and coal company and not a branch of the Chesapeake and Ohio railroad as previously reported.

The correct list of the dead follows: James V. Walker, salesman, Hinton, W. Va.

Alvin Grimes, salesman, of Kents Store, Va.

Robert Young, Sutton, W. Va.

Three-year-old child of Mrs. Sellers, of Thurmond, W. Va.

When the landslide overwhelmed the train, composed of an engine, three freight cars and a caboose the latter used for passengers, it went tumbling down the steep mountain side. Mrs. Sellers, trapped in the caboose with others, made the horrible flight. Her clothing was stripped from her body, but she sustained only slight injuries although her 3-year-old child was killed. J. Muckles, of Charleston, W. Va., and Charles Walters, of Fayetteville, W. Va., were seriously hurt.

Apollo Club.

The Apollo club, composed of the juvenile membership of Miss Alice Cox's piano class, was at home to their friends Tuesday afternoon, and the following young people took part in a program of music, which followed the business meeting:

Miss Martha Miller, Miss Sarah Duncan, Miss Anna Harriet Shewmake, Miss Laurie Cone, Miss Eleanor Arden, Miss Rose Eichberg, Miss Virginia Cone, Miss Mary Bardwell, Miss Martha Fort, Miss Lucy Higgs.

Besides those on the program Misses Frances Higgs and Louise Inman were represented in the interesting exhibit of music writings books.

A guest of honor on the occasion was little Miss Rolfne Trimble, of East Point, a pupil of Miss Sallie Slakety.

At the end of the regular program Miss Cox played Liszt's El Major "Polonaise" with skill and artistic effect. The guests remained for a social hour and punch was served by Miss Elva Crenshaw.

Miss King's Tea.

Miss Carolyn King's afternoon tea yesterday was one of the prettiest of the early summer entertainments, and 100 young ladies and young men were assembled to meet Miss King's attractive guest, Miss Elizabeth Boyd, of Nashville.

The reception rooms had artistic decorations in Paul Neyron roses, and that most effective of the season's flowers—pink ramblers. Punch was served in the inviting sun parlor, and there the Dorothy Perkins' roses were used again.

In the dining room the table centerpiece was a plateau of pink and lavender sweet peas, with a border of small vases filled with the same flowers. The candles in silver candlesticks were unshaded, and pretty detail of color was pink and lavender.

Miss King wore a charming white gown of shadow lace and net, and Miss Boyd wore white shadow lace draped with pale green chiffon.

Among the visiting young women calling were Miss Mary Gaut, of Nashville, the guest of Miss Andrew Calhoun; Miss Carr and Miss Scott, guests of Mrs. Bates Block, and Mrs. James Hook Spratling, of Macon, the guest of Mrs. Roy Collier.

The Country Fair.

The St. Elizabeth's Guild of St. Luke's church will give an old-fashioned country fair Friday, May 23, on the lawns of Mrs. Pardee and Mrs. Traylor, 19 Ponce de Leon.

Mrs. David Morgan and Mrs. Allan Whitaker have charge of a housekeepers' booth, where preserves, jellies and household supplies can be found. Mrs. John Slaton has charge of the flowers and fresh vegetables. The Misses Allinger have charge of a candy booth. Delicious sandwiches, chicken salad and iced tea will be sold. In the afternoon amusements for the little folks will be provided and in the evening an art gallery and an old-fashioned quartet will be the features. Ten cents admission will be charged and a good time is sure to be had.

Five O'Clock Tea.

Mrs. William Yeandle entertained delightfully at a 5 o'clock tea on Tuesday afternoon, inviting a few friends to meet Mr. and Mrs. Helsenbuti, of Buffalo, who are in attendance at the Presbyterian convention.

Music was an enjoyable feature of the occasion, Mr. Helsenbuti, who is prominent in choir work in Buffalo, as a recreation from his business life, contributing a bright part to an impromptu program.

Afternoon Bridge Party.

Miss Isabell Wilson and Miss Ethel Wilson will entertain informally at bridge this afternoon at their home on Currier street, in compliment to Mrs. Harvey Burt Wheeler, of Birmingham, the guest of Miss Hennie Franklin.

Gilder-Johnson.

An announcement of interest to a large attendance in Atlanta was made at a handsome luncheon recently in Newberry, S. C.

Mrs. L. W. Floyd was the hostess, and she entertained in honor of Miss Bess Gilder, one of the loveliest young women in Newberry, whose engagement to Mr. Oliver Harris Johnson, of Atlanta, was announced.

Ten of Miss Gilder's friends were invited and an elaborate and beautiful hospitality was extended them.

The marriage will take place June 12, and a group of Mr. Johnson's friends will accompany him to Newberry for the wedding. He is connected with the Parian Paint company and has a cordial acquaintance to congratulate him. His bride-to-be is a charming and accomplished young woman, her education completed by several years' study in New York.

Psychological.

The Woman's Psychological society meets Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock in the lecture room of Carnegie library. Mrs. Rose M. Ashby, president, will give a lecture on "Overcoming the Obstacles That Beset Our Path." There will be questions and answers on psychological questions. These meetings are interesting and instructive. All members are urged to be present. Visitors are welcome.

House Warming.

A delightful Tuesday night was the house-warming at which Mr. and Mrs. James D. Palmer were hosts at their pretty new home in Ansley Park. Their guests were their family connection, and the evening was one of informal enjoyment.

Cooking School.

The following menu will be given at the cooking school being held in the Sunday school room at Sacred Heart church:

Thursday—Corn muffins, flour muffins, spoon bread and corn meal soufflé.

Johnson-Birdsong.

West Point, Ga., May 21.—(Special.) Friends of Miss Annie Mae Johnson were surprised when they learned tonight of her marriage to Mr. Hudson Birdsong, in LaGrange on May 11.

To Pioneer Women.

A charming company of Atlanta's most representative women, the members of the Pioneer Women's society, were the guests of Mrs. Frank P. Rice yesterday at an afternoon tea, and the occasion was a delightful one.

Mrs. Rice was assisted in receiving by the officers—Mrs. Joseph Morgan, Mrs. Anthony Murphy, Mrs. Sid Holland and Mrs. Joseph Wusthoff—and in their elegant reception gowns they made a beautiful picture against a background of palms and red rambler roses, while the atmosphere of the whole occasion was that which comes of brocades and old lace, silver hair and stately manners.

An impromptu feature of much enjoyment was music by Mrs. William D. Grant and recitations by Mrs. Robert Blackburn. Mrs. Grant, who prides herself on the number of years she is young, played on the piano the drawing room music played by the belles of sixty years ago and illuminated its measures by her own gracious gayety, while Mrs. Blackburn set some of the dialect interpretations which make part of her popularity with the society.

A delightful hospitality was expressed by Mrs. Rice, assisted by her daughter, Mrs. Charles Rice, and her granddaughters, Misses Annie Sykes, Georgia and Mary Rice.

The hall and reception rooms had elaborate decoration in red rambler roses, hollyhocks and sweet peas, and in the dining room the tea table was picturesque in pink, its centerpiece of Dorothy Perkins' roses.

A pretty touch of sentiment lay in the cluster of "heart leaves" sent by one of the ladies of the society, Mrs. J. N. Bateman, who was unable to be present, but expressed in this manner where her heart was, and the leaves were distributed among the guests. They came from her sister's garden, Mrs. Jennings, who is another pioneer.

Another date on the social calendar of the society which the members are looking forward to will be a picnic on Wednesday, June 4, at the hospitable home of Mrs. V. P. Sisson, in Kirkwood.

Lecture Postponed.

Mrs. George B. Hinman, who has given a delightful series of talks on art on Thursday evenings for several weeks, will not lecture this evening.

St. Anthony's Lunch Room.

St. Anthony's Lunch Room, 75 Peachtree street—Thursday's menu: Salads—Potato, chicken, cucumber. Sandwiches—Ham, tomato, pimento. Special—Sliced tomatoes, with Mayonnaise; sliced ham, with chow chow; stuffed peppers, hot rolls. Desserts—Ice cream and cake, strawberry shortcake, gelatin and whipped cream. Drinks—Hot coffee, hot tea, iced tea, Crystal Mint gingerale. Friday and Saturday Mrs. J. P. Allen will hold a cake sale in connection with the lunch room. Friday afternoon and evening there will be an entertainment at the new K. of C. hall for the benefit of the lunch room fund. For particulars, phone Ivy 7216.

Y. W. C. A. Rest Room.

Summer quarters have been established by the Young Women's Christian association in the Wesley Memorial building, fourth floor.

The rest room will be there and the office of the acting secretary, Miss Georgia Downing. Her office hours are from 9:30 to 4:30, and her Bell phone, Ivy 7450.

This announcement will be a gratifying one, the provision of a rest room under the best auspices being most valuable to women or girls who must remain all day downtown, or to visitors in the city.

Mrs. Arnold's Bridge Party.

Mrs. Howard Arnold entertained at bridge yesterday afternoon at her home in West End, in compliment to her guest, Miss Emma Gray, of Savannah. The house was attractively decorated with garden roses, and the prizes were silk stockings, a deck of cards and hand embroidered handkerchiefs. Mrs. Arnold was gowned in blue embroidered mull, and Miss Gray wore white crepe combined with fillet lace. Sixteen guests enjoyed the game.

Third Ward Club.

The Woman's Civic club, of the Third ward, will give a delightful entertainment at the Woman's Club building on Baker street Thursday evening, May 22.

Miss Bernice Horton will give a number of dramatic readings. Miss Annie Laurie Langford, a long-time Atlanta favorite, will sing "The Aria," from "Madam Butterfly." Mrs. Nelms will play the overture and accompaniments.

For Mrs. Seydel.

Mrs. Paul Seydel, of New York, who is visiting her parents, Dr. and Mrs. Vassar Woolley, was the guest of honor at an informal tea given yesterday afternoon at the Driving club by Mrs. W. D. Ellis, Jr. The guests included friends of Mrs. Seydel.

For Mrs. Varden.

Mrs. D. B. Osborne will entertain at bridge Friday afternoon at her home on Piedmont avenue, in compliment to Mrs. George K. Varden.

To Visitors.

Miss Frances Connally will entertain at 5 o'clock tea Friday, in compliment to Miss Carolyn King's guest, Miss Elizabeth Boyd, of Nashville, and Mrs. Frank Pearson's guest, Miss Bowron, of Birmingham.

MEETINGS.

The Atlanta Chapter, U. D. C., will hold its regular meeting Thursday afternoon at 3:30 in the Women's club rooms. The meeting is an important one, as annual reports of officers and of chairmen of committees will be received.

Executive board will meet at 3 o'clock.

SHOWERS ARE DUE TO FALL THURSDAY

Throughout the entire state local showers are due to fall today and for several days longer, and after that, according to present atmospheric indications, there will be a spell of fair weather.

Practically the same temperature condition are forecast, and the mercury, which climbed to 82 degrees on Wednesday, will hover around the same point at noon today.

One result of the showers of early Wednesday morning was that the temperature at 7 o'clock in the morning was decidedly cooler than it had been for several days. At that hour the thermometer registered 66 degrees, while on the same hour of the previous day the temperature had been as high as 72.

PYTHIANS TO KEEP AGE LIMIT OF 21

Grand Lodge Rank Conferred on Class of Over Two Hundred at Meeting in Waycross.

Waycross, Ga., May 21.—(Special.)—By an overwhelming vote the grand lodge this afternoon voted against the proposed amendment to the constitution of the Knights of Pythias providing for reducing the age limit from 21 to 18. The amendment was lost after a heated debate that lasted all the afternoon.

The grand lodge rank was conferred on a class of over 200 today, the largest class ever known at a state convention of the Pythians.

The contest for supreme representative has become much more interesting with the advent of other candidates. Those seeking the places are: C. T. H. Nickerson of Athens, F. M. Somnerkamp of Columbus, C. M. Milan of Cartersville, D. J. Bailey of Griffin, and B. D. Brantley of Blackshear. The first two named are now representatives. It is said that Brantley stands a good chance of winning.

Interesting Contest.

While it is admitted that the contest between W. H. Leopold, of Savannah, and W. H. Brannon, of Talbotton, for grand keeper of records and seal, will be interesting, it is understood that the Savannah candidate has sufficient backing to win. It is expected that a warm fight will develop tomorrow when an effort is made to designate Macon as the permanent meeting place for the grand lodge. This motion will be among early ones introduced, and, while there is a lot of support to the move, there is also considerable opposition.

Grand Chancellor W. J. Sears, of the Florida grand lodge, is attending the convention. Supreme Chancellor T. J. Carling will be here tomorrow, making the Waycross convention one of unusual importance.

The Pythian sisters will hold a memorial service tomorrow for the deceased members of the grand temple. Six companies of the uniform rank, four from Savannah, one from Atlanta and one from Augusta, will participate in the prize drill tomorrow afternoon. Tonight the feature of the convention, the "Dokey" parade, attracted thousands, headed by the famous company band of Savannah, and with thirty-five candidates participating, hundreds of Knights being in the line, the parade through the main section of the city won continuous cheers. A funnier sight has never been seen in Waycross.

Report of Chancellor.

That Pythianism has made great strides in Georgia during the past year is told by the annual reports of the officers of the grand lodge, submitted today. Of special interest is the report of Grand Chancellor James W. Austin, of Atlanta. He states at the outset that when he was elected grand chancellor he found it necessary to be surgeon in ordinary to the grand lodge, cutting off the apparently dead limbs that seemed to be in a state of "suspended animation." He reports the suspension of eighteen lodges during the year, those suspended being C. C. Brown Lodge, No. 222, Attapulgus; Faceville, No. 225, Faceville; Fitzhugh Lee Lodge, No. 194, Kirkland; Golden City Lodge, No. 119, Villa Rica; Albany Lodge, No. 30, Albany; LaGrange Lodge, No. 79, LaGrange; Plains Lodge, No. 127, Plains; Richland Lodge, No. 129, Richland; Constantine Lodge, No. 130, Butler; Spring Creek Lodge, No. 125, Brinson; Vienna Lodge, No. 136, Vienna; Sincerity Lodge, No. 141, Nashville; Hogansville Lodge, No. 161, Hogansville; Blockley Lodge, No. 185, Toccoa; Prohawk Lodge, No. 219, Tate; Royston Lodge, No. 223, Royston; Hancock Lodge, No. 246, Sparta; Milltown Lodge, No. 249, Milltown.

Grand Chancellor Austin, in his report, makes an earnest plea for increased cost of initiation, stating that it has been his experience that men prize that which is most difficult to obtain, and pointing out to the lodge the advantages of an increase over the present price of admission.

The work of the uniform rank, Knights of Pythias, and the insurance department, are commended and he urges that the Knights give their hearty support to the Dramatic Order, Knights of Khorassan. Among the quotations from the report of the supreme keeper of records and seal in the grand chancellor's report, is one that shows 7,716 lodges, with 715,000 members throughout the supreme domain.

One of his suggestions that was received with a great deal of interest and is the subject of much talk, is that with reference to a change in the method of electing grand lodge officers. He thinks the present way of electing officers in the grand lodge convention should be discontinued and a method in use in Ohio, by which subordinate lodges, after certain preliminaries have been complied with, vote for the grand lodge officers. He suggests that in view of the work done by the state deputy grand chancellor the office of district deputy grand chancellor be abolished.

MRS. FRANCIS TEDDER TRIED FOR ROBBERY

Macon, Ga., May 21.—(Special.)—Mrs. Francis Tedder, an Atlanta woman, who was arrested here several months ago charged with robbing her friend, Marvin Kersey, also said to be of Atlanta, of $175 while the latter was in an intoxicated condition, will go to trial in the superior court tomorrow.

The jury was drawn this afternoon. Mrs. Tedder has employed John R. Cooper and Robert Barnes to defend her.

GIRLS ARE GRADUATED

In Gowns Fashioned by Own Fair Fingers.

Tifton, Ga., May 21.—(Special.)—The prettiest gowned sweet girl graduates in the south today were the seven girls in the graduating class of the Second District Agricultural and Mechanical school this morning—because the dresses they wore had been fashioned by their own fair fingers. Each of the girls were also graduates of the domestic science department and had been taught dressmaking as well as practical housekeeping.

The graduating class was the largest the school has yet turned out, the fifteen students representing ten counties of the district. Last year there were fourteen in the graduating class, eclipsing the record up to that time.

The graduates are: Misses Mamie Miles, Ethel Vanlandingham, Vivian Chasen, Ethel Schnass, Cassie Martin, Leola Lamb and Artie Walker; Messrs. Willie Wingate, Arthur Hasty, Lynwood Wingate, Arnton Clegg, Guy Burroughs, Eugene Drexel, John L. Davis and Charles Clements.

The class papers were along practical agricultural and economical lines, that of Mr. Burroughs being on "Farm Mechanics and Arts" that of Mr. Clegg on "Stock Raising on the Farm," and the paper read by Miss Miles treating on "Home Economics." Mr. Clements was valedictorian.

The literary address was delivered by Rev. T. S. Hubert, of Macon, from the subject "The Bible as a Complete Preparation for Life." Dr. Hubert was followed by a short talk to the student body by Professor J. F. Hart, principal, and talks from J. R. Mercer, of Terrell; R. L. Betts, of Turner, and Dr. J. B. Warnell, of Grady, members of the board of trustees. After the addresses a delicious barbecue dinner was spread under the waving pines of the school campus. The attendance was large.

The papers and addresses illustrated the work the school is doing in teaching the young men of the state scientific as well as practical farming and the young women practical and scientific housekeeping. Not only is each graduate competent to take charge of a farm or a household and conduct it on practical and economical lines, but he or she is qualified to teach practical and scientific agriculture or domestic economy in any of the higher schools of the state. Several members of the present faculty are graduates of the school, and it is thought the agricultural schools of the state will soon be able to supply the demand for teachers of advanced agriculture and domestic science throughout the southern states.

MAN AND WOMAN DROWN

Four Others Escape as Boat Sinks in Ogeechee.

Savannah, Ga., May 21—John Matthews and Louise Seagers were drowned in the Ogeechee river, 14 miles from Savannah, this morning about 10 o'clock. There were four others in the party, and three of them were saved by Will Parry Clay, the fourth member, who also tried to save May Jackson.

The party was in a flat-bottomed bateau, and a half mile from the landing when suddenly the boat went down. Parry Clay kept his head and threw a companion across the bottom of the boat. Myrtle Cowart went down and, diving after her, Parry Clay brought her to the surface and carried her ashore. He returned for Irene Victory, who had gone down the third time, and carried her to safety.

Beesie Seagers, formerly of Columbus, Ga., was clinging to the boat when Matthews grappled with her and both went down. Parry Clay went after them, but was unable to find the bodies.

Verdict for Defendant.

Valdosta, Ga., May 21.—(Special.)—In the superior court last night the case of Miss Essie Barnwell against the Valdosta Street Railway company for permanent injury to her eyes in a collision, ended by the jury bringing in a verdict for the railway company. Miss Barnwell sued the company for $5,000, alleging that her eye sight had been permanently injured by shattered glass when two cars ran together.

CONFERENCES HELD ON CURRENCY REFORM

Washington, May 21.—President Wilson had three conferences today on currency reform. He discussed with Senator Kern prospects of currency legislation at this session and learned that attention had been so sharply focussed on the tariff that there was no agreement in sight as yet as to the advisability of banking reform.

The president talked with Chairman Owen of the senate banking and currency committee early in the day and later saw Representative Glass probable chairman of the house banking committee. He was merely inquiring into the progress being made. Indications are that within another week a bill will be completed, the fundamentals of which will have administration approval.

Sr. Gary McAdoo had a short conference late today with Senators Burton and Weeks. Senator Burton was a member of the National Monetary commission and Senator Weeks is a member of the banking and currency committee. It was understood Mr. McAdoo discussed currency legislation.

The senate currency committee is scheduled to meet Friday and Chairman Owen and other members are preparing the list of questions to be submitted to bankers and financial experts. Although many senators believe currency legislation at the special session is impossible, the opinion is growing that a determined effort may be expected to put a bill through both houses.

BIBLE MAY SOLVE JAPANESE PROBLEM

Southern Assembly Hears Interesting Proposition From Dr. John Fox--Kansas City Chosen for 1914 Assembly.

That America can solve the serious and growing Japanese problem by making a new and complete translation of the Bible and deluging the whole empire of Japan with thousands of copies, was the interesting assertion made before the Southern Presbyterian assembly yesterday afternoon by Dr. John Fox, of New York city, secretary of the American Bible society.

"Where would there be a better way for this country to show its true Christian spirit than to bear the expense of such a translation immediately, and pay the money out of our own pockets in order to send these copies of the Bible to every corner of Japan, and thus bring us into a close, brotherly relation with Japan that would go far toward eliminating the menace of war?" said Dr. Fox.

He explained that it would cost $30,000 or $40,000 to have this translation made at once. There are a number of Japanese scholars who are at present working on translations of parts of the Bible, but no definite and complete translation has yet been started. According to the plans of the American Bible society, however, the money may be secured for this purpose and the work begun within the very near future.

Missionary to Japan Speaks.

Conditions of immorality and ignorance in the Japanese empire were described by Rev. S. M. Erickson, a returned missionary, and he told of the wonderful advance wrought in the sections of Japan that had thus far been touched by Christianity, declaring that in the spread of Christianity lay a great opportunity for reclaiming the nation and solving the problem that is menacing the world. Rev. D. W. Richardson, a missionary who has returned from China, told also of conditions in that congested land, and he said that with the rapid growth of the missions there the outlook is bright and hopeful for the Chinese.

The foreign mission report, which was delivered to the Southern assembly Wednesday afternoon, is one of the most interesting of the reports of the week. It was read to the assembly by Dr. A. M. Fraser, of Staunton, Va., chairman of the standing committee on foreign missions.

Memorable Year in Missions.

"This has been the most memorable year in the history of our foreign mission work," said Dr. Fraser. "The immense increase in the amount contributed by the church for the cause over any sum heretofore given; the obliteration of a most distressing and disheartening debt which had been carried for years; the reorganization of the work in the interest of greater efficiency and promise; the sending out of the largest number of missionaries ever before sent out by our church in any one year; the sustained blessing of God upo nthe work in the field, resulting in larger opportunities and the accession of 2,185 souls to the church; the preservation of our work and workers from serious injury and hindrance by persecution, war, political distraction and other menaces, all combine to make this the most successful year of our history."

The Southern Presbyterian church gave $631,069 to foreign mission work in the past year, and the deficit of $104,568 which had formed the depressing debt spoken of was wiped out and the year begin with a surplus of $7,557.

Splendid Home Mission Report.

Dr. H. McP. Alexander, of New Orleans, chairman of the home mission committee of the assembly, read the the results of this year's home mission work," said Dr. Alexander. "The total contributions of the previous year, $125,787.17, were increased by over $28,000 this year, the contributions amounting to $154,210. More than 425 missionaries, not counting their wives and children, but including mission teachers, were employed and supported in whole or in part, ministering to over 600 churches and mission stations. This year's contribution is the largest amount of money ever expended by the assembly in the home mission field."

Following the reading of the report Dr. S. L. Morris, of Atlanta, secretary of the home mission board, called to the stage in succession an Indian and a negro, both of them educated men, who are doing active work in the home mission fields under the board.

Choctaw Indian Sings.

When the Indian broke forth in one of the characteristic Choctaw songs, the large audience that filled the North Avenue church strained its ears to hear the interesting song, and it was one of the most delightful experiences of the entire day's session. The Indian, the full-blooded Choctaw Indian, told of the mission work at his home, Goodland, Okla., and made a frank appeal in his interesting English brogue for increased funds for carrying on the work.

Work among the negroes was then described by I. C. H. Champney, a teacher in one of the negro schools near Montgomery, Ala. The receiving of these two mission reports, and the discussion which followed occupied practically the entire afternoon's session of the Northern assembly, but it was pronounced one of the most interesting of all the assemblies thus far, though not as sensational, indeed, as some of the previous ones.

The question of the proposed withdrawal from the federal council of churches of Christ in America will probably come up Thursday morning as unfinished business. This will probably be the last day's session of the 1913 assembly, though the question of final adjournment rests in the hands of the commissioners.

Kansas City in 1914.

By a unanimous vote, Kansas City, Mo., was chosen for the next annual assembly of the Southern Presbyterian church. A standing vote gave Newport News, Va., 23 votes; Waco, Texas, 33; Rock Hill, S. C., 10, and Kansas City, 102.

Judge W. H. Wallace, on behalf of the Central church of Kansas City, presented the invitation for the next assembly, and he was seconded by Rev. E. L. Wilson. The nomination of Waco, Texas, aroused considerable enthusiasm, and was indorsed by Ruling Elder John W. Davis, who said: "Mexico has said she is not afraid of the United States, but is very much afraid of Texas. Texas needs the assembly," and the prevailing sentiment was that in the near future a Southern Presbyterian assembly will convene in Texas, which was also indorsed by the last moderator, Dr. T. S. Clyce, who urged Waco for the next assembly.

School Attends Assembly.

An interesting feature of the Wednesday service was the presence of Westminster school of the North Avenue Presbyterian church, of which Miss Sarah B. Converse is principal.

Additional reports from the committee on bills and overtures were read by the chairman, Dr. T. S. Clyce, and after substitutes and amendments were offered, the recommendations of the committee were adopted.

A lively debate was averted when the report of the committee on bills and overtures, on overture No. 25, asking that the resolutions concerning Romanism, presented at the meeting of the assembly in Louisville in 1911, be adopted, was laid on the table on motion of Dr. W. McF. Alexander

Dr R C Reed, chairman of the judicial committee, presented a report denying the memorial of Rev. W. L. Sinnott, who complains that he has been badly treated by the assembly in soe of its former actions. At 12:30 o'clock the morning session adjourned, to reconvene at 2:30 o'clock.

PRESBYTERIANS END ASSEMBLIES TODAY

Four Great Bodies Have Met in Atlanta for First Time in History.

Today marks the closing of the greatest gathering of Presbyterians that the world has ever seen. For the first time in the history of this great faith, four of its leading denominations have met in one city, in joint session.

They came from every portion of the civilized and uncivilized globe—from Alaska, India, China, Turkey, Italy, and the islands of the sea. For eight days they have been in session in Atlanta, and from this occasion the leaders of the church are unanimous in saying that the greatest good ever will come from it.

While there has been no definite steps take ntoward organized union between the Northern, the Southern, the United and the Reform Presbyterians, yet a spirit of unity has arisen which tends to make the day of bodily union draw far nearer.

A few more such assemblies, they say, a few more joint meetings, and after some of the old war horses of the faith have passed away, the coming generation will never see that the differences of faith do not compensate for the great good lost by lacking union of forces.

During the day the three assemblies and the Reformed synod have held their separate deliberations, but at night they have gathered together in the Auditorium, and there have discussed the great needs of the day.

L. & N. SEEKS TO BREAK ALABAMA RATE LAW

Whether the Louisville and Nashville Railway company is to be given a permanent injunction against the order issued some time ago by the Alabama railroad commission requiring that corporation to give a 2½ cent passenger rate within the state or rate within that state of 2½ cents per mile. The railway corporation objected to the Alabama railroad commission's order and asked the federal circuit court of appeals for the fifth circuit for an injunction. The litigation has since been pending in the federal circuit court.

Sitting with Judge Don A. Pardee, of Atlanta, will be Judge David D. Shelby, of Huntsville, Ala. and, in the absence of Judge A. P. McCormick, of Dallas, Texas, the third member, the Hon. W. L. Grubb, of Birmingham, Ala., judge of the federal district court for the northern district of that state.

JAPANESE NOT DESIROUS OF AMERICAN CITIZENSHIP

San Francisco, May 21.—Of fifty Japanese born in Honolulu, and eligible to American citizenship, only fifteen have availed themselves of the opportunity, according to the statement of Gilbert D. Metzger, a Honolulu contractor, who arrived today.

"It has been my observation," he said, "that Japanese are absolutely loyal to their own government, and do not care to become American citizens or permanent residents even when they may."

The Hawaiian islands have a population of Japanese laborers estimated at 75,000.

Cardinal Newman.

(From "Memories," by Stephen Coleridge, John Lane Co., publishers.)

He bore about him the perfect humility of true greatness. His face had a strange wistfulness and his eyes seemed habitually to be gazing beyond and through the visible things and the world about him to some vision far distant and unsubstantial.

There was always a sense of deep power behind his unruffled gentleness and urbanity. When he entered a room full of people, and these not undistinguished, everyone else instantly seemed to become by comparison insignificant and ordinary; and this before he had spoken a word.

JAP SITUATION LOOKING BETTER

President Wilson Greatly Encouraged—President Urges Sisson Not to Make a "Jingo" Speech.

Washington, May 21.—Reassuring advices reached the state department from Japan late today, indicating that the American reply to the protest against the California land law was received in good spirit by the Tokio government, and that the situation had taken on a much more favorable appearance than at any time since negotiations began. Officials here admitted their satisfaction over the turn of events.

The dispatches related also that the Japanese government realized fully the difficulties under which the Washington administration had labored in handling this situation, understanding the dual system of government by the United States and the powers of legislation held by California.

Today's advices were of a preliminary character and made no prediction of ensuing steps, but in general they reflected a favorable view in Tokio of the American note replying to Japan's protest.

President Japan Was Told.

President Wilson, who had no small part in the writing of the note, is said to have described in most complimentary terms what he believed to be the real feeling of the majority of the American people toward Japan The communication, it is said, pointed to California, and only a part of California, too, as having given evidence of a discriminatory disposition, and insisted that the United States as a whole admired the progress that Japan had made in the last half century, respected the achievements of the Japanese people and was sincerely anxious to show that it regarded Japan on a basis of equality with all other powers and nations.

The note was about 1,000 words long and dealt chiefly with the spirit of the American people toward Japan, making little reference, it is understood, to the technicalities of the new law or the treaty, but discussing Japan's contention that the California agitation was in reality an act of unfriendliness and discrimination toward the Japanese.

Officials here were not in the least opposed to publication of the document, but decision on this point was left with the Tokio government.

While the situation tonight was regarded as satisfactory in official quarters, the Japanese answer was awaited with keen interest. Officials generally, however, were inclined to hope that the acute stage in the negotiations had passed.

Sisson Warned By Wilson.

President Wilson today sent Representative Sisson, of Mississippi, and urged him not to make any speech that would offend the sensibilities of Japan.

Mr. Sisson, who recently made a "war speech," had given notice of his intention to speak in the house Friday on the legal phases of the Japanese alien land question. He had a twenty-minute conference with the president, during which, however, he assured Mr. Wilson that he would not discuss the pending negotiations or touch on anything of an incendiary character, limiting himself to an argument on alien land ownership.

That was the white house version of the conference, though Mr. Sisson himself declined to make any comment, declaring merely that he would speak Friday.

The president is known to be anxious about discussion in congress at this stage of the Japanese question, especially involving any observations on radical discrimination.

JAPANESE FOREIGN OFFICE STUDYING AMERICAN REPLY

Tokio, May 21.—The Japanese foreign office is studying the reply of the United States government to its original protest in regard to the California alien land ownership legislation. It declares that by agreement with Washington the document will not be made public. The officials make no comment on the subject.

The Japanese public apparently is waiting for information before expressing its opinion on the American reply. In the meantime the press reiterates that the question goes deeper than the ownership of land or making of treaties and that it is racial discrimination which must be wiped out by mutual education and understanding and the fusion of ideas. Ichiro Tokutomi, editor of The Kokumin Shimbun, writes: "The loyalty of Japan should join forces with the liberality of America. By this means the Pacific would nobly justify its name."

On the other hand, much interest is attached to the formation of a new patriotic association in Japan, which Toyoro Tesugi and other scholars "for the maintenance of Japanese individuality."

The founders declare that some of the people are intoxicated with western civilization to such an extent that they are apt to forget their nationality and introduce dangerous thoughts into the minds of, the people and interpret patriotism in a different way from that prevailing among their ancestors.

In some quarters it is alleged that this new organization is a political one, masquerading under the guise of patriotism and that it has been created to fight the battle of bereaucracy against the encroachments of the growing democracy.

PIEDMONT PARK LAKE OPENS THIS MORNING

Lake Will Be Open Every Week Day From 5 O'Clock Until Sundown.

When the first bather leaps off the spring board in Piedmont park this morning and feels the delightful tingle of the cool wafer the "seabeach" of Atlanta will be open to the public and incidentally a deep coat of brown in its sports will ,hardly know the spot today, unless they have visited it within the past few days and noted the many improvements that have been made.

The swimming pool, intended for women and children and the men who have not learned to keep themselves well afloat, has been enlarged to almost double its original size and a concrete walk has been put in place of the board bottom.

Water Pumped Into Lake.

Pure water has been pumped into the lake until on Wednesday the high water mark was reached and the overflow started. By an arrangement of pipes which was partially carried out last year, fresh water will continually flow into the swimming pool from all sides, keeping it washed out and clear and lessening the danger of infection from the crowd of bathers.

The dressing rooms, which numbered only a few over 200 in 1912, have been increased so that there are now 444 lockers for men and boys and 100 private dressing rooms for ladies. In the lake, towers have been erected so that those swimming across will have more than one place to rest.

Police protection has been promised by Chief James L. Beavers, which will insure the safety of any swimmer and the chief states that the least attempt of anyone to become unruly will be met with a ride to the police station, possibly in a wet and uncomfortable bathing suit.

Open to Both Sexes.

The lake will be open each week day from 5 o'clock in the morning until sundown, and both sexes will be admitted as last year. On Sunday the lake will be open for both sexes from 5 until 8 o'clock in the morning. From 2 o'clock until sundown men and boys only will be admitted.

Swimming or bathing will be allowed either before or after the prescribed hours, and at no time will any boats, except those furnished by the park, be allowed in the lake. This was done in order to prevent lads from building their own boats or from using those of narrow design, which might tip over easily as was the case last year when one boy lost his life in this way.

No attempt has been made to enforce the use of bathing suits with sleeves, as was done in the first part of last season, but the park board has passed an order requiring all bathers to wear two-piece suits and prohibiting them from wearing either white or silk suits.

CENSORS OF "MOVIES" READY TO OPEN WORK

All Pictures Must Have the Approval of National Board of Censors.

That the local board of censorship appointed to inquire into and have supervision over motion picture shows and high vaudeville houses in Atlanta will re quire at one essential that all pictures shown here be those which have secured the approval of the national board of censors of New York, of which John Collier, a former Atlantan, is in charge, was indicated yesterday by Councilman George H. Boynton, chairman of the council library committee, and a member of the recently appointed board.

The censorship committee is composed of seven members and the Carnegie library and the following officials: William J. Tindall, of the Juvenile courts; E. G. Everett, a leader in the Y. M. C. A. association; and Philip Weintner, of the Prison Reform association.

The committee will meet at an early date to arrange an inspection of all motion picture and cheap vaudeville houses, and it is understood that one of the first things to be undertaken will be to enforce the city law prohibiting any girl under 16 years from participating in vaudeville here.

ARKWRIGHT AND GLENN CONFER WITH CANDLER

There was another conference held yesterday in the office of the railroad commission between Chairman Murphey Candler and President Preston Arkwright and General Manager W. H. Glenn, of the Georgia Railway and Power company, in regard to the betterment of the street car service in Atlanta. Schedules of the different lines were discussed. The railway officials will submit figures in detail either today or tomorrow as to traffic, receipts, cost, etc. etc. soon as the commission has all the information before it, an order will be issued making such changes in schedules and number of cars operated as the commission may find reasonable and desirable.

PLAYERS WILL HOLD ANNUAL BANQUET ON DRIVING CLUB LAWN

On the lawn of the Piedmont Driving club, "after the show," the annual banquet of the Atlanta Players' club will take place Friday evening, May 30. This was decided on at an informal meeting of the Players' club cast held Wednesday night in connection with the rehearsal at the Grand of Oscar Wilde's "The Importance of Being Earnest."

At the central table will be grouped the members of the cast presenting the play on the same night, May 30, together with the officers and ex-presidents of the club. Governor-elect Slaton will be at this table, as Mrs. Slaton takes a prominent role in the production. Colonel T. B. Felder will also be present. Mrs. Felder being president of the club. The tables surrounding this central banquet table will be thrown open to the friends of the Players' club and the regular driving club members for the evening dinner, and it is planned thus to make a gala occasion of the event.

MOTHER'S DYING KISS MAY BE FATAL TO SON

Fort Scott, Kan., May 21.—Carl Heckenliable, a young farmer of this county, is near death in a hospital at Wichita, as a result of kissing his dying mother goodby last Monday. The mother, Mrs. C. C. Heckenliable, lived on a farm near her son. She died last Monday of blood poisoning after two months' illness. When her physicians announced death was approaching, her son embraced and kissed his mother.

The next day the young man was taken ill, eruptions appearing on his body. Physicians pronounced the case blood poisoning contracted by the farewell kiss, and Heckenliable was hurried to Wichita for treatment.

Many Cities Want Trainmen.

San Francisco, May 21.—The fight for the next convention city of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen in session here is growing exciting. The contest is between Hgiston, Norfolk, Detroit, St. Paul, Cleveland, Sacramento, Milwaukee, St. Louis and Columbus, Ohio. Most of the time today was taken up with hearing committee reports.

Why is the soda cracker today such a universal food?

People ate soda crackers in the old days, it is true—but they bought them from a barrel or box and took them home in a paper bag, their crispness and flavor all gone.

A Good Recipe for Parker House Rolls

2 cups scalded milk, 2 tablespoons Silver-Leaf Lard, 2 tablespoons sugar, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 yeast cake dissolved in ¼ cup lukewarm water. Flour.

Add lard, sugar and salt to milk when lukewarm; add dissolved yeast cake and 3 cups of flour. Beat, cover and let rise until light, cut down and add enough flour to knead. Let rise. Knead and roll out. Shape with biscuit cutter. Make a crease across and brush over one half of each with melted lard, fold, let rise, bake in hot oven.

This is the favorite recipe of a famous cook, copied word for word from her book of recipes. You will note, that she specifies the brand of lard—

Swift's Silver-Leaf Lard

You will find it reliable and good for all cooking. Use it and have tasty pastry.

Put up under government supervision in small, medium and large sized, tight covered, new tin pails.

PRELIMINARY TRIAL WAIVED BY LAWYERS

Burton Smith, Reuben Arnold and John Cox Will Have Hearing in the Superior Court.

Burton Smith, Reuben Arnold and John Cox, against whom warrants charging assault and battery had been sworn out by W. H. Byrd and C. W. Walton Tuesday afternoon, because of a fight near the superior court room, in which the complainants boreall the marks of the combat, waived a preliminary hearing Wednesday before Justice C. H. Girardeau and gave bond in $300 each to the Fulton superior court.

As Justice Girardeau issued warrants for the arrest of the three widely known attorneys Tuesday afternoon, he directed his bailiff to notify each that a 3 o'clock Wednesday afternoon had been set for a preliminary hearing in his court room, 23 1-2 East Hunter street. Wednesday morning after Messrs. Smith, Arnold and Cox had conferred they concluded that it would take at least two days to hear evidence in the preliminary trial before Justice Girardeau.

Each of the three accused attorneys also found that he had pressing matters before the courts that could not be delayed, and at once opened a conference with the justice of the peace, asking that they be allowed to waive preliminary trial under a satisfactory bond to the Fulton superior court, the superior court being designated rather than the city court, signated rather that Lowry Arnold, brother of one of the defendants, is solicitor of the city court.

Justice Girardeau acquiesced in the request for a waiver of the preliminary trial, and fixed the bond of each of the accused attorneys at $300. The bonds were quickly made, and there the case will rest until the Fulton county grand jury takes it up.

In a short statement Wednesday Attorney Smith declared that his only reason for accosting the ladies about whom the fight arose was in order to apologize to one of them for a question he asked in the cross examination before the commission in the Crawford will case, which depositions were being taken at the time of the fight.

PHI DELTA LUNCHEON TO BE HELD TODAY

In order that local members of the Phi Delta Theta fraternity may have an opportunity to meet the members of the various Presbyterian assemblies, who are alumni of the national college fraternity, the usual weekly luncheon of the alumni association will be held today instead of on Friday.

The luncheon will be at 12:30 o'clock at the Piedmont hotel, and a cordial invitation is extended by the Atlanta association to all visiting members of the Greek letter order to attend. A reception committee will meet them in the lobby of the hotel and conduct them to the main dining room, where the alumni hold the usual weekly meeting and luncheon.

POSED AS MAN AND WIFE BUT JUST SWEETHEARTS

Mexican and Daughter of a Paris Banker Barred From the United States.

New York, May 21.—Carlos Domingues, a young Mexican, and Lucienne Loprince, his 17-year-old Parisian sweetheart, must go back to France, whence they eloped. They can't land here, and they can't go to Mexico City, as they planned. This was the decision of a special board of inquiry at Ellis Island this afternoon. They arrived here yesterday on the steamship Kaiser Wilhelm II.

The girl pleaded tearfully today that they be allowed to marry and come ashore, but the immigration authorities said no. Both will be detained at Ellis Island pending the departure of the Kaiser Wilhelm II. on Tuesday next.

Dominguez, who was an attache of the Mexican consulate at Paris during the Diaz administration, and the girl were detained in their stateroom when the steamship Kaiser Wilhelm II. docked late yesterday. They were on the ship's manifest as man and wife, but on the strength of a cablegram from Paris, saying that the young woman was the daughter of a Parisian banker and had eloped, they were not permitted to land.

The young Mexican, when questioned, admitted that the trip was the culmination of a romance and the girl was not his wife. They were on their way to Mexico City.

HERMAN MOLL DIES SUDDENLY IN MACON

Macon, Ga., May 21.—(Special.)—Herman Moll, one of the best-known German residents of Macon, died suddenly this morning at 7 o'clock at his home, 867 Cherry street, of paralysis of the heart. He had been up and about the house, though feeling badly, finally began to suffer so that he went and laid down on the bed and a few minutes later was dead.

Mr. Moll was 47 years of age, and had resided in Macon for twenty-five years, coming here from Miram, Germany. For many years he was in the jewelry business, and had worked for several of the larger firms of the city, once being connected with the Joseph E. Wells Jewelry company, in its day the largest establishment of its kind in the state. Recently he has been in business for himself.

LUCY COBB STARTS ITS COMMENCEMENT WITH JEANNE D'ARC

Athens, Ga., May 21.—(Special.)—Though there have been a number of pre-commencement recitals by pupils in the music and oratory departments, the commencement events proper at Lucy Cobb Institute, constituting the fifty-fifth year of its history, will begin with the presentation Friday night, May 23, of "Jeanne d' Arc" by the pupils of the oratory department, under direction of Miss Carolyn Cobb.

The other events are as follows:

Saturday morning, May 24, 11 o'clock—Alumnae meeting in annual session.

Saturday evening at 8:30—Annual concert by the advanced pupils in instrumental and vocal music.

Sunday morning at 11 o'clock—Baccalaureate sermon by Rev. Hugh K. Walker, D. D., pastor of the First Presbyterian church, of Atlanta.

Sunday evening at 6 o'clock—Vesper services with an address by Dr. Walker.

Monday evening at 8 o'clock—Graduating exercises on the lawn of the institute campus. The literary address will be delivered by the Rev. W. Memminger, D. D., pastor of All Saints church, Atlanta.

Monday evening from 9 to 12—Reception to the graduating class of 1913 by the co-principals, Misses Gerdine and Brumbly.

There are three graduates this year in the literary department of the institute: Miss Louise Dorsey, of Athens; Miss Annice Parker, of Millen, and Miss Cora Brown, of Atlanta, the last named being a daughter of Governor and Mrs. Brown. The governor and his wife will be in Athens Friday to remain through commencement at Lucy Cobb, and Joseph E. Brown and Charles Brown will also be here to see the graduation of their sister.

GA. PRESS ASKS WILSON TO DELIVER ADDRESS

Eastman, Ga., May 21.—(Special.)—C. M. Methvin, president of the Georgia Weekly Press association, has extended a most cordial and urgent invitation to President Woodrow Wilson to attend the state meeting of the association to be held in LaGrange on July 18-19, and deliver an address before the members of that body. Mr. Wilson is also invited to accompany the president on this occasion.

A similar invitation will be extended by the Chamber of Commerce of LaGrange and the municipal authorities of that city, and Hon. William J. Harris, chairman of the democratic executive committee of Georgia, will interest himself in the matter in an effort to secure the president's acceptance of the invitation. The United States senators from this state and members of congress from Georgia have also been asked to urge upon the president that the invitation be accepted, and they will no doubt exert all influence possible in this direction.

As the general assembly will be in session at the time specified, it is also proposed to introduce a joint resolution in that body inviting the president to deliver an adress to the legislators, which resolution will no doubt be gladly adopted unanimously, provided the president is able to visit the state at that time

GUGGENHEIMS HOLD ALASKA BY THROAT

Washington, May 21.—Delegate Wickersham, of Alaska, startled the senate territories committee today by declaring that Senator Chamberlain, a member of the committee, had inadvertently been the author of a bill in a previous congress which would have turned over to "the Guggenheims" absolute control of the harbor of Cordova and the entrance to the Bering river coal fields.

"There was a little inoffensive looking bill introduced in congress, I believe you were the author of it, Senator Chamberlain," said Wickersham, "giving the right of way to the Guggenheims from Mile Twenty-Five on the Copper River road to Three-Tree Point. You did not know what that bill meant. It passed the senate, but when it reached the house I killed it, if it had passed it would have given the Guggenheims title in fee simple to all of Cordova harbor and they would have had a monopoly like that of Mr. Ryan on Controller Bay."

Senator Chamberlain made no reply.

Mr. Wickersham told the committee that the Morgan-Guggenheim syndicate had Alaska "by the throat."

Mr. Ryan challenged Wickersham's statement that the "Guggenheims" controlled the bay in which he is interested:

"It's just my word against his, so I ask the committee for permission to call any banker here to substantiate my statement," said Ryan.

The committee will hold a session Friday to hear the banker whose name was not given out.

DRUG MEN ATTACK HEALTH BUREAU PLAN

Washington, May 21.—A sharp attack on the plan for a federal department of public health as recently outlined by Dr. George H. Simmons, of the American Medical association, and Dr. Harvey W. Wiley, was made here today before the convention of the Proprietary Association of America, by O. C. Pinckney of New York, secretary and treasurer. The association is composed principally of proprietary medicine manufacturers.

The speaker disclaimed any opposition to a federal department of health and declared that the association had no place in its membership for "quacks or purveyors of fraud," and that it was in thorough accord with the pure food and drugs law.

SHE FINDS COPPERHEAD IN A BUREAU DRAWER

Columbia, S. C., May 21.—A special to the Columbia Record from St. Matthews this morning, says that Mrs. J. M. Hennegan, member of a prominent family there last night opened the drawer of a buffet in her dining room and placed her hand upon a deadly copperhead moccasin snake which was sniekly coiled up among the linen clothes. Mrs. Hennegan was terribly frightened when the reptile moved, but withdrew her hand before it had time to strike. The snake was killed.

$8.75 PER WEEK NEEDED BY A WORKING GIRL

St. Louis, May 21.—Eight dollars and seventy-five cents a week is the minimum pay upon which a girl can live in St. Louis, according to women investigators who testified before a senate committee today. It was said that while scrub women in office buildings got from $20 to $30 amonth, yet many girls were employed in stores at $3.50 to $3.50 a week.

MARYLAND HURRAHS FOR THE OLD GUARD

Atlanta Soldiers Are Cordially Welcomed at Baltimore and Annapolis.

Baltimore, Md., May 21.—(Special.)—An inspection of the naval academy at Annapolis and a battalion drill at the Fifth Regiment armory were the features of the entertainment today of the Old Guard, the crack military organization of Atlanta, Ga., by the Fifth regiment, when the kindnesses of the Atlanta organization during the visit there in October, 1911, were returned by the Maryland regiment. The visit of the Old Guard was the first since 1879, when that organization toured the north, visiting Baltimore among other cities, on the famous "peace mission," after the struggle between the states.

About fifty strong of the Old Guard arrived in Baltimore from Washington this morning and were greeted at the headquarters of the Fifth regiment by Lieutenant Colonel John Hinkley, acting commander of the Fifth, who was accompanied by a committee composed of Captains Herbert C. Smith and T. S. Kirk and Lieutenant J. Newman Numsen. The visitors were escorted to the Caswell hotel, where they made their headquarters during their stay in the city, and between that time and 1 o'clock, when a luncheon was served at the Fifth Regiment armory, many places of interest in the city were visited.

The trip to Annapolis was made in special cars over the Washington, Baltimore and Annapolis Electric railway. Officers of the naval academy met the Old Guard and their escort of officers from the Fifth at the entrance to the naval academy, and practically every inch of the grounds and the buildings with the many historic relics was inspected.

The aviation station was the most interesting exhibition, flights of the airboat recently purchased by the navy department and the hydroplanes being hugely enjoyed by the visitors from the southern city. The old flags from the forts taken or captured during the various wars in which this country has taken part also aroused interest. All of the banners, some tattered and moth eaten, proved very attractive, but the one which created the most interest was that recovered from the sunken battleship Maine and the British flags captured during the war of 1812.

The grave of John Paul Jones, under the new chapel, was also a center of interest and many Georgians and few of the Maryland men had ever seen it before.

Prior to their departure from the Fifth regiment armory after the luncheon a surprise was sprung on the officers of the local regiment.

With Miss Bessie Brady standing on a chair to lead them, the visitors sang a parody of "Maryland My Maryland," written for the occasion by Miss Brady before the Old Guard left the Caswell for the armory.

Other songs were immediately taken up and all joined in the choruses. One of the tunes was that sung by the backers of President Wilson prior to his nomination at the convention which ran: "They say the old Fifth ain't got no style but she's style all the while, all the while," bringing back remembrances to many of days of the convention last June.

BECAUSE WIFE IS ILL CAPITALIST KILLS SELF

Montgomery, Ala., May 21.—While his wife lay dangerously ill in an adjoining room, John I. Fornias, a retired capitalist, committed suicide in his apartments at a prominent local hotel last night by sending a bullet through his brain. Discovery was made at 5 o'clock this morning by the maid attending Mrs. Fornias.

Mr. Fornias was 73 years old, a Confederate veteran, and a native of Wilcox county, Alabama. He had been in declining health for some time. He left a note saying that nervousness was driving him crazy and he was losing his mind. He asked all to pray for him.

The body will be interred here.

NINE DIE IN STORM OFF ALASKAN COAST

Cordova, Alaska, May 21.—Nine men were drowned Sunday night when a storm blew a pile driver and a barge ashore near Katalla, according to advices received here last night.

The men were building a fish trap for the Northwestern Fisheries company at the mouth of Martin river, near Katalla. A furious storm came up Sunday night and broke six anchors with which the pile driver and barge were made fast. They were driven 18 miles along the shore, where they struck on the beach.

R. D'Emo, Adv., Chicago

NO MAN that has used newspaper advertising properly ever gives it up. To do so would mean not only an immediate loss of business, but a gradual decline.

By properly, we mean consistent statements made persistently. The ads need not be large, but they must appear often. First they attract attention—but that is not enough. They must keep on appearing until they change attention into temporary interest, then temporary interest into permanent desire for the goods.

Spectacular "stunts" get the attention of the public—for the moment only. Tomorrow they are forgotten. But the little ad that is always on the job, always there with a bright, inviting appearance and interesting message, wins the business, not only for a day, but for as long as the merchant makes good his promises.

Too many merchants feel they cannot afford to advertise because to them advertising means the use of space the cost of which is prohibitive. If you are in this class, break away today. Think of the success won by men you know who started with several inches single column and made that produce the money to pay for larger space. We can name a grocer, a druggist, a jeweler and others from whom you buy goods.

DEFENSE OF HUFF TO BEGIN TODAY

The Government Ends Its Case Against Macon Man Charged With Trying to Intimidate Judge Speer.

Macon, Ga., May 21.—(Special.)—The government finished its case late this afternoon against Colonel W A. Huff, charged with contempt of court for an alleged effort to obstruct justice and intimidate Judge Emory Speer, of the United States district court, through alleged veiled threats and criticism contained in a letter sent to the judge, and the defense will begin the introduction of evidence first thing tomorrow morning.

Speer to Be Witness.

It is stated here tonight that Judge Emory Speer will be called as a witness for the defense tomorrow.

Attorney Thomas S. Felder, representing Colonel Huff, continued to fight every point today though without any degree of success. At the morning session the court overruled the defendant's demurrer to the government's motion for criminal contempt and directly after court had convened in the afternoon Attorney Felder presented a plea in bar, setting forth that the defendant had been before the court once on the same charge and that when the trial had stopped with Judge Speer's refusal to continue to preside, he was entitled to a dismissal. The government's attorney demurred on the ground that the first trial had not preceded further than the arguing of the demurrer and the pleading of the defendant, and the court sustained the demurrer.

The next step by the defense was filing answer to the government's motion charging contempt. In this a complete denial was made of any intention on the part of Colonel Huff of misbehaving in the presence of the court or so near thereto as to obstruct the administration of justice and also denying that the letter was sent to Judge Speer with any purpose to hinder or effect him in the performance of his duties or to obtain any judgment in his favor. Denial was also made that the letter was sent while court was in session.

Motion to Dismiss.

Then followed a motion by the defense to dismiss the defendant and purge him from all contempt.

The government resisted on the ground that the court had no right to purge the charges and Judge Grubb upheld that contention ordering the case to proceed.

The government confined its efforts to an attempt to show that the letter written by Colonel Huff had been delivered to Judge Speer at his home in Vineville while he was at work upon court matters and that at the time the letter was received there were pending in the Huff bankruptcy case several matters that had not yet been disposed of. The defense tried to show by the witnesses that court was not actually in session but had been adjourned during the morning of the day on which the letter was received until the following morning at 10 o'clock.

The minutes showed this, but it was testified that the judge is often engaged on matters in his chamber while court is not in session.

An effort was made to show that Colonel Huff had given a copy of his letter to a newspaper reporter for the purpose of publishing it to the world at large.

A reporter for a local paper testified that Colonel Huff had told him of the letter shortly after it had been sent and had given him a copy, but the reporter testified that Colonel Huff had told him he might do whatever he pleased with it.

J. G. Cannon, a banker, identified the signature on the letter received by Judge Speer as that of Colonel Huff.

Judge Not Exempt.

When court convened this morning Judge Grubb and Attorney Felder engaged in an argument over what constitutes the presence of the court, which lasted over an hour. Mr. Felder continually held that outside the courtroom the judge was a private citizen and not immune from criticism. During the argument between the two, Judge Grubb said:

"I don't think that a judge is any more exempt from criticism than anyone else, if such criticism is not of such a nature to be construed as attempting to influence his decision. The judge has a right to personal representatives in the first premise, but if such criticism is with a view of influencing a decision or affecting the process of justice, then it comes under the statute, I should say, of contempt."

Judge Grubb elaborated more fully on this phase of the case until Mr. Felder remarked:

"As I see that your honor has already made up his mind, I will not press the point."

Judge Grubb then having held that the case might go to trial on the basis on which the action was brought, Mr. Felder then asked until 3 o'clock in the afternoon in which to prepare an answer, after he had assured Judge Grubb that he would then be ready.

Turkey Trot Cards Go.

New York, May 21.—Chief City Magistrate McAdoo today refused to put a ban on picture post cards illustrating the turkey trot. He discharged a post card dealer brought before him by Postoffice Inspector Anthony Comstock and advised Mr. Comstock, if he considered the dance unlawful, to direct his attention to some of the "fashionable places" where it was danced.

RESINOL WILL STOP THAT ITCH

GRIFFIN WARRING OVER AUTO TRUCK

Fight Between Mayor and Council Reaches Climax Today, With Arrival of New Fire Engine.

Griffin, Ga., May 21.—(Special.)—The four-months' fight between Mayor J. H. Smith and the Griffin city council, over the purchase of an auto fire truck, will reach its climax Thursday, when the truck will reach here and be exhibited on the main street of the town. The purchase of the truck has precipitated a spirited fight, because of the manner of purchase and the refusal of council to heed the mayor's desire to investigate before makes and bids, and the determination to buy this truck from a certain company.

The tax payers of Griffin are deeply concerned in the matter also, for they have just learned that a cash payment for the truck will bankrupt the treasury of all funds, and leave nothing to prosecute the extention of light and water mains, now under way, as well as leave unprovided for some heavy obligations upon the city that fall due in a short time.

When the motion to purchase an auto fire truck was first voted upon and Mayor Smith declined to sign the contract then in hand, he pleaded for further investigation. Being overruled and advised by the city attorney of the alleged illegality of such a purchase, he refused to sign the contract. Council then took the matter out of Mayor Smith's hands and appointed a committee to close the contract at once, which was done with the plan in mind to pay for the truck in annual payments.

When Mayor Smith served notice that he would enjoin the delivery of the truck and would not sign checks for payment, council then retaliated by recalling moneys voted to make city improvements, that there might be enough funds in the treasury to make cash payment upon delivery of the machine.

Much feeling is manifest among citizens concerning the matter.

SUMMER HAS "CAME," WATERMELONS HERE

Thousands of little darkies are hanging their tongues out today, and the freight yards are the center of an envious crowd of the same specimens of humanity, for they know that summer is really here. They can tell it by the sight in a big freight car of luscious watermelons.

The first carload of the melons came in yesterday from Florida, and include the "Tom Watson" and the "Favorite." They have been placed in the Central of Georgia freight yard and are on sale from the cars. They were consigned to T. F. Goodwin & Co., wholesale produce merchants, on Broad street.

Within a few weeks melons will begin coming into the city from points in south Georgia, and the city farmers and truckmen will be hauling them from nearby farms, and the season will be on in earnest. Those who have sampled the first fruit from Florida declare that it is as luscious and juicy as the Georgia variety ever gets to be, and that the taste is enough to compensate for hot weather and palm-leaf fans.

Freeman Gives $150,000 Bond.

New York, May 21.—Albert Freeman, convicted with Julian Hawthorne and others of using the mails to defraud investors, was released in $150,000 bail this afternoon pending appeal. He is under a five-year sentence and has been in jail since his conviction on March 4. Loyal friends gathered in court recently and supplied the funds and securities for his bond.

FACE DISFIGURED WITH PIMPLES

Spread All Over Face and Hands, Great Ugly Looking Sores, Itched and Burned Badly, Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment Cured.

805 Rickey St., Houston, Tex.—"My trouble began with very small pimples on the face, then went to my back and the pimples began to get larger and larger with that awful itching that I can hardly describe. The pimples were full of white matter and when I scratched them they spread all over my face and hands and made great ugly looking sores. They itched badly and had a burning sensation to them that made me feel like I was on fire. Every scratch made a place that looked like a well, and my face was disfigured. They itched and burned so badly that I could not refrain from scratching, keeping it so that it looked as if I had small-pox all of the time. My clothes made me so miserable and irritated so much that I had to try not to wear any more than I could help.

"I tried everything that I could hear about in hope of relief which came for a time but did not last long. Then I tried Cuticura Soap and Ointment. I used Cuticura Soap in hot water freely during the day and kept the sores covered in Cuticura Ointment all of the time, never letting them become dry. I kept up the treatment six months and was completely cured." (Signed) Mrs. Alice Stone, Apr. 5, 1912.

A single cake of Cuticura Soap and box of Cuticura Ointment are often sufficient when all else has failed. Cuticura Soap 25c. and Ointment 50c. are sold by druggists and dealers everywhere. Sample of each mailed free, with 32-p. Skin Book. Address postcard "Cuticura, Dept. T, Boston."

ROYAL GUESTS GATHER FOR THE ROYAL WEDDING

True Hohenzollern Weather Sets in for Nuptials of Kaiser's Daughter.

Berlin, May 21.—True "Hohenzollern weather—brilliant sunshine and cloudless skies—has set in for the wedding festivities of Princess Victoria Louise, daughter of the German emperor and empress, and Prince Ernest August, of Cumberland, which takes place on Saturday.

The official receptions started this morning with the arrival here of the bridegroom and the state entry into Berlin of King George and Queen Mary, of England.

There was no ceremony to greet Prince Ernest August when he reached the station at 8:25. He drove at once in an automobile to the castle, where he took breakfast with his bride-to-be before returning to the station to meet the British royalties.

At the station awaiting the arrival of the royal train were Emperor William and Crown Prince Frederick William, in the uniforms of their Prussian regiments, together with the empress and the crown princess. All the royal personages and princes assembled in Berlin and a mass of brilliantly uniformed naval officers and ministers and court functionaries surrounded them.

King George and Queen Mary, when they alighted from the train, were greeted with the customary cordial embraces by the emperor and empress and the other members of the imperial family. King George and Emperor William then jointly passed in review of the guard of honor drawn up on the platform. This completed the two monarchs together, and the queen and empress side by side, drove in open state carriages through the Avenue of Victory and Unter den Linden to the castle, each carriage escorted by a squadron of cavalry with pennoned lances. The wide thoroughfares were lined with troops of the Guards' Army corps, and behind them all Berlin seemed to have gathered.

The dirigible balloons Zeppelin and Hansea, flying the British colors, accompanied the royal train from Rathenow, about 50 miles away, and hovered over the carriages as they drove toward the castle.

SOLDIERS OF FRANCE IN MUTINOUS MOOD

Paris, May 21.—Some French soldiers are displaying considerable opposition to the decision of the government to keep them for another year in active service instead of discharging them at the expiration of their two-year term. Demonstrations have occurred in a number of garrison towns. The government is acting with great energy in suppressing opposition.

A number of soldiers who took part in a demonstration at Toulon on Sunday were tried by courtmartial today and sentenced to serve the rest of their term with the disciplinary battalions in northern Africa.

At Macon, 100 soldiers assembled in the public square and sang "The International," the socialist hymn. Speeches were made condemning the introduction of the three-year term of military service.

PIRKLE KILLS HIMSELF.

Goes to Barn and Slashes Throat With Razor.

Gainesville, Ga., May 21.—(Special.) Z. F. Pirkle, who lived about three miles below Gainesville, was this morning found at the barn near his home, with his throat cut almost from ear to ear. He was dead when discovered. He used a razor with which to end his life. He had been troubled for awhile, and while his people were shocked at his suicide, the sudden ending of his life was of no great surprise. He leaves a family.

THREE WOMEN "COPS" ON THE FRISCO FORCE

San Francisco, May 21.—Of twenty-five additional police officers to be appointed here, three will be women, according to action taken last night by the board of supervisors. It is announced that the force of women will be increased as rapidly as conditions warrant.

Long Lost Island Found.

Athens, Greece, May 21.—A submerged island recently discovered in the seabed near Lemnos in the Greek archipelago, has been identified by the government archaeologist as the Islet of Chryssie, which was submerged at the beginning of the second century before the Christian era.

Watson Urged on Wilson.

Washington, May 21.—Senator Vardaman and other members of the Mississippi congressional delegation urged President Wilson today to appoint Edward Watson governor of the Hawaiian Islands.

GEORGIA SHOULD AID EXPERIMENT STATION

With This Message to State, Martin Calvin Will Leave Office.

In his last report as director of the state experiment station at Griffin which was transmitted to the governor by Commissioner of Agriculture Conner yesterday the retiring director, Martin V. Calvin, calls attention to the fact that the state has appropriated no money for the support and maintenance of the station since 1891 and says that the station could accomplish much greater results if the legislature had given it the $5,000 asked for.

As it is, the station is dependent entirely for its maintenance on the appropriations from the United States government, under the Hatch and Adams' acts. The director contrasts this treatment of the station with the greater liberality shown to the State College of agriculture. He believes that the functions of a college and an experiment station are entirely distinct, and that the state has need for both.

He says that a number of experiments in dynamiting land have been carried on at the station this year, and that while they have not been extensive enough to reach definite conclusions, it is believed that they will show a strong contrast between dynamited and undynamited lands in favor of dynamite.

A large number of varieties of sweet potatoes have been tried, with the result that the Triumph was found to be the most productive, with an acreage yield of 457 bushels.

Experiments have been made with a number of peanut varieties of cotton seed, with a view of eliminating black root.

CASES IN MILLTOWN ARE NOLLE PROSSED

The disturbances about fishing rights and the alleged threats to mob Game Warden M. F. Bolsclair in Milltown have died in court yesterday when Jesse Mercer, state game commissioner, nolle prossed the case against the defendants after all agreed an agreement to assist the warden in the enforcement of the law, and promised they would be a party to no more violations of the state's game laws.

The agreement was signed upon order of the Milltown court, and everything has been amicably settled according to Jesse Mercer, who returned to Atlanta last night, predicting the strict enforcement of the law in the Milltown district.

ROYAL OBSERVATORY SHATTERED BY BOMB

Edinburgh, Scotland, May 21.—A bomb exploded in the west dome of the royal observatory here early today.

The astronomical instruments were badly deranged, but the building itself escaped serious damage. The police declare that militant suffragettes committed the outrage.

Professor Ralph A. Sampson, astronomer royal of Scotland, thinks evidence found points to two women having been engaged in the outrage. He says apparently they hurt themselves.

Several pounds of gunpowder must have been exploded and some heavy doors were blown open and much glass and woodwork shattered.

BASEBALL BREAKS JAW OF COLLEGE PLAYER

Columbia, Mo., May 21.—Miss Georgian Clark, of Rolla, Mo., a student in the University of Missouri, suffered a fracture of the jaw while playing baseball here.

The Missouri coeds, who take a gymnasium work, organized baseball teams this spring. Miss Clark is captain of the sophomore team, and is catcher.

She was playing in a practice game when a foul ball struck her.

CUMBERLANDS ACCEPT OFFER FOR UNIVERSITY

Bowling Green, Ky., May 21.—After accepting a compromise offer from the trustees of the Cumberland university of Lebanon, Tenn., of $37,500 for all interests in the university property, the commissioners to the general assembly of the Cumberland Presbyterian church adjourned and today returned to their homes. Several hundred dollars was contributed for the ministerial relief fund.

ASSAILANT IS NABBED AFTER FOUR-DAY HUNT

Eufaula, Ala., May 21.—(Special.)—Walter Ramey, a 17-year-old negro boy, was arrested here last night on a charge of criminal assault upon a negro girl in Dale county. After a four-day hunt, he was chased from Ozark to Eufaula, and was held here until the arrival of the Dale county

Labor Leader Sentenced.

Little Falls, N. Y., May 21.—Benjamin Legre, of Bridgeport, Conn., an organizer of the Industrial Workers of the World, was sentenced to Auburn prison for one year at hard labor for rioting during the recent textile strike in this city. Before sentence was pronounced he delivered a fiery denunciation of the capitalistic class and declared his innocence.

New Place for Wilkie.

Washington, May 21.—John E. Wilkie, chief of the customs agents and former secret service chief, whose resignation was announced recently, will become assistant to Henry A. Blair, chairman of the board of the Chicago Railways company. Secretary McAdoo wrote Wilkie today expressing regret that he was to leave the federal service.

Dynamite in Courthouse.

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., May 21.—Two sticks of dynamite were found behind a radiator in the corridor of the Dutchess county courthouse here today with caps attached and a fuse leading outside the building. The police are handicapped by apparent absence of motive.

Express Rates Cut.

Madison, Wis., May 21.—Reductions in express rates averaging about 20 per cent were ordered today by the Wisconsin railroad commission. Every express company operating in Wisconsin is included in the ruling. The order will go into effect within twenty days.

EXPERIMENT STATION EXAMINED BY EXPERT

Acting Director of Federal Stations to Confer With Governor Over Situation in Georgia.

Athens, Ga., May 21.—(Special.)—D. E. W. Allen, acting director of the office of experiment stations at Washington, is here tonight for conference with Dr. R. J. H. DeLoach, the director-elect of the Georgia Experiment station, and with Dr. H. C. White, who has been doing research work on the station staff. He goes tomorrow morning to Atlanta to confer with Governor Brown concerning the experiment station situation in Georgia before he goes back to Washington.

Dr. Allen came to Athens from Griffin. He had made an inspection of the station and the work which has been done there in the past year or two. When asked directly what he thought of the work at the Georgia station he said tonight:

"I had rather not make any comment on that subject."

Rob Jewelry Store.

Jonesboro, Ark., May 21.—The drug store of Dr. J. R. Black and brother, of Marked Tree, has been robbed, the burglars getting away with many valuable watches. They broke a plate glass window, and reaching through to the show window, selected their booty with care. There were many pieces of jewerly, but the thieves selected only the most costly watches. The officers have no clew.

Michael Finn's league leading Mobile Gulls will be the attraction this afternoon. Let's start the song chutes for them right in our own ball yard. What do you say? Altogether.

League Leaders Are Here Today

WHIFFS

Fine Opportunity.

THE CRACKERS have a fine chance to help themselves and the entire league by slipping the harpoon into the league-leading Gulls this afternoon and again Friday and Saturday. If the locals can duplicate last year's stunt by taking the entire series from the Gulls on their first appearance of the season at Ponce great will be the joy. And if it is to be done at all, now is the time. Someone must at least make the fast flying Gulls hesitate before it gets too late.

Must Be Bonus.

THE OPINION of many that when Ty Cobb signed with the Tigers he had a sliding scale contract, calling for bonuses if he hit so much, stole so many bases, made so many hits and scored so many runs, is being verified by the Georgian every day. Including Tuesday's game with the Athletics, Cobb has been at bat 54 times, scored 13 runs and made 23 hits, an average of .519 for sixteen games. What will he do when he's feeling well?

Arm Is Gone.

TY COBB'S arm is gone, according to reports from Detroit. They say that the great Georgian can no longer throw them to the plate as he used to; that the indiscretion of pitching a half hour before the game each day has told on the wonderful whip. We do not know definitely, but we'll wager a little that his arm has not gone, and that nothing but a slight cold has settled in the great whip. As soon as it has been rubbed out, he'll be throwing his sensational way again. Watch this prediction. Some calamity howler is at work, or we miss our guess.

Oh! Doctor.

WRAY, in The St. Louis Dispatch, hands Frank Chance the following: "Frank Chance, if he is correctly quoted, believes that his present New York team is better than the Cubs of 1911 or 1912. To the average observer it would seem that Chance had better substitutes sitting with the bench in 1911 than regulars on his batting order today with few exceptions." We await Mr. Chance's answer to this with much interest.

Back Again.

PAUL SENTELL will be seen in uniform at Ponce de Leon this afternoon. He will be on the third base coaching line for the Mobile Gulls. The ex-Cracker has just been signed up by Manager Mique Finn to fill utility roles. Unless someone is hurt, Paul will be the Gulls' chief coacher, and in this he ought to be of big assistance. He knows baseball all four ways, and he can play both in and outfield. And no one ever accused Paul of being a poor hitter. Looks like Finn pulled a good move when he grabbed our old side kick.

After Honors.

LARRY DOYLE, the Giants' field leader, is hot after the batting honors of the Lynch organization this season. He believes that Heinie Zimmerman, of the Cubs, is the man that he has to fear the most, and they have been having a nice little kidding match about it all year. But while they are watching one another, a certain aged derelict by the name of Hogus Wagner is piling up an average close to the .400 mark or, to be exact, .391.

Is About Through.

JOE MANDOT, the pride of New Orleans, is done. He has lost everything he ever had, or maybe he never had anything. From a possible champion-ship contender, Mandot has in the last few months passed to a rank outsider. Joe apparently never had anything but speed, and when rugged boys like Leach Cross and Bud Anderson fathomed that speed, they stepped inside and walloped. Poor Tommy Walsh. His meal ticket is gone.

No Southerner Now.

THE SOUTH is no longer represented among the elite in the boxing world. Joe Mandot, Joe Thomas and Frank Russell, all considered good boys, have had the skids slipped under them time after time of late. It's curtains for the entire bunch.

Prize Lemons.

THE CROP of white hopes is about the biggest citrus collection that has been turned loose on an unsuspecting public for years. Jess Willard looked promising, but Gunboat Smith queered his game. A match between Luther McCarty and Smith will determine the best of a poor lot.

Dent Blows in the Seventh, Turtles Winning Out 7 to 5; Butler's Triple Cleans Bases

By Dick Jemison.

Elliott Dent, the Crackers' new right-hander, recently purchased from the Washington Americans, looked like a million dollars for six innings Wednesday afternoon.

In the seventh, he looked like thirty cents, and after the Turtles had tallied five counters he was yanked and Gil Price sent to the mound to stem the tide, and he did.

What occasioned Dent's blow-up is not known. But he blowed, and with a loud report. Maybe it is the jinx that the Turtles seem to have on the Crackers, an ability to overcome any kind of a lead apparently and win out.

The Crackers grabbed off five runs lead for Dent in the first five innings. When the returns of the sixth and seventh stanzas were in, the count stood, Memphis 6, Atlanta 5, and they added one more off of Price in the next inning for good measure.

The game was played for the benefit of the Atlanta Ad Men, to assist them in making the trip to Baltimore to the national convention. A crowd numbering close to 4,000 was out to the pastime.

Hard Hitting.

There was plenty of hard hitting by both sides, and the way the batters were performing it looked like anyone's ball game, and it was up until the last man was retired in the final chapter. The Crackers' made 10 hits, the Turtles 9.

Parsons pitched for the Turtles and he was lucky to get away with a win. He had practically nothing, and when he was not being hit safely he was being pounded to the tall uncut.

Kissinger was sent in by Bernhard in the ninth, because, in the gathering darkness, it was figured that his speed would stop the Crackers, whose liberality with Parsons' curves was not conducive to good fielding on Bernhard's part.

Silent William figured correctly, as Kissinger's baffling speed certainly put the kibosh on the locals.

Agler touched him for a double with two men out, but that was the end of it. He made Pat Graham pop weakly in front of the plate.

Butler and Shanley.

The hitting of Shortstop Butler and Second Baseman Shanley had as much to do with the downfall of the locals as any one else. Shanley drove in 2 runs and Butler 3. Each hit a triple, while it was Shanley's single that scored Butler with what proved to be the winning run. Butler had cleaned the bases with his triple in the stand-up session.

The most amusing incident that has ever been witnessed on a ball field occurred in the fourth inning. And as far as we can remember it has never happened in a baseball game before.

The sight of only eight men on the field and the game going on has never been recalled here. Graham was at bat and Parsons had pitched two balls to Graham, both of which he struck at freely.

At this juncture Schweitzer came running out on the diamond. The Turtles' left fielder had not been missed by any one but Graham. Pat was doing his best to slam one over Ward's head. If he had, well, Atlanta would have had another run.

Long opened the fray by smashing one to right for a counter. Bailey walked, and Alpermann landed safely, filling the bases. Welchonce slapped one to right for a cushion, counting two. A neat sacrifice advanced two men a bag, but Joe Ward failed to stop caught Alpermann in a chase between third and home, and nipped the run-getting.

Graham walked in the second and Long beat out a hit. Bailey was hit, filling the bases. Alpermann bounced one to Parsons and Whitaker was blotted at the plate, but Long counted when Butler messed up Welchonce's grounder.

In the fourth, Alpermann walked with one gone, but Welchonce forced him at second. Smith combed one to center for two sacks, counting Welchonce, and Bisland drove Wallop home with a smash to center.

This ended the run-getting for the Crackers, although they threatened in every inning, but the pinch hit was not forthcoming.

Turtles Start.

Shanley opened the sixth by smashing one to left for three and scoring with the Turtles' first run on an infield out.

The big round was the next. Barnwald, Schweitzer and Ward slammed consecutive singles to center, the first named counting. Abstein hit one to Agler, who threw badly to second, the bases being filled.

Butler combed one to deep center for three bases, clearing the sack and he came home a moment later when Shanley shot one to left for a single.

Dent was yanked at this stage and Price sent in. He retired the side without any further damage.

In the eighth, he walked Love and Baerwald, and Schweitzer a single sent home the final run of the pastime.

Chattanooga, Tenn., May 20.—Coveleskie held Montgomery to one hit today, and Chattanooga won the final game of the series, 2 to 0. Brown pitched a great game, especially when men were on bases, but in the eighth King's single, Flick's sacrifice, Elberfeld's single and Elston's double produced two runs, a little slow fielding by Montgomery helping.

Gulls Drop Two.

Birmingham, Ala., May 21.—Mobile escaped a shutout in each of two games this afternoon, Birmingham pitchers and other players proving themselves superior in practically every department of play. In the first, Prough was master of the situation throughout. In the second, Beer was a bit harder than Covert was in the first. Hardgrove was very strong. The hitting of the locals featured both games, McBride especially starring in this regard. There were frequent occurrences of sparkling fielding.

Nashville, Tenn., May 21.—Nashville outplayed New Orleans today and won two games by the scores of 7 to 3 and 6 to 2. Brackenridge outpitched Wilson in the first game and Beck had decidedly the better of Brenton in the second, which was called in the sixth inning on account of darkness. The visitors fielded raggedly. Perry's hitting featured.

Fast As the Proverbial Blue Streak

Billy Smith certainly made a ten-strike when he landed this fellow. Tommy has not shown a weakness of any kind this season. Fast as the rabbit, for which he is named, hitting like a house afire, fielding sensational and with an arm of steel, the "Gadsden Galloper" is slated for another trial in the "big show" at the end of the present season, and this time he seems destined to stick. On the form he has been owing to date, Tommy looks like the best outfielder in the league.

Macon, Ga., May 21.—Voss won his fourth straight game for Macon today, by defeating Columbus 4 to 2, making two of the series for the local club. Out of eight starts this year he has only lost one game.

Baumgardner continues the sensational run getter on the Macon club. He got two singles and ran bases like wildfire today. Munn, for the locals, hit for three safeties. Morrow was batted from the box. Baker relieving him in the seventh. Catcher Reynolds was in the game for the first time since the first series, which was played in Columbus. Swann was released this morning. Box Score:

Charleston, S. C., May 21.—Charleston made it three straight from Jacksonville by wifning today's game, 3 to 1. Foster, while not in his usual good form, kept the seven hits that he yielded well scattered. Manager Wilder's twisters were located in the seventh, when two singles, a sacrifice, an error and Winston's triple netted the three runs. Jacksonville's one run came in the fifth on Maurer's double, Smith's sacrifice and Beggans' second two-bagger. Horace Milan, a brother of Clyde Milan, of the Washington Americans, and the youngster that Griffith turned over to Charleston, played his first game with the Sea Gulls and showed up well. Catcher Smith was fined $5 by Umpire Moran for kicking.

League-Leading Mobile Gulls Attraction at Poncey Today; Many Stars on Their Roster

Sir Michael Finn and his league leading Gulls will be the attractions at Ponce de Leon this afternoon and for the remainder of the week.

This will be their first appearance locally this season, and Atlanta fandom is sure to turn out in force to see for themselves whether the Gulls are playing the class of ball that entitles them to the league lead or have been getting away luckily.

Bill Smith will pitch Price against them today, work Jim Brady Friday and hurl Paul Musser Saturday. If the three hurlers pitch according to their true form, the locals are going to endeavor to slip the skids under the Gulls by way of revenge for the four defeats handed out in Gulltown.

Robertson the Star.

Dave Robertson, the big right fielder, is the star of the team. Batting over .400 since the season started, mostly in home runs, running bases like a demon and fielding sensationally, this fellow's work has been one of the biggest factors in the team's success.

This will be the first chance local fans or scribes have had to see the big fellow in action, but if reports from the other cities can be relied upon, they are going to see in action one of the greatest ball players that ever wore a uniform in the Southern league.

"Baby Doll" Jacobsen, who was with the team last year, is playing center instead of left field this season, Clark a newcomer, being in left.

Gene Paulet on first, Captain Charley Starr on second and popular Al O'Dell, former Cracker, on third, are well known here, having played here with the Gulls last season. Milton Stock, ex-Giant and lead-off man in the batting order, is the only new infielder.

Another well-known player and former Cracker who will be here with the Gulls is Paul Sentell, former Cracker, who is filling utility roles.

"White Hope" Schmidt.

Charley Schmidt, former Detroit catcher, is the first string receiver of the Gulls. His pugilistic tendencies, when he threatened to go into the prize ring and clean up the present crop of heavies, attracted nation-wide attention to him a year ago.

Schmidt is the fellow who had two engagements with Ty Cobb, the peach, getting the better of one argument and Schmidt the other, according to reports.

Brown is the Gulls' second string catcher.

Billy Campbell and Pug Cavet, southpaws, and Heinie Berger, the veteran right-hander, are the members of last year's hurling crew, who will be back, in addition to pitching nice ball, Campbell is one of the most formidable batters on the Gull team.

The new men are Wilbert Robertson and Bradley Hogg. The latter needs no introduction to local fandom as he appeared here at Tech flats several times as the star hurler of the Mercer university team.

Just who Mique will pitch against the Crackers in the opener is not known. The probable batting order of the two teams is as follows:

JEROME TRAVERS IN SPLENDID FORM

Golf Champion's 151 Wins Gold Medal in Qualifying Round of Metropolitan Championship.

New York, May 21.—Playing almost faultless golf in the first half of the qualifying round and making good recoveries out of trouble on two holes in the latter half, Jerome D. Travers, of Upper Montclair, N. J., the national and metropolitan amateur champion, outclassed a field of ninety players today at the outset of the Metropolitan championship tournament on the links of the Fox Hills Golf club, Staten Island.

Travers turned in a card of 73 for the first round and 78 on his second trip. Winning the gold medal with a total of 151 for 36 holes. Travers' 73 for the first half was equalled by H. V. Gaines, of the Wykagyl club, but this player took 85 for the second round.

Walter J. Travis wrenched his knee during practice yesterday and was so badly handicapped by the injury that he failed to qualify for further play in the championship division. Following are the thirty-two who qualified:

Jerome D. Travers, Montclair, N. J., 151.
H. V. Gaines, Wykagyl, N. Y., 158.
T. V. Bermingham, Wykagyl, 159.

MOTORCYCLE RIDERS SPRINTING DAILY

Prince's Motordrome Scene of Activity Every Afternoon. Band Concert Sunday.

The professional riders now stationed at Jack Prince's motordrome have started to work and are training daily.

Prince has finished up the garages for them and each man has a place to himself and machine.

Every afternoon from 3 o'clock to 4:30 they are riding the track and every one is invited to watch them train. They are riding miles close around 74 miles per hour in training and impromptu races take place quite often.

Work has gotten well under way on the grand stand, and this will be finished quickly.

By Saturday of this week the definite date of the opening night will be announced.

Next Sunday afternoon a free open-air band concert will be given and everybody is invited out to watch the men ride and inspect the big quarter-mile motordrome, at the same time hear the band.

Interest in the big motordrome is gaining every day, judging from the large number of people who get out to the old circus grounds to see the progress being made.

All wonder at the steep banks and how it is possible for the men to stay on the track with a motorcycle, but when they see the men taking the turns at such high rate of speed and the riders passing each other almost rubbing elbows, it makes them, hold their breath.

All say it is the most exciting sport ever put on in Atlanta.

Those Popular Excursions to Warm Springs via A., B. & A., commence Sunday, May 25. Only $1 round trip. Train leaves Union Station at 8 a. m.

She Will Edit Sports

Mrs. Nash R. Broyles is editor of the sporting department of the Woman's Edition of The Constitution to be published by the Federated Women in June. She is being assisted by Mrs. Rix Stafford and Mrs. George Harrington, and her department will contain many features of interest as well as lively news.

Mrs. Broyles is an expert horsewoman, golf player and tennis player, and is a leader among the young society matrons who believe in devoting as much time to wholesome out-of-door sports as is possible.

Mrs. Broyles requests that all those who have been asked to help in her department communicate with her at once in order that the plans for her department in the Woman's Edition may be completed.

REOPEN ENTRY LIST FOR THE HILL CLIMB

Event Postponed From Last Saturday Will Be Held Next Saturday.

E. H. Elleby, secretary of the Atlanta Automobile and Accessories association, received word Wednesday that the entry list for the Stewart Avenue Hill Climb could be re-opened owing to the postponement.

This permission was granted by the American Automobile association under whose sanction the event is going to be run.

A Buick, another Ford and others will enter the fully equipped cars, the amateur event, and there will probably be several other entries in the other events.

The climb was scheduled for last Saturday, but owing to the downpour was postponed a week.

The auto classic, which is the second under the auspices of the Atlanta Automobile and Accessories association, is attracting wide attetion.

Fully 2,000 persons lined the course last week to witness the event and it is expected that that many more will be on hand this Saturday.

Fast time has been made in the trials this week and it is confidently expected that the time will be lowered in several of the events.

FORMWALT WINS SCHOOL PENNANT

Edgewood Errors Are Fatal. Smith, of Vanquished, Has Been Star of the Three-Game Series.

By Hal Reynolds.

Formwalt again upheld her superiority in grammar school league ball yesterday afternoon by defeating Edgewood in the third and deciding game of the series by the score of 7 to 6.

The game started out as if it would be a walk-away for Edgewood, who scored 6 runs in the first three innings. However, Wallace tightened and did not allow a score after the third round, while his teammates, mainly through Edgewood's errors, succeeded in piling up five runs, enough to win the game.

Smith pitched a much better game than Wallace, and but for errors behind him would have won. He gave up only 8 hits and fanned 10 men.

This boy's pitching has been gilt-edged in all the three games of the series. He has fanned 41 batters and yielded only 16 hits in the three games. He also secured three hits out of three times up.

Wallace, although he was hit rather hard in the early part of the game, pitched good, consistent ball after the first three rounds. He was touched up for twelve bingles in all, and fanned four men. Formwalt has fielded exceptionally well behind Wallace in all of the games.

Formwalt will receive a silver cup from the Amateur Federation for defeating Edgewood, and also a pennant from Mr. Ivey for winning the south side rag. Edgewood will also receive a pennant from Mr. Ivey for copping the north side bunting.

STOVALL CASE GOES OVER UNTIL TODAY

Chicago, May 21.—The fate of George Stovall, manager of the St. Louis American league ball club, suspended three weeks ago, did not become known today. President Johnson, of the American league, who had announced that he would make the Stovall verdict public today, was ill and did not visit his office. Stovall has been out of the game three weeks for his dispute with Umpire Ferguson.

SIXTEEN STRAIGHTS FOR YALE BULLDOGS

New Haven, Conn., May 21.—Yale, playing a fine uphill game, defeated Brown in an exciting contest today, 6 to 4, making the sixteenth consecutive victory for the blue and the second win over Brown this season. Brown started off with a rush, sending four runs over the plate in the initial inning. Yale came back with two in the second and in the fifth added four more runs.

SIX AMERICAN GOLFERS IN FOREIGN MATCHES

St. Andrews, Scotland, May 21.—Six American golfers are among the list of nearly 200 competitors who have entered for the amateur golf championship of the world, the play for which starts next Monday, May 26. The entries closed at noon today.

The Americans are: Finlay S. Douglas, of the Nassau Country club; C. W. Inslee, of the Oneida Community club; W. Heinrich Schmidt, of Worcester, Mass.; Harold Weber, of Toledo, Ohio, and Douglas Grant and Campbell D. Write, both of San Francisco. Grant, who spends much of his time in the British Isles, has entered from Richmond.

Two of the American players, Webber and White, have drawn byes, and will make their first appearance in the second round of the tournament. The other four play in the first round.

Douglas meets W. Bowles, a local crack. Inslee plays C. F. Yeoland, of the Royal North Devon club, one of the best amateurs of England. Schmidt is drawn against D. S. Crowther, while Grant meets D. M. Hutchinson.

EMPIRE STATE LEAGUE

Americus 7, Thomasville 6

Americus, Ga., May 21.—(Special.)—Americus copped the series with Thomasville this afternoon, the score resulting 7 to 6 in favor of Americus. The game was the most warmly contested of the series, the visitors exerting every effort to retrive recent misfortunes. McCarty did most of the box work for Americus, and held the visitors in hand, while Roth pitched good ball for Thomasville. Considerable wrangling resulted over Umpire Pigue's decisions, and for a time trouble with the spectators seemed imminent, but none occurred.

Score by innings: R. H. E.
Americus ....100 110 301—7 12 4
Thomasville ..... 000 040 020—6 12 2

Batteries: McCarty and Manchester, Roth and Dudley.

Brunswick 5, Valdosta 0

Brunswick, Ga., May 21.—(Special.)—Brunswick took the final game from Valdosta this afternoon by a score of 5 to 0. Hawkins, for the locals, pitched great ball, giving up only five hits, two of which were mere scratches. Only once during the entire game did Valdosta have a chance of scoring. Otto Jordan was fined and put out of the game for disputing the decision of the umpire.

Score by innings: R. H. E.
Brunswick ....100 100 30x—5 9 4

Batteries: Hawkins and Kite, Elrod and Pierce.

Cordele 3, Waycross 2.

Waycross, Ga., May 21.—(Special.)—For the second time in two days a Waycross player got two successive home runs. Hitting hit over left field fence when Medlock's fielding in right was a feature, as was the work of the pitchers, Wilder and Stiles. The latter had a shade the best of the battle, walking none, fanning eight and giving up seven hits, none for extra bases. Wilder fanned eight and walked one. A fast double in the eighth filled the bright chance Waycross had of at least tieing up the score. Brazier again led the Cordele team in hitting, getting three hits out of five times up.

GEORGIA-ALABAMA.

Gadsden 18, LaGrange 4.

LaGrange, Ga., May 21.—(Special.)—The locals took an ascension today and failed to anchor until darkness closed the most weird affair seen on the local lot. The visitors were there with the old pole, gathering in a total of 17 bingles. Cutterin, Werner and Pesold were credited with 4 base clouts, the last-named taking on a couple. For the locals Newkirk featured with the stick, getting 3 bingles, one being a circuit smash.

Newnan 4, Anniston 3.

Newnan, Ga., May 21.—(Special.)—Newnan took the last game from Anniston today by the score of 4 to 3. The feature of the game was the pitching of Collins for Newnan, who went in without warming up in the second, holding Anniston scoreless for eight innings, yielding one lone single and fanning nine of the visitors. Gadsden opens here tomorrow.

Score by innings: R. H. E.

NASHVILLE TO HAVE SUNDAY BASEBALL

Nashville, Tenn., May 21.—Following a recent decision of the supreme court declaring the anti-Sunday baseball law unconstitutional, arrangements have been made to play the first Sunday game of the season here with Montgomery on May 25.

The announcement was made today by the local ball club and is causing both favorable and unfavorable comment. Several Sunday games were played last year in violation of the law, the teams being arrested on each occasion.

Trip of Realty Men.

Information concerning the trip through western Canada which local real estate men are going to participate in the latter part of July and early in August was received by the real estate board during the past week. The trip will be held in connection with the sixth annual convention of the National Association of Real Estate Exchanges to be held at Winnipeg, July 28, 29 and 30.

It is expected that there will be a good sized delegation go from here on the trip. This is the first time the national association has ever met outside of the United States and owing to the unusual attractions which are being offered, it is expected that fully 1,500 visitors will be present in Winnipeg. Local real estate men are already signifying their intention of attending the meeting.

RAW MATERIAL TO BE TREATED AS PRODUCTS

finance committee, Senator Simmons said:

"The democratic members of the finance committee desire that all persons who wish to confer with the committee with reference to the schedules referred them should do so before the close of next Tuesday. After then the subcommittee will begin the work of actually framing the schedules."

Senator Simmons added that no individual member of the committee would spare any further time listening to manufacturers, and that all who wished to be heard must apply to various subcommittees. After next Tuesday the committee expects to complete the bill in four days or in time to report to the full committee the following Monday. Then the democratic caucus will be called. Chairman Simmons believes now the bill will be ready for the senate by June 7.

Another Problem for Democrats.

Another problem confronting the democratic leaders is the "anti-dumping clause" in the Underwood bill, which makes no provision for articles on the free list. This clause would assess an additional duty not to exceed 15 per cent on imports into this country for less than the foreign price, but it is not made to apply to the free list, and some democrats insist that the free list should be included.

Soap manufacturers appeared before Senator Johnson's subcommittee today protesting against taking certain essential oils from the free list and placing them on the dutiable list. They maintained that the ways and means committee thought that by putting a duty of 20 per cent on essential oils, they were taxing oils exclusively in perfume, while, as a matter of fact, many oils included are not used in perfume but in laundry soap. This they argued would put a tax on the "poor man's soap."

Senator Stone's subcommittee was at work all day on the woolen manufactures' schedules, while the subcommittee headed by Senator Williams, took the sugar schedule and listened to pleas from Louisiana and Porto Rico cane-growers for a higher duty than promised in the Underwood bill.

For the Cane-Growers.

Henry Pharr, president of the Louisiana Cane-Growers' association, made the arguments for the growers of his section and promised to file a more extended statement. Senators Thornton and Randell and many planters listened to his statement and added their comments for the committee's information. According to Mr. Pharr the American Sugar Refining company, the "sugar trust," would be the main beneficiary by the Underwood bill. He said he factories of Louisiana would be turned into useless junk, and that the sugar-growing lands of his state would be reduced in value millions of dollars if congress agreed on free sugar. He said there were thousands of small sugar growers in Louisiana and interested that the industry is not in the hands of a few big planters.

Mr. Pharr told the committee that neither President Wilson, nor the democratic platform had given the people of Louisiana reason to fear free sugar. He said the president had signed a positive refusal to approve free sugar to the collector of the port of New Orleans.

Asked by Senator Williams if the cane-growers could not turn their lands to the cultivation of other products, Mr. Pharr argued that investigation had proved that in no other way could the lands be made so profitable.

To Amend Senate Rules.

Senator Owen, after a visit to the white house, said that he expected to introduce a resolution to amend the senate rules to prevent dilatory debate and filibuster. Senator Owen insisted he did not propose a "cloture" rule which would arbitrarily close the channels of discussion at a fixed time but that it was his intention to present such a measure as would allow the majority to close debate when it believed it dilatory or being carried on merely for delay.

Senator Owen said he had not discussed his resolution with the president.

BOARD OF MISSIONS GIVEN CLEAN BILL

church erection whose headquarters are at 156 Fifth avenue, New York, to make $500,000 of the Kennedy bequest of $2,500,000 available for the use of those churches throughout the country which are in immediate need of help in the erection of church edifices. This report caused strenuous opposition upon the part of members of the board who were led in the campaign of the afternoon by the Rev. Anson P. Atterbury, D.D., pastor of the Wes' Farz Presbyterian church.

A radical departure was taken yesterday afternoon, when the assembly adopted the report of its standing committee on Sabbath schools and publication which recommended that a new department be established by the church which will have for its specific duties the making of the board's program to conform more nearly to the modern methods and manner of teaching, and that in each church there should be an organization looking toward the improvement of the methods and plans of teaching the church's message. This committee also recommended to the assembly that the church continue the graded Sunday school lesson system, about which there has been so much controversy of late relating to its theological and pedagogical soundness, and by the adoption of this recommendation anticipated the report of a special committee appointed at Louisville last year to look into the matter and which is present at this assembly with a unanimous report recommending a discontinuance of the graded lesson system. This latter report will be presented to the assembly tomorrow and another fight on the floor of the assembly is anticipated.

Thompson Defends Administration.

Secretary Thompson, in defending his administration, said that the thanked the executive commission for exonerating the board of malfeasance in office and usurpation of authority for the board had chafed under the delay and the consequent result, of such unfounded charges. The speaker continuing said: "I thank God we have been given a clean bill of health. Do not again subject us." Secretary Thompson urged in his dramatic appeal to the assembled commissions who were held in rapt attention, "to such unfounded rumors which were circulated for months before the assembly had a chance to act upon them. We know we are doing new things, but they are only the departure which previous general assemblies have instructed us to make and we are going to serve you in doing the work given us to do by those who have called us to this ever enlarging service. We are not going to hand down the task which we have welcomed. We have not usurped an yauthority, and everything we have done has been done by Presbyterial authority."

In presenting the opposition of the board of church erection against the expenditure of the fund which had been created out of the Kennedy bequest, Dr. Atterbury claimed that after consulting its attorneys the board had been convinced that to use any of this fund as suggested by the report of the executive commision, the entire bequest would be jeopardized. Those who were in favor of placing the $500,000 at the disposal of churches in need of church edifices urged the practice of the boards of home and foreign missions of separating the funds in the manner beneficiaries in the will of the late David S. Kennedy, and which have placed large amounts of their benefactions thus received so as to be immediately available. New York attorneys whose opinions Dr. Atterbury quoted were E. Francis Hyde, E. J. Esselstyn, R. H. Greene and Alton B. Parker.

The general assembly also passed a resolution instructing the ministry of the church to make an appeal either during or immediately following each sermon. This obligatory clause was fought by many upon the ground that it is impossible to impute evangelistic temperament into the services of the church in such a way. The American Bible society failed in its effort to have itself and the financial claims which it makes for the distribution of the scriptures throughout the world paced upon the assembly's benevolent budget.

Asiatic Problem.

The Asiatic problem was injected into the general assembly's proceedings yesterday when the presence of Chinese families coming in this country in the guise of students without any intentions but to become common laborers was brought to the attention of the assembly by the recommendation that all Presbyterian colleges aid the government by filing statements of all Chinese students who are enrolled, together with the time when these students leave these institutions.

The continuance of the home mission department of the church and country life came before the assembly again just before adjournment last night and was moved by Dr. S. E. Van Buren, an official in the Arlington Avenue Presbyterian church, Brooklyn, that the action of the assembly directing its discontinuance as soon as practicable be reconsidered; but this motion was laid upon the table, and the assembly's further action in the matter is in doubt.

TURNERS TO ENTERTAIN AT GERMANIA PARK

The entertainment committee of the Atlanta turn verein is now working out plans for a grand fourth of July entertainment for its members and invited guests at Germania Park. This committee has determined to make it an all-day affair, the refreshments late in the evening as well as a big noonday feast, both to be supplied from the well-filled baskets the members of the association will have taken to Germania Park in the early morning of the great national holiday.

Invitations are being sent out by Newman & Howard, two of the entertainment committee, to anticipated guests from other cities. Mobile, Charleston and Chattanooga have intimated that delegations will come to Atlanta.

MRS. HEALEY'S FUNERAL AT 3 THIS AFTERNOON

The funeral of Mrs. Olive M. Healey will take place this afternoon at 3 o'clock from the First Presbyterian church, the services will be conducted by Rev. Hugh Walker, her pastor, and the deacons and elders of the church will act as pallbearers.

The home of Mrs. Healey's death brought grief to countless friends yesterday, among them the members of the Pioneer Women's Society who were among the first to hear the news. Many beautiful flowers have been sent the family as testimonial of the love and admiration with which Mrs. Healey has been held during her eighty-nine years of usefulness.

Westminster Alumni Meet.

Twenty-fiv, graduates of Westminster college, of New Wilmington, Pa., who are attending the Presbyterian assemblies, held a reunion at the Cafe Durand last evening at 6:30. Old times were talked over, and a fully good fellowship meeting held.

Inquiring to Know.

"Excuse me, but are you a natural blonde?" asked the diner.

"Of course I am," replied the waitress. "Why?"

"Oh, nothing, only I found a black hair in this soup," replied the diner.

ATLANTA'S STRIDES FROM DAY TO DAY

Daylight Wheat Belt Trip.

Among the various entertainments provided by the Winnipeg Real Estate Exchange is a "daylight wheat belt trip" consuming three days, through the prairies of western Canada, leaving Winnipeg at 8 o'clock in the morning Thursday, July 31, and arriving at Brandon at 12 o'clock noon. Brandon is the second city in size in Manitoba, and is situated on the Assiniboine river. The surrounding country is undulating and beautiful. After lunching here, the party leaves at 2 o'clock, with a straight run of 224 miles to Regina, which is calculated to arrive at Regina in time for dinner at 7 o'clock, and entertainment that evening is being furnished by the Regina Real Estate Board.

Regina is the capital city of the province of Saskatchewan, and its parliament buildings are of the finest architectural beauty. From this stately pile is governed a province of about the same size as all the German empire, and capable of sustaining a larger population. After resting over night at Regina and spending part of the forenoon there a special excursion will leave for Moose Jaw about 11:30 a. m. and arrive there in time for luncheon on Friday, August 1. The remainder of the day will be spent at Moose Jaw, which ranks in the foremost of western development, and did not leap into the limelight in a day, but gained recognition as an industrial and distributing center by reason of its rapid development without a boom. Many visitors know it as the boomless city, and the Moose Jaw people are proud of the fact that it is so.

On to Saskatoon.

The party will remain at Moose Jaw until about 2:30 p. m., when the main trip north to Saskatoon will begin. This will be the first bit of night traveling.

Saskatoon, the magic-form city, which measures its life so far with a very short span, is on the south fork of the Saskatchewan river and in 10 years has developed from buffalo pasture to a modern twentieth century city of 30,000 people. The residents of Saskatoon call their city a modern miracle, and say that the easiest way to find it is to place your finger right in the center of any map of western Canada. There is a strong board at Saskatoon, which is affiliated with the national association. According to the itinerary, the time for the departure from Saskatoon on the return trip to Winnipeg is fixed at 4 p. m. Dinner will be served en route, and as the northbound line of the Canadian Pacific will be used, an entirely new country will be traversed on the 480-mile run. Barring delays or unforseen circumstances, the excursionists will land in Winnipeg at 8 o'clock on Sunday morning, August 3, after having traveled about 1,200 miles. Stopover excursionists will accompany the special "daylight wheat belt trip" as far as Saskatoon, and will then be detached from the main body and taken on to the mountains.

Peachtree Pavement Improved.

By Saturday evening the work of the county in repairing the pavement on Peachtree street, between Sixth and Fifteenth streets, will be complete on either side of the car line. The men in charge say that they will complete the laying of the "dummies" between the tracks by next Wednesday, and that they will be chiefly operating in.

The laying of bithulithic pavement on Peachtree road, near Buckhead, is also nearly complete.

The public works committee of the county board, by the way, seems to be holding a refreshing word for realty men, no matter what section of the city that may be chiefly operating in.

Mitchell Street Grade Promised.

It was announced yesterday that West Mitchell street is to be regraded, the work to begin in about ten days. S. M. Inman and George S. May, the moving spirits behind to the Mitchell street regrade project, and Captain Clayton, with the commissioners, have inspected the street and it is believed that there will be no trouble in putting this grade through.

Meanwhile the Ivy street and Morgan land avenue grades and paving are being pushed, and preparations are on foot for similar improvements on Whitehall and West Peachtree streets.

Hapeville Sale.

Mr. Mayfield, of the Harris G. White agency, has sold for F. M. Bullock to W. G. Lovell a six-room house on a lot 50x200 on Fairview avenue in Hapeville for $5,250.

LATEST REPORTS FROM ALL OF THE MARKETS

COTTON MADE ADVANCE ON SHORTS COVERING

Market Closed Steady at Net Advance of From 5 to 7 Points.

New York, May 21.—While there was little or no apparent change in the general favorable average crop and weather news, the cotton market made a steadier showing today as delozed steady at a net advance of from 5 to 7 points.

The market opened steady at an advance of 3 to 5 points, in response to better cables than expected, but there seemed to be a good many overnight selling orders around the ring, which were attributed to the influence of yesterday's break and prices eased off 2 to 3 points right after the call. Prospects for further showers in the eastern belt, which is still said to be dry in sections of the Carolinas and Georgia, were considered favorable and little attention was paid to suggestions of too much rain in parts of the western belt, but the market soon steadied up again, on foreign trade buying and covering by Wall street or up-town shorts. July was reported to be rather easier to buy than recently and sold only 6 to 7 points above the closing figures of yesterday. Some of the July sellers, however, appeared to be buying new crop positions, suggesting the undoing of old straddles and the late deliveries showed net gains of from 8 to 9 points during the early afternoon.

Around 11.66 for the active summer months and 11.13 for October, offerings became somewhat heavier and prices sagged off 4 to 5 points from the best, but in spite of apparent dullness, buyers were not lacking when the cotton appeared for sale, and it was noted that one broker found it impossible to dispose of 10,000 bales of December within a range of 3 points. Closing prices were within a point or two of the best.

Private cables reported a quiet and steady market in Liverpool, while houses with both Liverpool and continental connections were among the buyers around the local ring.

Cotton, spot, closed steady; middling uplands, 12.00; do gulf, 12.25; sales, 2,000 bales.

Gibert & Clay.

New York, May 21.—Favorable cables from Liverpool and buying of the new crop positions in this market by continental interests were the factors that advanced prices here about eight points today. In addition to the foreign demand, speculative short covered, when it became apparent that sellers were cautious. Texas and Oklahoma report further rains overnight and with the rest of the belt receiving sufficient moisture crop complaints are at a discount. A period of dry weather to allow of cultivation would now be very favorable to the plant.

UNFAVORABLE REPORTS ABOUT THE WHEAT CROP

These Caused Prices to Advance Seven-Eighths to One and Half Cents.

Chicago, May 21.—More life and strength developed in the wheat market today than any previous time for weeks. The chief reason was the receipt of unfavorable crop reports from Oklahoma and from southern and western Kansas. Closing prices were buoyant, ⅞@1c to 1⅛c over last night. Corn made a net gain of ¼ to ⅝@¾c; oats in the end were up ⅜ to ⅝@⅞c, and provisions at a decline of 2½c to 20c.

Bullish news from the southwest came first in Kansas City dispatches, asserting that the crop prospects for wheat were nothing like so rosy as had been painted. The crop in that state was said to be deteriorating in many sections, and, near Anthony, Kan., was declared to look almost a failure. Recent dry weather had apparently been more injurious than was generally supposed. Chinch bug complaints, too, have been growing in number.

Rumors of export sales, although denied, were influential against the bears. The latter, in the early part of the session, had everything their own way, mainly because of plentiful moisture in the spring crop belt. Selling was overdone, however, and the consequence was a lively shaking up of the short interest, especially in the last fifteen minutes. Export clearances of wheat and flour today equalled 624,000 bushels. Primary receipts, 1,000 wheat, 316,000 bushels; a year ago, 274,000.

Corn rallied with wheat, and as a result of curtailment of offerings from Iowa and Nebraska. Trade, though, was not large.

Oats closed at the highest of the season, except for May. The rise was largely due to the action of wheat, but also because of Illinois rains were not to be helping much.

Liquidating sales by longs weakened provisions. Steady prices for hogs served only as a temporary prop.

DULL AND SPIRITLESS WAS THE STOCK MARKET

Effort to Start a Bull Movement Fund—The City Bond Sale.

New York, May 21.—Union Pacific, Reading and Steel, the stock market leaders, moved within a range of a point or less today. The unusually narrow fluctuations of these speculative favorites gave the measure of the market in general, which was a dull and spiritless affair. Traders sought to learn early sessions to inaugurate a bull movement, on the strength of the flotation of the New York city and Chicago bond issues. While the cables reported some improvement in sentiment abroad on account of the heavy over subscription of the Chinese loan and London bought stocks in this market there was no corresponding change of feeling here. Efforts to put up the market were made short by the decline in New York city bonds below the average price of 100.193, obtained by the city, heavy sales being made at 100 and a few at 99 7-8. Small gains in stocks were lost and the day came to a close with most of the prominent shares under yesterday's final prices.

While the city bond sale demonstrated that capital is available when the high rate of interest and the credit of the borrower make the offering unusually attractive, doubt was expressed that the result of the offering would tend to stimulate the investment market, as had been hoped. The need of new financing by railroads and other corporations is heavier than for many years past.

An unfavorable feature of the day's trading was renewed liquidation in certain quarters of the list. The petroleum shares were especially heavy. Pressure was again applied to St. Louis and San Francisco bonds. The fives broke nearly 5 points to 67 1-4, selling lower than the fours.

The bond market was under pressure. Total sales, par value, were $3,325,000, of which $1,500,000 was new city bonds. United States bonds were unchanged on call.

New Orleans Cotton.

New Orleans, May 21.—The cotton market had a very good tone in the early trading and took on a moderate advance in the face of good crop accounts. In the afternoon, the market became dull and very little doing, prices not at any too well maintained. Scalping longs wanted their profits and the rise did not attract offerings any too readily. A feature of the day was the report that spinners were good buyers of the new crop options, against 386,000 last year. was a rather heavy trader on the long side in the afternoon.

The weather map indicated warm weather in the eastern belt with scattered showers. This would have stimulated a favorable attempt at selling, but for the bullish rumors afloat. Telegrams from the interior stated that the crop had been reflectually broken at many points and that the recent rains and showers over all but a small part of the belt.

The opening was steady at an advance of 1 to 3 points from previous prices. Prices gradually rose during the morning session and at noon were 5 to 9 points over yesterday's final figures. In the afternoon, the advance was widened to 8 to 9 points. The close was steady at a net gain of 8 to 9 points.

Hubbard Bros. & Co.

New York, May 21.—Europe felt the influence of a forward demand from spinners, which came on a market without many sellers. This advance was especially welcome to our local trade who, in company with the trade throughout the south, expected lower foreign markets. It has been very popular throughout the south to sell cotton short during the past sixty days.

Many, if not most of the contracts, have gone into the hands of foreign merchants and spinners, who are looking forward to a good business based offered; electrolytic, $15.87@16.00; lake, 13¾ asting. $15.62½.

Coffee.

New York, May 21.—Coffee futures opened barely steady at a decline of 9 to 12 points, under disappointing European cables, predictions of increased Brazilian receipts and reports of a disappointing spot demand. There was not much support in evidence and prices sold off to net loss 2 to 3 points during the middle of the day and rallied very slightly in the late trading, on realizing by recent sellers, or a little support from bullish sources. The close was steady. Sales, 65,750 bags.

Spot quiet and easy; Rio No. 7, 11½; Santos, No. 4, 13¾.

Our Duty to Foreign Missions Stressed in Auditorium Talks

Declaring that "every slave ship that sailed from Africa laden with a cargo of human misery must be matched by a missionary ship sailing from America and Europe carrying messengers of the holy evangel of happiness and hope," Dr. James I. Vance, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, Nashville, Tenn., delivered a masterful address on "Africa," at the mass meeting of the Presbyterian assemblies at the Auditorium last night.

The subject of the evening was foreign missions, being presided over by George Innes, of Philadelphia, Pa. Previous to the opening of the service, Dr. Stacnes played the opening anthem, and Dr. Ralph Atkinson, of Seattle, Wash., the assembly's musical director, led the audience through a number of old church psalms. The National quartet rendered several of their best schections, being called back for an encore.

Changes Are Momentous.

Rev. Arthur J. Brown, of New York city, delivered a strong address on "The Far East." "We are conscious that the changes taking place in the present day are momentous," he declared. "Strange voices are heard. Not a new spirit is abroad—a spirit which is awakening the minds of men which is widening their vision and which is becoming impatient of misgovernment and oppression—a spirit which peremtorily declares that the age of the divine right of kings has passed away forever, and that the age of the divine right of the people has come, a spirit which insists that the benefit of the world is not property, but humanity; not a dollar, but a human life.

Rev. Charles R. Watson of the United Presbyterian church, Philadelphia, Pa., made a strong plea for the enlightening of the Mohammedan race.

"We are to Islam a new opportunity to carry Christianity to them," he said. "After all, is it not the indifference of Christianity which produces this religion, the only great non-Christian religion produced in the Christian era? In the sixth century, when it was born, the church had largely given itself over to mere formality, and what might be termed ecclesiastical bosslism."

Our Duty to Africa.

Dr. Vance, who spoke on "Africa," pointed out America's obligation to that country. "Its appeal is that of dependency and helplessness, of dire and defenseless need," he said.

"Is such an appeal inadequate? Shall we turn our backs on Africa and say: 'You will not pay? You are a poor investment?' Is it nothing to the white races of the world that their black brothers in the jungle need their help? Was it not the appeal of need which moved the heart of God with pity for a lost world? Was it not the spectacle of human need which stirred the compassion of the Savior as He gazed on the multitude, and which sent Him staggering under a weight of woe up to the cross-crowned hill? Has not any one of us made sufficiently strong and eloquent His petition for all that heaven can bestow when He stands empty-handed and says: 'I am poor and needy'

"Africa appeals to the chivalry of the church. The church cannot refuse such an appeal without denying itself and dishonoring its Lord. It was the appeal of the thief on the cross, of the hurt man on the highway. Christ lifts His nail-scarred hands to the jungle dwellers in that continent of pitiful and plaintive world need, and says: 'Inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these my brethren, ye have done it unto me.'

"I have called Africa the world's slum, and its people the most backward of mankind, the rag end of civilization, the forlorn hope of humanity; a people with a present and a future of black despair unless the gospel can lift the cloud. Their appeal is to our chivalry, to our sense of justice, our heroism. Do we believe in a square deal? Do we believe in the power of the gospel to grapple with any problem of human need, and bring light out of the darkness?"

BRANTLEY IS HEARD BY MANUFACTURERS

Former Congressman at Detroit Convention—Closed Shop Is Denounced.

Detroit, Mich., May 21.—The National Association of Manufacturers concluded its annual convention here this afternoon. Tomorrow the delegates will go to Battle Creek as guests of C. W. Post, a Battle Creek manufacturer, and before the trip is concluded it is expected Colonel George Pope, of Hartford, Conn., will be elected president for the ensuing year.

Just prior to conclusion of the convention, resolutions were adopted urging establishment of a federal department of manufactures; denouncing the principle of the closed shop; urging adequate protection for all American industries; protesting against the "abridgement of the rights of courts of equity to grant injunctions in labor disputes;" protesting against all "class legislation in the American and detrimental to the common good;" pledging loyalty to the judiciary; urging further and more effective enactment of workmen's compensation legislation, and approving the immediate enactment of all important and necessary labor laws.

A. H. Baldwin, chief of the bureau of manufactures in Washington, was a visitor at the convention today.

"The department of commerce has no intention of wielding the big stick over independent manufacturers," he told the delegates. "What the department is interested in is finding out the facts relating to the difference in labor cost here and abroad. Many of the delegates had expressed emphatic opposition to the policy of having federal agents investigate conditions in factories where wages may be reduced on account of the new tariff law, as proposed by Secretary Redfield.

In his report on immigration, submitted today, Constant Moese, of San Francisco, did not go into the question of Chinese or Japanese immigration to the Pacific coast, saying he did not consider that such immigration had such importance as the question of immigration from Europe through the Panama canal into the Pacific coast states.

"The Pacific coast is thoroughly alive to the possible influx of a considerable number of immigrants after the opening of the canal," he said. "We are therefore striving to meet the immigrant with some degree of welcome. Inform him of his best opportunities and seek to direct him to the land."

In his report on legislation, James A. Emery, of Washington, also today attacked the sundry civil appropriation bill because of the exemption of labor unions from prosecution under the Sherman act. He also scored the Clayton anti-injunction bill as "one particularly reprehensible type of modern class legislation."

The annual banquet was held tonight with the following speakers:

William G. Brantley, of Atlanta, Ga.; Laurence Laughlin, president of Chicago university, and R. S. Courlay of Toronto, president of the Canadian Manufacturers' association.

John Kirby, Jr., retiring president of the association, was today presented with a check for $10,000 by delegates attending the meeting. Resolutions adopted stated that the gift was in recognition of his efficiency as president and his "fearless battles against the most militant labor unionism, which have been as effectual as those of any other one man in the country in establishing the principle of the open shop."

FULTON COURTHOUSE TO COST $1,250,000

Contracts Are Awarded for Interior Finishings Amounting to $600,000.

Contracts for interior finishings amounting to over $600,000, on the new Fulton county courthouse, which is now estimated will cost $1,250,000, were awarded at a special meeting of the commissioners.

By this fall it is expected that the first two floors will be completed and the ordinary, tax collector and other officers who have dealings every day with the public, will be moved in at once. The entire building is due to be completed by the spring of 1914.

The award of contracts for the interior work was left to the committee on public works and their report was adopted Wednesday at the special meeting. The architects are Morgan & Dillon and A. Ten Eyck Brown.

The awards for the interior finishings are as follows:

Ornamental iron and bronze work, the L. Schrieber & Sons company, Cincinnati, $118,614; marble and tile work, the Blue Ridge Marble company, Nelson, Ga., $189,500; mill work and storing, the Robert Mitchell Furniture company, Cincinnati, $644,099; cork flooring, H. W. STEEL TRUST SUPREME ACCORDING TO SCHWAB

Combine's Ownership of Nearly All Ore Reserves Renders It Invulnerable.

New York, May 21.—Because the United States Steel corporation owned some 75 per cent of the ore reserves of the country, it would have been impossible in 1901 to have organized another corporation its equal, Charles M Schwab, first president of the corporation, testified today in the government suit to dissolve the corporation as an illegal combination. The testimony was adduced in cross-examination by government counsel.

Mr. Schwab said, however, that ores could have been imported from foreign countries and a corporation as big as the United States Steel concern organized. He conceded, on the other hand, that there was no other financial interests in the United States as strong as those which went into the corporation, namely, J. P. Morgan & Co., the Rockefeller Standard Oil interests, the Carnegie interests and the W. H. Moore "group."

Mr. Schwab completed his testimony today and in the face of persistent efforts on the part of Judge Jacob M. Dickinson, the government attorney, to gain admissions tending to show that the corporation was organized chiefly to prevent destructive wars among competing steel concerns, defended the company at every point.

In his conversations with J. P. Morgan that led to the organization of the corporation he had never, he declared, discussed the alleged threat of Andrew Carnegie to build a tube plant in competition with the National Tube company, one of the concerns afterward taken over. In connection with present conditions in the steel industry, Mr. Schwab testified that "if I live long enough and have the money," the Bethlehem Steel corporation of which he is now chairman, would manufacture every product now made by the steel corporation. He said the steel corporation, owing to the advantage of owning transportation facilities, was able to manufacture steel rails four to five dollars cheaper than its competitors, but said this was only "because the Bethlehem Steel corporation has not got the resources to build railroads of its own."

vention of which recently was held in Macon.

He and the solicitor visited the pencil factory Wednesday afternoon. Later they visited the jail, where it is said they secured finger prints from both suspects, Frank, the plant superintendent, and the negro watchman. They spent practically the entire day together.

Headquarter's detectives Wednesday put Gordon Bailey, the negro elevator boy of the pencil factory, through a grueling interrogation. He has been under arrest for three weeks, but Wednesday's questioning was the most thorough examination to which he had yet been subjected. Nothing of significance was gained from him.

Believing that the missing mesh bag which Mary Phagan carried to the factory on the day of her disappearance holds a clue more important than any yet developed, Pinkerton men and police detectives are directing much of their efforts to the search for the lost bag. Harry Scott, assistant superintendent of the Atlanta branch of Pinkertons, said Wednesday that he predicted the unearthing of convincing evidence in the finding of the article.

Where Is the Bag?

The whereabouts of the bag are as mysterious as any phase of the case. Every nook and corner of the factory building has been raked as though with a fine-tooth comb. The outside premises have been scoured, and the basement sawdust has been sifted. It has been advanced that it was burned in the cellar furnace.

Detectives also have been assigned to hunt the woman who is said by Mrs. A. A. Smith to have remarked on Whitehall street several days ago that she was with Mary Phagan at 4 o'clock on the afternoon of Memorial day. So far their efforts have been fruitless. Rumors come to police headquarters every day of the girl having been seen on the afternoon of her disappearance, but close investigation invariably proves them foundless.

PROBE TO BE DRIVEN INTO WEST VIRGINIA

Senate Committee Authorizes a Resolution for Strike Investigation.

Washington, May 21.—Federal investigation of the strike of coal miners in the Paint Creek region in West Virginia was practically assured today when the senate education and labor committee, of which Senator Hoke Smith is chairman, agreed to report favorably, with amendments, Senator Oken's resolution authorizing an inquiry.

The resolution, redrafted by a subcommittee, with the understanding that it be laid before the senate with the indorsement of the other members, would allow a "thorough and complete" inquiry into conditions in the Paint Creek region preceding, during and after the strike. The committee would be authorized to conduct hearings either in Washington or West Virginia and to subpoena witnesses. It would investigate questions of alleged peonage; interference with the mails; violation of the immigration laws; violations of the laws for the trial of accused persons; violation of the Sherman act by the coal operators, and the causes that led up to the conditions existing in Paint Creek. The scope of the resolution is so broad that the committee can ask absolutely anything concerning West Virginia miners, operators or mines.

Although the opposition to an investigation is understood not to have given up all hope, the fact that a senate committee has indorsed the idea so promptly led many senators to believe tonight that its adoption can only be a question of time.

The inquiry will be undertaken as soon as the resolution is agreed to, and it is the hope of authors to have it reported that a report can be returned to the senate before the end of the special session.

AT THE THEATERS

Musical Comedy Tabloid.

(At the Bijou.)

The large crowds that have visited the Bijou this week have attested the fact that the new policy, Tabloid Musical Comedy, with vaudeville, is going to prove very popular with patrons of this house. A Trip to Joyville, with the accessories that go to make up a snappy, up-to-date musical show, consisting of pretty girls, tuneful musical numbers and plenty of fun, is an ideal warm-weather attraction, and during the weeks that will follow the very best brand of tabloid will be offered at the Bijou at bargain prices Next week The District Leader will be offered.

Keith Vaudeville.

(At The Forsyth.)

It is agreed that the Forsyth bill this week is one of the cleverest and one of the most evenly balanced combinations of vaudeville that has ever been seen at the busy theater.

Gallagher and Fields in their farce absurdity "The Battle of Bay Isam," has scored a comedy hit that is going to be remembered for a long time, and people will be talking about the wonderful violin tricks of John Geiger a long time after someone has done some thing almost as novel as his stunt.

"The Deep Purple."

(At the Atlanta.)

Tonight Miss Billy Long and her company will again be seen at the Atlanta. They will present, in the Armstrong and Mizner drama of crooks "The Deep Purple," which has made an impression second to none. The play will be given Friday and Saturday also, as well as Saturday matinee. Next week the company will present "St. Elmo," a play which was selected by audiences at Keith's playhouse in a voting contest. "St. Elmo" is unquestionably one of the most popular plays ever written, and will attract big crowds. Seats are now on sale.

LIST OF WINNERS AT GREENVILLE SHOW

Greenville, S. C., May 21.—More than three thousand persons attended the second day of the Greenville horse show. Blooded horses from several states were shown. The only missing of the five events when Celonel F. G. Bowman, of Spartanburg, was called from his ring in taking a corner of the ring for first. Winners of blue ribbons today were:

Mistermery Girl, owned by D. J. Gregory, of Richmond, Va.; Woodrow, owned by W. H. Snyder, of Greenville; Wellington, owned by Mrs. H. J. Mills, of Greenville, also winner of the Inman trophy cup; Foxy Hill, owned by J. T. Collins & Son, of North Middleton, Ky.; Nob, owned by T. O'Connell, of Asheville; Jerry, owned by James F. MacKay, of Greenville; Honesty, owned by H. T. Mills, of Greenville.

A nearly city to find an intimate companion of Mary Phagan's, who was with her a short time before her disappearance on Memorial day. This man, whose identity is kept secret, left the city on the day of the murder, and his whereabouts have been a mystery until he was located by the detective force. Toble will not reveal the city in which he has located this new figure in the tragedy. It is presumed that he is in a south Georgia town, however. Nothing will be left undone in seeking an interview with him, other than that he was with the victim shortly before her death.

It is intimated by the detective, though, that the man has valuable testimony, and that it was because of a desire to refrain from talking that he disappeared. Even his immediate family, it is said, are not aware of his location.

The south's most famous Bertillon expert, L. J. Fletcher, who also is an authority on handwriting, has been employed by Solicitor Dorsey. Fletcher is attached to the federal prison, and is in charge of the Bertillon measurement department. He has been consulted in that capacity with the government for a number of years, and has made a life study of crime and criminals.

His work was begun Wednesday, when, with Expert Flak, who also has been retained by Dorsey, he and the solicitor visited the pencil factory to procure finger-print specimens, and the Tower, to get prints of the fingers of both suspects, Frank and Lee.
